STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Thirty years ago the Calcutta University Commission recommended that a Board should be set up for reorganisation of Secondary Education in Bengal and its administration. It was their opinion that Secondary Education in Bengal had already reached a stage at which further satisfactory progress was impossible without a complete reorganisation of the existing administrative conditions. It is universally recognised that Secondary Education in Bengal is at present not subject to any unified control. It is true the University of Calcutta, which is responsible for the standard of the Matriculation Examination, has some authority over the recognised High Schools, and the Directorate of Public Instruction has some control over the schools that are in receipt of grants-in-aid. But there is no authority with power to regulate development according to a planned scheme or to insist upon certain standards being maintained. The result has been that though during the last thirty years expansion of Secondary Education has been extremely rapid, this expansion has been on an unplanned basis because of the lack of any single directing and assisting authority. All educationists have recognised during the last quarter of a century that reform was essential, and though several attempts were made by successive Governments to introduce Bills for the regulation and control of Secondary Education, these attempts met with no success because of certain features in those Bills that were open to serious objection.

The present Bill proposes to set up an authority which is shorn of all communal complexion and in which all important educational interests are adequately represented. Though the trend of modern educational practice in other countries is that Government should take upon itself the full control and direction of Secondary Education, in the present state of our country where satisfactory arrangements have yet to be made for introducing Primary Education on a nation-wide scale, it is not possible for the Government to take upon itself the full burden of Secondary Education immediately. The authority that is proposed to be set up has therefore been given ample power, and it is hoped that it will be able to develop Secondary Education upon sound lines.

The Board, which is a large and representative body, will in general be responsible for policy and ideals, while its Executive Council which contains strong representation of expert educationists will be responsible for the actual administration and executive work. Special Committees are proposed to be constituted to safeguard the interests of special education and to provide a self-contained but diversified course of training for the adolescent.

It will be necessary to introduce a Bill for amending the Indian Universities Act, 1904 (Act VIII of 1904), in order to carry out changes in the control of the Entrance Examination to the University and to make possible the establishment of the Board with the powers detailed in this Bill.

ANNEXURE.

BEFORE SRI S. N. MODAK, I.C.S. (RETIRED),

In the matter of an industrial dispute between the Bharat Bank, Ltd., and their employees represented by Bharat Bank Calcutta Employees' Association.

AWARD.

By Government of West Bengal, Department of Labour, order No. 1148Lab., dated the 17th November 1948, and order No. 1391Lab., dated the 2nd December 1948, this industrial dispute between the Bharat Bank, Ltd., and their employees represented by Bharat Bank Calcutta Employees' Association, 8, Lyons Range, Calcutta, in connection with the cases of Sri M. M. Nath, Sri T. K. Pandey and Sri Ram Bux, has been referred to me for adjudication. The dispute has arisen over the discharge of the three employees mentioned in the order of reference. It is stated by the Employees' Association that Sri T. K. Pandey was Assistant Secretary of the Association and he was dismissed by the District Manager, Calcutta Group, under instructions from the General Manager at Delhi, and Sri M. M. Nath, an ex-President of the Employees' Association was transferred from the Chowringhee branch to the Shambazar branch, and Sri Ram Bux was transferred from the Lyons Range branch to the Shambazar branch, and they were then dismissed as the Shambazar branch was closed. The remedies prayed for by the Employees' Association are (1) reinstatement of the three discharged persons in their original places, and (2) grant of relief to these persons for the period of unemployment since their discharge. The employers were given time to file their written statement in reply to the Association's statement. Meanwhile, negotiations for an amicable settlement were started, and ultimately the employers refrained from filing written statement. The two parties have been able to come to an amicable settlement apparently satisfactory to both of them, and on giving careful consideration to the terms of the settlement I have come to the conclusion that they are just and fair under the particular circumstances. The petition of settlement is signed by the Manager of Bharat Bank, Ltd., and by the President of Bharat Bank Calcutta Employees' Association, and it is set forth in the Appendix given below. In conformity with the terms of settlement arrived at by the two parties I direct that the terms be given effect to without delay, and that Sri T. K. Pandey and Sri Ram Bux be reinstated in their original positions with effect from the 11th December 1948, and that Sri M. M. Nath be reinstated with immediate effect at such out-station branch as may be determined by the authorities.

The award made by the said Sri S. N. Modak, I.C.S. (retired), shall bind the Company and their workmen aforesaid as specified therein.

ANNEXURE.

BEFORE SRI S. N. MODAK, I.C.S. (RETIRED).

Chairman, Industrial Tribunal, West Bengal.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Jute Mills in West Bengal represented by the Indian Jute Mills Association and their workmen represented by the Jute Mill Workers' Federation, Bengal.

For the Indian Jute Mills Association: Sri S. Chowdhury, Counsel, and Sri P. P. Ginwala, Counsel.

For the Jute Mills Workers' Federation: Sri D. L. Sen Gupta, Pleader, and Sri Phani Ghosh, General Secretary.

Award.

1. By Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 3517Lab., dated the 25th September 1948, this industrial dispute between Jute Mills in West Bengal represented by the Indian Jute Mills Association and their workmen represented by the Jute Mill Workers' Federation, Bengal, has been referred to me for adjudication. The facts relating to this dispute are in brief the following. The Indian Jute Mills Association advised its member mills by circular No. 271D., dated the 3rd August 1948, that Saturday, the 7th August 1948, should be observed as a paid festival holiday on the occasion of Id-ul-Fitr. In this circular the Association deprecated the movement started by the workers in some mills for observance of the afternoon of Friday, the 6th August, as a half holiday, thus making Friday afternoon and Saturday morning together the full day's holiday with pay, and the member mills were advised that requests from the workers to have Friday afternoon declared as a holiday should be resisted. As a matter of fact the workers of 9 jute mills, namely, Clive, Union, North, Alliance, Alexandra, Waverly, Shamnagore South, Champdani, Dalhousie and Bansberia, abstained from work on the latter half of Friday, the 6th August, and the whole of Saturday, the 7th August, was observed as a paid festival holiday. The Managements of the 9 mills declined to pay wages for the latter half of Friday to the workers concerned, and inasmuch as these workers failed to work on Friday, the 6th August, for all the normal hours of work, the Managements refused to pay them wages for the paid festival holiday observed on Saturday, the 7th August, inasmuch as they had failed to fulfil the alleged condition precedent, namely, that in order to be entitled to wages for a paid festival holiday, the worker must have worked for all the normal hours of work on the preceding day, unless he, being a permanent worker, was on authorised sick leave. The workers concerned claimed wages for the latter half of Friday afternoon and also for the whole of Saturday, the 7th August, which was observed as a paid festival holiday. The Labour Commissioner appears to have made an effort to bring about an amicable settlement, but the effort was unfortunately not successful. After hearing both sides with reference to the statements filed by them before this Tribunal the following issues have been framed:

1. What are the terms of employment relating to the grant of festival holidays with pay? Are they just and fair?

2. Did the abstention from work on the afternoon of Friday, 6th August 1948, in 9 specific jute mills as mentioned in the statements amount to a strike by the workmen who so abstained? If so, was the strike illegal?

3. Are the workmen who did not work on the afternoon of Friday, 6th August 1948, in those 9 mills, entitled to pay for the hours during which they did not work?

4. Are the said workers entitled to pay for Saturday, 7th August 1948?

Issue No. 1.

2. I now proceed to deal with the issues one by one and take up Issue No. 1 on the subject of the terms of employment relating to the grant of festival holidays with pay. This subject constitutes the first branch of the issue. The practice of allowing 6 festival holidays with pay in a year has grown out of an arrangement made by the Indian Jute Mills Association, although there was no binding law or rule on the subject. It is not necessary for our purposes to investigate the detailed terms of employment relating to the grant of festival holidays with pay. The real question is whether the grant of a festival holiday with pay to a worker was subject to the condition that he must have worked for all the normal hours of work on the preceding day or whether it would be sufficient for him to attend to his work for only a part of the preceding day. In our particular case the jute mills concerned have refused to pay to the workers who abstained from work on the afternoon of Friday, the 6th August, wages for the paid festival holiday on Saturday, the 7th August, on the footing that these workers failed to work for all the normal hours of work on Friday. It has been contended on behalf of the workers as represented by the Jute Mill Workers' Federation that even under the existing arrangement introduced by the Indian Jute Mills Association it was not necessary for a worker to qualify himself for payment of wages for a paid festival holiday that

Now, therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased to direct that the award be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

AWARD.

Government of West Bengal, by an order No 3652Lab., dated the 5th October 1948, referred the dispute between Messrs. Anglo Swiss Watch Co., 6 and 7, Dalhousie Square, Calcutta, and their employees represented by Anglo Swiss Watch Co. Employees' Union, 102B, Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta, to a tribunal under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, and I was appointed the sole Tribunal.

Notices were issued to the Union as also to the Company. The Company informed the Tribunal that the Union had been dissolved. None appeared in response to the notice to the Union. Thereafter, as contemplated under the rules, a notice was affixed on the notice board of the Company. Still none appears. I am satisfied that nobody appears after service of notice. The legitimate conclusion is that no dispute exists at present, and I award accordingly.

By order of the Governor,

ORDER.

No. 4773Lab.—27th December 1948.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Commerce, Labour and Industries Department, order No. 135-Lab., dated the 17th January 1948, the industrial disputes that had arisen or were apprehended between the employers of mercantile firms and their associate firms specified in column 1 in the two lists Nos. 1 and 2 annexed to the said order, and their clerical and all subordinate staff in their offices as represented by some trade unions mentioned against firms in column 2 of the lists aforementioned, and others represented by such other registered trade unions as might have been permitted by the Industrial Tribunal hereinafter mentioned to be represented individually for legitimate reasons, were referred for adjudication to a Tribunal constituted by Sri Asutosh Das Gupta, Additional District Judge as Chairman and Sri Sailesh Chandra Chakarvarty and Sri Sudhir Chandra Dutta Gupta, Additional District Judges, as Members.

And whereas the services of Sri Sudhir Chandra Dutta Gupta, one of the members aforesaid, having no longer been available, the said Chairman and Sri S. C. Chakravartty, another member aforesaid, have given the award in respect of the industrial dispute between one of the firms mentioned hereinbefore, namely, the Bank of India, Ltd., 102/A, Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta, being item No. 188 in list No. 1 aforementioned and their employees represented by Bank of India, Ltd., Employees' Union (Calcutta Branches), 3, Commercial Buildings, C/o Maritime Supplying Agency, Calcutta, as shown in the annexure hereto;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (2) of section 15 read with sub-section (3) of section 19 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased to make the following order and to direct with reference to section 17 of the said Act that the award be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

The award made by the said Tribunal shall bind the Company and their workmen aforesaid as specified therein and shall remain in force for a period of one year with effect from the 1st of July 1948.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of industrial disputes between 267 mercantile firms of Calcutta and their employees, referred for adjudication, by Government order No. 135Lab., dated the 17th January 1948.

PRESENT:

SRI ASUTOSH DAS GUPTA, Chairman.

AWARD.

Pursuant to the provisions of sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, Government of West Bengal constituted a Tribunal with Sri Asutosh Das Gupta as Chairman and Sri Sailesh Chandra Chakravartty and Sri Sudhir Chandra Dutta Gupta as members to adjudicate the disputes between 267 mercantile firms of Calcutta and their employees.

The firms have been divided in two lists in Government order and we have maintained the serial number given in the list for the sake of convenience. In column 1 of the list the names of the firms have been stated, and in column 2 the names of the Unions representing the employees have been stated.

In another award wherein we disposed of the cases of several absentee employees, we decided that we could treat the cases separately. It is now proposed to consider the case of the Bank of India, Ltd., 102A, Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta, being the serial No. 188 in list No. 1. The reasons we have given in the first mentioned award justifying separate treatment of the 267 cases hold good here also, and we do not consider it necessary to reiterate them.

In this case the employees were represented in the order of reference by the Bank of India, Ltd., Employees' Union (Calcutta Branches). This Union in its turn authorised the Provincial Bank Employees' Association to represent it before this Tribunal. Recently there have been settlements between the employers and the employees as represented by the Bank of India, Ltd., Employees' Union (Calcutta Branches). The terms of settlement have been filed. These are detailed in Schedules A and B of this award. Sri Annada Gopal Banerji, President of the Provincial Bank Employees' Association, has no objection of the case being disposed of in terms of the settlement. This practically means withdrawal of the authority given by the Bank of India, Ltd., Employees' Union to the Provincial Bank Employees' Association. In the terms of the settlement, there is a prayer by the Employees' Union for permission to withdraw from the adjudication proceedings. There being no provision for withdrawal of a dispute from the proceedings, we finally dispose of the case by giving an award in terms of the settlement. The terms of settlement shall form part of the award.

The services of Sri Sudhir Kumar Dutta Gupta are no longer available. He could not take part in the proceedings leading to the award in the present case. The award, accordingly, is given by us two —Sri Asutosh Das Gupta and Sri Sailesh Chandra Chakravartty—under rule 8(7) of the rules framed under the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947.

Chairman.

In the matter of an application for withdrawal of the case the humble petition of the Bank of India, Ltd., Employees' Union (Calcutta Branches).

MOST RESPECTFULLY SHEWETH—

1. That the dispute in the present case relates inter alia to certain claims made by the employees of the aforesaid Bank.

2. That the object of the present dispute, or more precisely speaking of the case before the Tribunal, was an attempt to settle the said claims through a duly constituted procedure promulgated by the Government.

3. That during the pendency of the case there was, however, a correspondence going on between the contending parties for an amicable settlement of the dispute and the main object in that behalf was a happy and peaceful maintenance of the cordial relation between the master and the servant, the importance whereof can never be overestimated for the mutual benefit of both.

4. That on or about the 8th November 1948, the Agent of the Bank of India, Ltd., addressed the following letter to the Secretary of the Union:—

"With reference to your letter of the 26th ultimo, submitted to the General Manager, through me, I have to inform you that the Bank will—

(1) pay to Calcutta Clerical staff the revised dearness allowance of 40 per cent. of the basic salary, subject to a minimum of Rs. 40 per month, with effect from 1st July 1948; and

(2) apply to Calcutta Branches the same terms and conditions of service as may be granted to Head Office staff from time to time, provided the reference to the Industrial Disputes (Mercantile Firms) Tribunal is withdrawn."

5. That in view of the present circumstances the Union have accepted the terms as above stated in full settlement on all issues of the dispute now before the Mercantile Industrial Tribunal, reserving, however, their right to approach the Tribunal or any other authority for the time being for the redress of any other grievance or grievances not taken into consideration now and not capable of being so taken into consideration.

Wherefore the Bank of India, Ltd., Employees' Union pray most humbly that the Tribunal may be pleased to permit them to withdraw the case without prejudice to their rights as indicated above as to pass such other or further order or orders as to the Tribunal may seem fit and proper.

And for this as in duty bound your petitioner (the said Union) shall ever pray.

For the Bank of India, Ltd., Employees Union (Calcutta Branches),

JAGADISH CHANDRA BASU,
President.

The 30th November 1948.

Report under section 13(3) of the Industrial Disputes Act 1947.

By Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, notification No. 4153Lab., dated the 18th November 1948, this industrial dispute which has arisen between Messrs. Dastidar and Sons, Chief Agents, Bombay Mutual Life Assurance Society, Ltd., and their employees as represented by the Bombay Mutual Life Assurance (Calcutta Chief Agency Office) Employees' Association has been referred to this Board of Conciliation for investigating the dispute and promoting a settlement thereof. The order of reference was received by the Chairman on 19th November 1948 and notices were issued to the members of the Board and to the parties concerned for appearance on 29th November 1948. The Employees' Association was also asked to submit its written statement setting forth the points in dispute. The Association's written statement was filed on 29th November 1948, and all the members of the Board assembled on that date. A copy of the Association's written statement was handed over to the employers to enable them to submit a statement in reply by 6th December 1948. The record of the proceedings before the Labour Commissioner was also called for. On 6th December 1948 the employers filed their written statement, and the Board consisting of all its members sat for consideration of the dispute. The statements of both sides and allied papers were fully discussed, and the points in dispute were formulated as given below:—

(1) Recognition of the Employees' Association.

(2) Setting aside of the orders of dismissal in respect of the dismissed employees and their reinstatement.

(3) Withdrawal of criminal case by Sri Monoranjan Bosu, Office Superintendent, against Sri Amal Kumar Guha, Sri Chittaranjan Ghosh Dastidar, Sri Probodh Chandra Biswas and Sri Sudhir Chandra Das (dismissed employees).

(4) Revision of leave rules.

(5) Revision of scales of wages and of dearness allowance by way of increments.

(6) Consultation with the Union as regards matters of transfer, dismissal, suspension, selection of grade, promotion and new appointment.

(7) Provision for gratuity in addition to Provident Fund.

(8) Compensatory allowance inclusive of house allowance for Calcutta employees

(9) Pay for strike period.

(10) Payment of year-closing bonus for 1947 and of Puja bonus for 1948.

(11) Cancellation of new appointments made during the strike period.

The members of the Board representing the employers and the employees undertook to consider the points in dispute and see if the parties could be induced to come to a fair and amicable settlement of the dispute. It was decided that the Board would sit again on 8th December 1948.

2. It will be useful at this stage to state briefly the history and the nature of the dispute. Messrs. Dastidar and Sons are a chief agency firm appointed by the Bombay Mutual Life Assurance Society, Ltd., for the purpose of procuring Life Assurance business on their behalf on a fixed percentage of commission which was determined by the said Company in the year 1928, and the percentage of commission does not appear to have been increased since then. The position as stated by the firm is that all the increases in its expenses have to be met out of the emoluments derived from the fixed percentage of commission. The disputes arose between the Chief Agency Firm and its employees on questions of scales of wages and other amenities. Eventually in October 1947 a settlement was arrived at after mutual negotiation, and this settlement was signed by representatives of both parties, and the terms of the settlement were to take effect from 1st July 1947. The employers state that those terms adopted in October 1947 are still being implemented. Differences, however, arose with regard to the interpretation of certain aspects of the October settlement, and the question of reference of the dispute to a Tribunal was raised in April 1948. According to the employees the employers did not show any disposition to meet their points, while the employers maintained that they were faithfully giving effect to the terms of the October settlement. In the latter part of June 1948 a fresh charter of demands was sent by the Employees' Association to the employers, but the employers expressed their inability to agree to the demands which appear to have been on a much higher scale than the terms which were incorporated in the settlement of October 1947. Eventually the Employees' Association sent to the employers on 28th July 1948 a notice of strike with effect from the 11th August 1948. During the period of notice the Labour Commissioner made certain attempts to have the dispute referred to an Industrial Tribunal, but these attempts did not succeed. In due course the strike of the employees started on 11th August 1948. The employers of the Chief Agency Firm felt that it was not possible for them to keep the office closed for a single day in view of their obligations to the Bombay Mutual Life Assurance Society, Ltd. Shortly after the commencement of the strike the employers gave notices to the employees to the effect that they must join duty by the 18th August 1948 failing which they would be dismissed. The employees on strike did not join duty as desired by the employers, and they were eventually dismissed, and the employers began to appoint new hands in order to carry on the work. It is stated that most of the vacancies have been filled up by new hands and some have been filled by some old employees who were anxious to join. The main contention of the employees in the present dispute is that the old employees should be reinstated and the new hands should be discharged. The employers have expressed their inability to accede to this demand at this late stage when the new hands have been in employment for 3 or 4 months. It has also been contended by the employers that the business of the firm has undergone a marked fall owing to political and economic reasons, and there is no room at the present moment to employ so many persons as used to be in employment at the time of the commencement of the strike, and consequently the employers are unable to employ so many persons under the prevailing conditions, but they will be prepared to give preference, other things being equal, to old employees in filling up future vacancies as and when they may arise.

3. The Board consisting of all members sat again on 8th December 1948 to find out ways and means of arriving at a fair and amicable settlement of the dispute. The points in dispute as noted above were again discussed. The position is that point No. 2 relating to the question of setting aside of the orders of dismissal in respect of the old employees and point No. 11 relating to the cancellation of new appointments made during the strike period are the dominating features of the dispute, and the other points would have really no bearing unless the demands of the employees envolved in points Nos. 2 and 11 are conceded. The Board, therefore, applied its mind to a serious consideration of points Nos. 2 and 11. It soon became apparent that the progress of the discussion was not satisfactory and the view points of the representatives of the employers and of those of the employees were opposed to each other. The employers' representatives expressed their inability to agree to a process of cancellation of the new appointments without which it would not be practicable to reinstate the old employees. The employees' representatives, on the other hand, desired the demands of the employees to be conceded. The Chairman made an effort to bring the mutually opposed views of the two sides on a common plane of understanding, and discussed the whole question with the representatives of the employers and those of the employees both jointly and also separately in an informal manner to find out ways and means of bringing about a fair and amicable settlement. We have, however, to note with regret that all our attempts at arriving at a settlement have failed. The employers' representatives feel that this matter of settlement has come up rather too late, and it would have been easier to handle the situation if the question of settlement had been brought in the month of August or early in September last. The Chairman feels, with great regret, that the nature of the dispute with its unpleasant historical background culminating in a long standing strike during which new appointments have been made, does not admit of settlement by way of conciliation between two parties whose view points, in the light of the prevailing conditions, happen to be opposed to each other in a pronounced manner. We think that a reference of the dispute for adjudication by an Industrial Tribunal may be more useful.

The Chairman made an effort to bring the mutually opposed views of the two sides on a common plane of understanding, and discussed the whole question with the representatives of the employers and those of the employees both jointly and also separately in an informal manner to find out ways and means of bringing about a fair and amicable settlement. We have, however, to note with regret that all our attempts at arriving at a settlement have failed. The employers' representatives feel that this matter of settlement has come up rather too late, and it would have been easier to handle the situation if the question of settlement had been brought in the month of August or early in September last. The Chairman feels, with great regret, that the nature of the dispute with its unpleasant historical background culminating in a long standing strike during which new appointments have been made, does not admit of settlement by way of conciliation between two parties whose view points, in the light of the prevailing conditions, happen to be opposed to each other in a pronounced manner. We think that a reference of the dispute for adjudication by an Industrial Tribunal may be more useful.

This payment is obligatory whether such application is subsequently rejected or not and no claim for a refund of this fee will be entertained. Applications stamped with postage or other stamps will not be accepted. Cheques, postal orders, money orders, etc., also will not be accepted.

(iv) No allegation that an application form or letter respecting such form, has been lost or delayed in the post will be considered unless the person making such allegation produces a Post Office registration receipt or certificate of posting. Candidates who delay their applications until a late date will do so at their own risk.

(i) a certificate of graduation from the Principal of the College from which he/she graduated or from the Registrar of the University in which he/she graduated;

(ii) Matriculation certificate in original and an attested copy thereof;

(iii) certificates, written not more than one year prior to the date of his/her application from two responsible persons unconnected with his/her College or University, and not related to him/her, testifying to his/her private character and stating that he/she belongs to one of the five classes mentioned in Rule 4(i) above. Certificates other than the original Matriculation certificate will not be returned.

The Public Service Commission may require such further proof or particulars from the candidates as they may consider necessary, and may make enquiries regarding their character and domicile.

8. Examination fee and time-table.—Every candidate to whom an admit card has been issued will deposit into a Government treasury in West Bengal or Reserve Bank of India, Calcutta, a sum of Rs. 50 as examination fee and forward the receipt for the same to the Secretary, Public Service Commission, West Bengal, by the date fixed. In no circumstances will the fee paid be refunded. Delay in this respect may render a candidate's name liable to removal from the list of examinees. On complying with this requirement, the candidates will receive from the Secretary a time-table for the examination. The examination will be held at Calcutta. The dates and place of the examination will be communicated to the candidates separately.

9. Canvassing.—Any attempt on the part of a candidate to enlist support for his/her application through persons of influence or officials of Government will disqualify him/her for appointment. Spontaneous recommendations from persons interested in the candidates, or otherwise known to them, will be disregarded.

10. Disclosure of identity.—Candidates should not write their names or roll numbers anywhere except in the space provided for the purpose on the answer books. Any paper containing a mark or a hint revealing the identity of a candidate will be rejected without further scrutiny.

11. Ineligibility of Government servants.—Unless specially exempted by Government in the Home (General Administration) Department by general or special order, no person holding a substantive appointment in Government service or an appointment on probation against a substantive vacancy under Government is eligible to appear at the competitive examination.

Applications from candidates who are in temporary or permanent employment under any Government in India will be rejected unless they are submitted through the appointing authority of their posts or service.

12. Syllabus of examination and marks.—The examinations will be held in the subjects and according to the syllabus shown in Schedule II which also indicates the numerical value to be attached to each paper at the examination.

13. Medical Examination.—As soon as the results of the examination are ready, a proportion of the candidates who have qualified will be called upon to appear before a Medical Board for a certificate of their fitness for Government service in Form A of Schedule IV of the Bengal Provincial Services Recruitment Rules. An order to appear before the Medical Board must not however be understood to mean that the candidate, if found fit, will necessarily receive an appointment as the number of candidates who will be summoned for medical examination will be slightly in excess of the total number of vacancies, and the question of his/her appointment will depend upon the results of the medical examination taken as a whole. Regulations governing the physical examination of candidates are set forth in Schedule IV of the Bengal Provincial Services Recruitment Rules and intending candidates are advised before they apply for admission to the examination to satisfy themselves that they are likely to qualify as physically fit under those regulations, for experience has shown that a considerable number of the candidates at the competitive examinations are subsequently rejected by the Medical Board as unfit.

14. Availability of old question papers.—Old question papers may be purchased from the Publication Branch, West Bengal Government Press, Alipore, or from Cash Sales Office, Writers' Buildings, Calcutta, at Re. 1 for a complete set of questions for one year.

The West Bengal Criminal Law Amendment (Special Courts) Bill, 1949.

(Clauses 4—9.)

Cases triable by Special Judges.

4. (1) The Provincial Government may, from time to time by notification in the Official Gazette, allot cases for trial to a Special Judge, and may also from time to time by like notification transfer any case from one Special Judge to another and withdraw any case from the jurisdiction of a Special Judge or make such modifications in the description of a case (whether in the name of the accused or in the charges preferred or in any other manner) as may be considered necessary.

(2) The Special Judge shall have jurisdiction to try the cases for the time being allotted to him under sub-section (1) in respect of such of the charges for the offences specified in the Schedule as may be preferred against the several accused, and any such case which is at the commencement of this Act or at the time of such allotment pending before any Court or another Special Judge shall be deemed to be transferred to the Special Judge to whom it is allotted.

(3) When trying any such case as aforesaid, a Special Judge may also try any offence whether or not specified in the Schedule which is an offence with which the accused may, under the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, be charged at the same trial. Act V of 1898.

Provided that the provisions of this sub-section shall not apply in respect of any additional fine imposed for an offence specified in item 1 or item 6 of the Schedule, or in a case of the nature referred to in sub-section (2), in respect of such portion of the additional fine as is equivalent to the amount found under that sub-section to have been procured by means of offences specified in those items.

[See section 4(2).]

2. An offence punishable under section 406 or section 408 or section 409 of the Indian Penal Code, where the property in respect of which the offence is committed is property entrusted by His Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom or in any part of His Majesty's dominions or the Central or a Provincial Government or a department of any such Government or a local authority or a person acting on behalf of any such Government or department or authority.

3. An offence punishable under section 411 or section 414 of the Indian Penal Code, where the stolen property in respect of which the offence is committed is property such as is described in the preceding item and in respect of which an offence punishable under section 406 or section 408 or section 409 of the said Code has been committed.

The West Bengal Criminal Law Amendment (Special Courts) Bill, 1949.

(The Schedule.)

4. An offence punishable under section 417 or section 420 of the Indian Penal Code, where the person deceived is His Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom or in any part of His Majesty's dominions, or the Central or a Provincial Government or a department of any such Government or a local authority or a person acting on behalf of any such Government or department or authority. Act XLV of 1860.

5. An offence punishable under section 465 or section 466 or section 467 or section 468 or section 471 or section 474 or section 477A of the Indian Penal Code.

6. An offence punishable under any order made or deemed to be made under the Essential Supplies (Temporary Powers) Act, 1946. XXIV of 1946.

7. An offence punishable under section 5 of the Prevention of Corruption Act, 1947. II of 1947.

8. Any conspiracy to commit or any attempt to commit or any abetment of any of the offences specified in items 1 to 7.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of this Bill is to make special provision for the speedy trial of cases relating to bribery, fraud, etc., specially those instituted by the Special Police Establishment of the Government of India in Calcutta. A list of offences in respect of which such special procedure is to be followed has been specified in the Schedule to the Bill. In view of the very large number of Special Police Establishment cases, the ordinary procedure of the law, if followed, would involve delay. Moreover, the ordinary rules of procedure and evidence and the powers of a Magistrate under section 32 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, are not adequate for the successful prosecution of these Special Police Establishment cases. Hence this Bill for the constitution of Special Courts has been drawn up.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 41L.—11th January, 1949.—The Governor having been pleased to order, under rule 47 of the West Bengal Legislative Assembly Procedure Rules, the publication of the following Bill, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons which accompanies it, in the Calcutta Gazette, the Bill and the Statement of Objects and Reasons are accordingly hereby published for general information:—

THE CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA (TEMPORARY SUPERSESSION) AMENDMENT BILL, 1949.

A

to amend the Corporation of Calcutta (Temporary Supersession) Act, 1948.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Corporation of Calcutta (Temporary Supersession) Act, 1948, for the purpose and in the manner hereinafter appearing; West Ben. Act VIII of 1948.

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Corporation of Calcutta (Temporary Supersession) Amendment Act, 1949.

Amendment of section 1 of West Bengal Act VIII of 1948.

2. In sub-section (3) of section 1 of the Corporation of Calcutta (Temporary Supersession) Act, 1948 (hereinafter referred to as the said Act), for the words and figures "31st day of March, 1949" the words and figures "31st day of March, 1950" shall be substituted.

Amendment of section 3.

3. At the end of section 3 of the said Act the words "and may also by like order extend the period of supersession for such further term as it may consider necessary" shall be added.

Statement

... Bill ... with Statement of Objects and Reasons ... 2

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

On account of continued mal-administration, the Corporation of Calcutta was superseded for the period from the 24th March, 1948 to the 31st March, 1949 and placed under the charge of an Administrative Officer appointed by Government, under the Corporation of Calcutta (Temporary Supersession) Act, 1948, which is to remain in force till the 31st March, 1949. Simultaneously a Commission was appointed to investigate into its affairs and make recommendations to Government for improving its administration. It is now found that the period for which the Corporation has been superseded is too short for the Administrative Officer to overhaul the working of the Corporation. The result up to date is quite satisfactory for apart from clearing up much arrear work in other departments, the Administrative Officer has shown a distinct improvement in the collection of rates and taxes.

Orders have been passed under the Act directing the Administrative Officer to re-value the lands and buildings in all wards of the Corporation and this is expected to result in considerable increase in the income of the Corporation from rates, which will go a long way to stabilise the finances of the Corporation. But re-valuation in all the wards cannot be finished by the end of March, 1949. The report of the Investigation Commission has not yet been received. Action on their recommendations which are expected to be received soon may necessitate legislation to change the constitution of and the method of election to the Corporation.

It is therefore considered essential that the period of supersession of the Calcutta Corporation should be extended by one year more. The Act does not however authorise Government to extend the term of supersession of the Corporation beyond the 31st March, 1949. The Bill seeks to amend the Act for empowering Government to extend the term of supersession of the Calcutta Corporation for a further period of one year, i.e., up to the 31st March, 1950.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between the Bengal Chemical and Pharmaceutical Works, Ltd., and their workmen in connection with the cases of certain discharged employees.

For the Company: Sri K. N. Ganguli, Advocate.

For the Workmen: Sri D. L. Sen Gupta, Pleader.

AWARD.

By Government of West Bengal, Commerce, Labour and Industries Department (Labour), order No. 922Lab., dated the 27th March 1948, and order No. 1772Lab., dated the 29th May 1948, this industrial dispute which has arisen between the Bengal Chemical and Pharmaceutical Works, Ltd., and their workmen in connection with the cases of certain discharged employees, namely, Sarajit Bose, Damai Mohanti, Indramoni Nayak, Wadud Khan, Nitai Paul, Suren Sarkar and Radha Koiri has been referred to me as a Tribunal for adjudication. In the original order of reference the workmen were described as represented by the Vice-President of the Bengal Chemical Mazdoor Union, and it eventually appeared that owing to internal differences in the affairs of the Mazdoor Union, two persons claimed to be Vice-Presidents of the Union and put forward diametrically opposite views before the Tribunal. In view of the conflicting situation which arose, the Tribunal sought further clarification from Government and eventually the order, dated the 29th May 1948, was issued as a corrigendum in respect of the original order of reference. The notice on the workmen was served as a general notice on the notice board of the Company, and it was not served at any particular office of the Union. In due course Sri Dwijendra Lal Sen Gupta, Pleader, appeared on behalf of the workmen, and he filed a statement on their behalf on 17th June 1948. A copy of the workmen's statement was made over to the Company's representative, and the Company was asked to submit its statement in reply on or before 28th June 1948. On 25th June 1948, however, the Tribunal received notice of a rule issued by the High Court of Calcutta restraining the Tribunal from proceeding further with the hearing of the dispute, the position being that the Company moved the High Court for an order of restraint. At this stage the proceedings before the Tribunal were stayed. A period of about five months thus elapsed since the filing of the statement by the workmen through their Pleader, and on 8th November 1948, the Tribunal recorded that the rule issued by the High Court had been discharged, and fresh notices on both sides were issued. In due course the Company filed its written statement, issues were framed and witnesses on both sides were examined, and the lawyers of both sides argued their respective cases. It is unfortunate that the disposal of this adjudication has been delayed by the different unusual circumstances which came into operation.

2. Sri Dwijendra Lal Sen Gupta, Pleader, submitted a written statement on behalf of all the seven workmen mentioned in the order of reference. But he was authorised to submit a statement only by three employees, namely, Sarajit Bose, Damai Mohanti and Indramoni Nayak, and not by the others. The case put forward in respect of the discharged employees Sarajit Bose, Damai Mohanti and Indramoni Nayak is briefly as follows. Sarajit Bose was a prominent leader of the Bengal Chemical Mazdoor Union in his capacity as Joint Secretary or otherwise. He was also a member of the Negotiation Committee formed to negotiate with the Company during the strike of 1947 and he was one of the representatives who represented the Union in the proceedings before the Tribunal in 1947. He also took part in the matter of securing the portion of the bonus awarded by the Tribunal of 1947 which remained unpaid till after the publication of the award. The workmen's case is that Sarajit Bose was suddenly dismissed on 10th November 1947, owing to his legitimate trade union activities, and it was a case of victimisation and vindictiveness, and it is not a fact that the real reason of his discharge was his alleged irregularity in attendance or negligence in the performance of his duty. Damai Mohanti and Indramoni Nayak were discharged in June 1947, owing to their legitimate trade union activities in connection with the work of the Mazdoor Union and on account of their work in furtherance of a club of Oriyas, named Utkal Sangha, and it is not a fact that the real reason for discharging these two Oriya workmen was their complicity in connection with an alleged theft of some tins of sandalwood oil from the Perfumery Department of the Company on the night of 16th May 1947. The case of the Company, on the other hand, is on the following lines. While it may be true that Sarajit Bose took some part in the work of the Mazdoor Union, it is not a fact that he was discharged owing to his legitimate trade union activities. He was guilty of absenting himself for an abnormally large number of days during the fourteen months from Baisakh 1353 B.S. to Jyaishtha 1354 B.S. and he was given a warning notice in writing on 24th July 1947 shortly before the strike began. He did not correct himself as regards irregularity of attendance, and was guilty of coming late on many occasions during the period from Baisakh to Kartick 1354 B.S. On 7th November 1947, he was found to be taking tiffin and tea while sitting on his work stool and thus violating the rule of observing strict cleanliness and he was guilty of unseemly and troublesome behaviour on that day. Owing to his continued irregularity in attendance which adversely affected the production, and his otherwise undesirable behaviour encouraging indiscipline, he was discharged on 10th November 1947. It is not true that he was discharged owing to any legitimate trade union activities. As regards Damai Mohanti and Indramoni Nayak, the Company's case is that there were good grounds for suspecting their complicity in the occurrence of theft of some sandalwood oil tins or of receiving stolen property. The articles stolen from the Perfumery Department some time in the night of 16th May 1947 were discovered in a Fire Brigade store room the keys of which were being kept by Damai Mohanti and Indramoni Nayak as headmen of two fire fighting groups. Damai Mohanti eventually made statements of a somewhat contradictory nature, and these statements were recorded. The Company discharged the two men in June 1947 owing to their serious misconduct, and it is not true that they participated in any trade union activities at all or that they were discharged for any such alleged trade union activities. The Company claimed that it had the usual right of a master to discharge its employees who might be guilty of misconduct, under circumstances which had no connection with any legitimate trade union activities. On the statements submitted by both parties, and in the light of further discussions, the following issues were framed:—

(1) Is there any case of dispute as regards the workmen Suren Sarkar, Nitai Paul, Wadud Khan and Radha Koiri?

(2) Should there be any order of reinstatement in respect of (1) Sarajit Bose, (2) Indramoni Nayak and (3) Damai Mohanti with retrospective remuneration or otherwise? Was the discharge in respect of each due to unfair labour practice or vindictiveness or victimisation on the part of the employer?

Issue No. 1.

3. In proceeding to deal with the issues I take up issue No. 1 first. It raises the question as to whether there is any case of dispute as regards the four workmen Suren Sarkar, Nitai Paul, Wadud Khan and Radha Koiri. None of these workmen appeared before the Tribunal or made any statement putting forward any claim. None of them authorised Sri Dwijendra Lal Sen Gupta, Pleader, to file any written statement in connection with their cases. The Pleader in fact filed a statement on behalf of all the seven workmen mentioned in the order of reference. The portions of the statement relating to the four workmen other than Sarajit Bose, Indramoni Nayak and Damai Mohanti who actually authorised the Pleader to act on behalf of the workmen cannot, under the circumstances, be regarded as amounting to statements of the workmen on behalf of the four workmen Suren Sarkar and others. The position is that no case of dispute as regards the four workmen Suren Sarkar and others has been placed before the Tribunal at all. I, therefore, answer issue No. 1 in the negative and make my award accordingly.

Issue No. 2.

4. The real question in this case arises from issue No. 2 relating to the discharged employees Sarajit Bose, Indramoni Nayak and Damai Mohanti. The claim put forward on behalf of the workmen is that they should be reinstated in their positions with retrospective remuneration for the period of unemployment. I shall first proceed to discuss the facts and circumstances relating to the discharge of each of these three employees, and come to certain findings. I take up the case of Sarajit Bose first. He worked in the cutting, filling and sealing section of the Biological Department in connection with the production of ampules of various descriptions. On 24th July 1947 the Company issued a notice on Sarajit Bose (Exhibit A), warning him that his attendance was unsatisfactory and the work was suffering owing to his frequent absence and that the Company would be compelled to punish him if his attendance did not become satisfactory. It was pointed out in the notice that he was absent on 132 days in course of 14 months from Baisakh 1353 B.S. to Jyaishtha 1354 B.S. Sarajit Bose has explained in his evidence that his absence was due to his suffering from gastric trouble. Whatever the reason might be, there is no manner of doubt that the Company's work suffered materially owing to his serious irregularity in attendance. It further appears that during the period from Baisakh to Kartick 1354 B.S. Sarajit Bose was marked late 90 times and it is clear that he did not make any serious attempt to be more regular in the interest of proper execution of work. The evidence discloses that in the cutting, filling and sealing section of the Biological Department, the work has to be done by a batch of three persons, and if one person is absent the execution of the work is seriously dislocated and materially impeded. Particular care has to be taken with regard to sterile ampules, and work in connection with such ampules is best done with three men. The sudden absence of a particular worker is likely to cause material dislocation. I am not satisfied that Sarajit Bose made any serious attempt to improve his irregular habits even after the warning had been administered in the latter part of July 1947. We may then consider the incident of 7th November 1947. The rules of the Company enjoin that no worker in the particular section should eat any food in the work room during working hours. Rules bearing on strict cleanliness and avoidance of contamination have necessarily to be observed in this section. Care has to be taken that the ampules are prepared in surroundings of cleanliness and freedom from contamination, and that is no doubt the reason for enforcing a good deal of strictness in the ways and habits of workers in this section. It appears that on 7th November 1947 Sarajit Bose was late in attending and after his arrival he created a row when he found another worker placed at his post. Later in the day some officers of the Company visited the work room and found Sarajit Bose violating the rules inasmuch as he was taking tiffin while occupying his work stool, and the evidence is that some particles of food and a receptacle of tea were found placed on his work table. Sarajit Bose failed to explain his conduct satisfactorily and it appears that his attitude also was unsatisfactory. A workman named Premansu Ganguli has deposed to the effect that he was a co-worker of Sarajit Bose on that day and he did not remember any incident having taken place. It appears, however, from the Attendance Register that Premansu Ganguli was absent on that date. His evidence is clearly unreliable. I am satisfied on the evidence that the incident alleged by the Company to have taken place on 7th November 1947 did take place and Sarajit Bose was guilty of serious dereliction of duty. I come to the finding, therefore, that the reasons assigned by the Company in connection with the discharge of Sarajit Bose are true. The question, however, is whether under the cover of these apparent reasons, the real reason for his discharge was his active participation in trade union activities. It appears that he was a prominent member of the Bengal Chemical Mazdoor Union and was also a member of the Negotiation Committee formed to negotiate with the Company during the strike of 1947, and he was also one of the three persons who represented the Mazdoor Union in the proceedings before the Tribunal in 1947. The warning notice regarding his persistent irregularity in attendance dated 24th July 1947 was, however, issued before the strike commenced on 29th July 1947. The evidence indeed shows that Sarajit Bose was appointed as the head of the volunteers in connection with the strike. It appears, however, that there was not much work to be done in that capacity as no workers attempted to enter the factory and the volunteers were not required to do much work. There is, therefore, no particular reason why the Company might be specially indignant in respect of Sarajit Bose's position as the head of the volunteers. After the termination of the strike Sarajit Bose returned to his work just like other workmen, and he was given a normal chance. The only circumstance relating to trade union activities arises from the fact that he was one of the workmen who tried on behalf of all to secure the payment of the portion of bonus awarded by the Tribunal of 1947 which remained unpaid till after the publication of the award. The Tribunal's award was given about the middle of October 1947 just before the Pujas and it was not published by the Government till some time in the following November. On the informal intervention of the Tribunal directly after the submission of the award to the Government, the Company was reasonable enough to give effect to part of the award by paying bonus to the extent of one month's wages to all workmen before the Pujas. This the Company was not bound to do, and it was an act of good grace that payment of a major portion of the bonus awarded before the Pujas was amicably secured, and the Company was not unreasonable in waiting for the payment of the remaining portion of the bonus till after the publication of the award. There is no evidence to indicate that any trade union activities of a bitter nature were really required for securing the payment of the remaining portion of the bonus, and I am not satisfied that Sarajit Bose had much to do in connection with the question of payment of the remaining portion of the bonus, or that the Company had occasion to entertain any ulterior motive of getting rid of him owing to his participation in carrying on negotiations about the payment of the remaining portion of the bonus. I do not think that the Company conceived the idea of getting rid of Sarajit Bose so early as on 24th July 1947 owing to his trade union activities. It appears that some other office bearers of the Union still remain in service. Of the persons who acted as representatives of the workers in the proceedings before the Tribunal of 1947 most are still in service. Only Sarajit Bose has been discharged under circumstances of a special nature, and one Basanta Kumar Bose appears to have gone away of his own accord. I do not see any particular reason why the Company should have selected Sarajit Bose among all the prominent representatives of the workers for specially bad treatment by ordering his discharge. I do not see that Sarajit Bose engaged himself in trade union activities of such a special character as might induce the Company to select him for an act of victimisation. I come to the conclusion, therefore, that Sarajit Bose was discharged on account of his seriously irregular habits and acts of negligence and indiscipline and it cannot be said under the particular circumstances that the real reason of his discharge was his participation in legitimate trade union activities or that the order of discharge amounted to an unfair labour practice on the part of the employer.

5. I next take up the case of Damai Mohanti, who was one of the Fire Brigade staff. He appears to have entered service in April 1944. He was discharged in June 1947. This case has intrinsic connection with the occurrence of theft of some tins of sandalwood oil from the Perfumery Department on the night of 16th May 1947. The stolen property was admittedly recovered from the fire brigade store room at about 10 or 11 p.m. on the night of 17th May 1947. It is clear that Damai Mohanti had the key of this room. Damai Mohanti's evidence is to the effect that he innocently removed the property from the pump room to the fire brigade store room, and it was he who informed the relevant officer late at night and it was at his instance that the property was found. The Company's case is that Damai Mohanti knew about the theft and retained the stolen property knowing it to be stolen, and he kept quiet over the matter with an ulterior motive, and when it was realised that information about the theft had reached the appropriate department of the Company, and employees of that department had become alert and it was not practicable to remove the stolen property outside, Damai Mohanti thought it prudent, in order to exculpate himself, to lay the information before an officer. Damai Mohanti's statements made by him on two consecutive days were duly recorded and although Damai Mohanti now denies his signatures, I feel satisfied that these statements were actually made by Damai Mohanti and the records are genuine. The fact that Damai Mohanti has, in the present proceedings, tried to deny the genuineness of these records appears to me to be significant. There are inconsistencies in the statements of Damai Mohanti. He did not satisfactorily explain why he should have removed the articles from the pump room to the fire brigade store room under his control, and kept quiet over the matter for such a long time without informing the authorities. It may be that he did not take part in the actual theft. But evidently he was aware that the property he was handling was stolen property, and it was his incumbent duty to lay bare the conspiracy at the earliest opportunity. He did not do so and he has failed to explain the rambling and inconsistent statements which were recorded. Under the circumstances disclosed the Company was justified in entertaining strong suspicion against Damai Mohanti, and losing all confidence in him as an employee. As regards the alleged participation of Damai Mohanti in trade union activities there is practically no evidence of a substantial character. Damai Mohanti was an ordinary workman, and an ordinary member of the Union. He did not hold any office or any responsible position. Sri Nabajyoti Barman, who was Vice-President of the Union, says that Damai Mohanti was a good messenger and could work very hard for the Union. The nature of his work in furtherance of the cause of the Union certainly did not make him so prominent as to attract the attention of the Company for an act of victimisation. He has said that he used to try to prevail upon Oriya workers to join the Union and pay subscriptions and he was a member of the Committee of Utkal Club. The Club was not a trade union, and it appears that it was only a social club. On a consideration of all the facts and circumstances I come to the conclusion that Damai Mohanti was discharged in so far as he was strongly suspected by the Company in connection with the theft of sandalwood oil tins and the subsequent retention of the stolen property, and it is not a fact that he took any mentionable part in trade union activities or that the real reason of his discharge was his participation in legitimate trade union activities or that the discharge amounted to an unfair labour practice on the part of the employer.

6. I next proceed to deal with the case of Indramoni Nayak. The Company's case is that he was discharged inasmuch as he was suspected in connection with the incident of theft. As regards the trade union activities, the evidence is that he used to make collections for the Mazdoor Union and guide the Oriya workers in furtherance of the work of the Union. He was admittedly not a member of the Executive Committee of the Union, and the work he is said to have done was certainly not of a prominent nature. His having organised an Utkal Sangha and an Oriya Jatra performance has no bearing on his alleged trade union activities. Sri Nabajyoti Barman has said that Indramoni Nayak was a leader of the Oriyas and no work of the Utkal Sangha and of the Union could be done without him. In spite of this evidence I am not satisfied that Indramoni Nayak's participation in work in the cause of the Union was of such a prominent and effective character as to attract the attention of the Company for an act of victimisation. The Company's case, as I have already stated, is that the reason of the discharge was Indramoni Nayak's suspected complicity in the crime relating to the incident of loss of certain sandalwood oil tins. As regards the evidence relating to Indramoni Nayak's alleged complicity in the affair, there is indeed substantial difference between the case against Indramoni Nayak and that against Damai Mohanti. No statement of Indramoni Nayak appears to have been recorded, and it does not appear that any responsible person questioned him at or about the time of occurrence. The stolen goods were no doubt recovered from the fire brigade store room, one key of which was kept by Indramoni Nayak. But the facts indicate that the articles were removed to that room at the instance of Damai Mohanti who also kept one of the keys. On the night of the 17th May when the articles were being recovered by a responsible officer from the fire brigade store room, Indramoni Nayak was found sleeping quietly in the neighbourhood. It appears to me that there is no incriminating circumstance of a substantial nature with regard to Indramoni Nayak, and the reasons for entertaining suspicion against him as contained in the long report which was drawn up by an officer of the Company later on appear to be of a far-fetched and indirect nature. I do not say that it is improbable that Indramoni Nayak was aware of the existence of stolen property in the room, and I agree that there might be something in his act of staying away from the factory for a certain period. But I am unable to say that there are any adequate grounds for entertaining strong suspicion against him, although there may be some grounds for mere suspicion of an indirect nature. The case against Indramoni Nayak is certainly on a lower level than that against Damai Mohanti, and while the case against Damai Mohanti is based on strong suspicion, that against Indramoni Nayak is based on mere suspicion. I come to the conclusion, therefore, that Indramoni Nayak was discharged on account of the Company's suspicion against him in connection with the incident of loss of sandalwood oil tins and it is not a fact that Indramoni Nayak took any substantial part in trade union activities or that the real cause of his discharge was his participation in legitimate trade union activities or that the order of discharge amounted to an unfair labour practice on the part of the employer.

7. I shall now pass on to consider, in the light of the findings arrived at above, whether the remedies prayed for by the workmen can legitimately be granted by this Tribunal or what remedies can properly be provided. A certain amount of haziness appears to surround the question of remedies to be applied in connection with an industrial dispute arising from circumstances of discharge of workmen. I do not wish to discuss here the aspect of jurisdiction of an Industrial Tribunal to deal with such matters, as that question has not been raised before me on the side of the employers. There is no manner of doubt that the Tribunal has jurisdiction to apply proper remedies, in the interest of peace and social justice, in cases of discharge of workmen. It is one thing, however, to say that the Tribunal has jurisdiction to deal with a matter like this, and it is a different thing to enquire about the manner in which the Tribunal will apply appropriate remedies to meet the circumstances of each case. A pre-eminent question with regard to these cases is whether even having jurisdiction to set aside orders of discharge passed by an employer the Tribunal will direct reinstatement of the discharged workmen in any and every case. It is noticeable that in recent times all kinds of discharge are coming up before the Industrial Tribunals for decision. It is, therefore, useful to try to lay down definite principles which should govern the decision of an Industrial Tribunal in handling cases of discharge. Before I proceed to lay down definite principles as clearly as I can, I have thought it better to make a survey of certain awards given by Tribunals in West Bengal in recent times and by Tribunals in other Provinces. I feel that on making such a survey it will be easier to evolve and lay down the appropriate principles. In the award relating to the Fort Gloster Jute Mills published in the Calcutta Gazette of 4th September 1947, by order No. 365Lab., dated the 25th August 1947, the learned Adjudicator Mr. H. G. Waight I.C.S., in dealing with issue No. 2 on the subject of reinstatement of certain dismissed workers was unable to find that they were dismissed by the exercise of an unfair labour practice on the part of the Company or owing to their participation in legitimate trade union activities, but with regard to some of the workers he came to the finding that they were wrongfully dismissed by the Company by reason of a bona fide mistake on the part of the Company as to their activities, but that the Company could properly discharge them on giving them notice and accordingly the Company was directed to pay to each of the men one month's total wages as damages. The learned Adjudicator in this case gave an award for damages for wrongful dismissal, and was unable to direct any reinstatement, presumably because he could not come to the finding that the workers concerned were dismissed on account of their legitimate trade union activities, or that the order of dismissal amounted to an unfair labour practice on the part of the Company. In the award in the case of Delta Metal Refineries, published in the Calcutta Gazette of 5th August 1948, by Government order No. 2562Lab., dated the 28th July 1948, the learned Adjudicator Sri P. R. Mukherjee came to the definite finding that two workers who were office bearers of the trade union concerned were discharged owing to their trade union activities, and accordingly directed their reinstatement. In the award in the case of Messrs. Charles Abrecht, published in the Calcutta Gazette of 28th October 1948, by Government order No. 3834Lab., dated the 25th October 1948, the learned Adjudicator Sri A. Das Gupta, in dealing with the point No. 10 on the subject of reinstatement of a discharged workman was unable to come to the conclusion that he was discharged owing to his trade union activities or that the termination of his service amounted to an unfair labour practice on the part of the Company, and accordingly declined to make an order of reinstatement. In the award in the case of Grassmore Tea Estate, published by Government order No. 4240Lab., dated the 24th November 1948, the learned Adjudicator Sri H. Banerji, I. C. S., while dealing with the questions of discharge of two employees directed the reinstatement of one of them on the ground that his discharge amounted to an unfair labour practice on the part of the employers, and at the same time declined to direct the reinstatement of the other person inasmuch as it was found that he himself was guilty of unfair labour practice, and no unfair labour practice could be ascribed to the employers. These are some of the awards given in West Bengal which have come to my notice. I may now consider some awards given in other Provinces. In the award relating to the Reay Paper Mills, Mundhwa (Poona), published on page 38 of the Bombay Labour Gazette of September 1945, the learned Adjudicator Mr. Justice Wassoodew came to the finding that the discharged employees concerned had not been victimised for their trade union activities and accordingly declined to direct any reinstatement but ordered certain amounts to be paid as compensation which were agreed to by negotiation with the employers. In the course of his award the learned Adjudicator made the following observations relating to some general principles:—"Before considering the merits of the order of discharge or dismissal, it is necessary to bear in mind certain principles governing the remedy available to the employee who is discharged or dismissed unreasonably or wrongfully. If the discharge was not wrongful the question of reinstatement or compensation does not arise. It is a common place in law that the relationship of an employer and his employee is based upon contract. In consequence the remedy of a servant, who is dismissed wrongfully, that is without just cause or excuse, is founded on breach of contract and he is entitled to claim damage for such wrongful dismissal or discharge. It has been well recognised that a contract of service cannot be specifically enforced against an unwilling party for the relation established by such a contract is so essentially of a personal and confidential character that a specific enforcement thereof cannot be hoped for with ultimate and real success. It is not, generally speaking, in the interest of society that a person, who is not desirous of continuing personal relationship with another should be compelled to do so. Just as a worker cannot be forced to do work, against his will, which will satisfy his employer, the latter cannot be forced to take work from a particular person whom he is not willing to take in his service. An order for reinstatement in invitum of a dismissed servant will not be expedient on the simple ground of want of mutuality of remedies. When the dismissal appears to be unjustified the normal course for an Adjudicator to adopt in such proceedings is argument and persuasion with the employer and I must say in fairness to the Company's advisers that that method has not failed to achieve reasonable success. The alternative remedy of a worker against his wrongful dismissal is in law to claim compensation. He may either treat the contract as rescinded and claim to be paid for the value of the work done and for which he has not been paid and also damages for the pecuniary loss resulting from the wrongful termination of his service. Merely because his feelings were wounded by the manner of his own dismissal or that of the leader of his Union will not affect the question." As I have already said this was not a case in which the discharge was found to have been in consequence of the trade union activities of the persons concerned, and accordingly no question of reinstatement arose and only the question of compensation was considered. In the award in the case of Cooper Engineering, Ltd., published on page 275 of the Bombay Labour Gazette of December 1946, the learned Adjudicator Dewan Bahadur D. G. Kamerkar dealt with a case of 17 discharged persons and having come to the finding that they had been particularly victimised because of their being office bearers of the trade union concerned or of their participation in trade union activities, directed the discharged persons to be reinstated with compensation. In coming to this conclusion the learned Adjudicator took due account of the observations of Mr. Justice Wassoodew in the case of Reay Paper Mills which I have referred to above, and distinguished the case he was handling from the other case by observing as follows:—"I am, of course, mindful of the weight of these observations in their application to a case where a workman is found to have been discharged or dismissed not purely for trade union activities but on grounds of insubordination, instigation on his part to others to break legitimate orders, habitual disorderly behaviour or the doing of acts likely to endanger his own life or the lives of others. But the case of these 17 persons before me stands entirely on a different footing."

8. I shall next refer to the award in the case of the India United Mills, Ltd., Bombay, published on page 335 of the Bombay Labour Gazette of January 1947; in which the learned Adjudicator Sir H. V. Divatia has dealt with the whole position in an elaborate and illuminating manner, in Britain, Australia and the United States of America as well as in this country. In that case it was found that the only reason for the discharge of a particular Engineer was that he was a Vice-President of the trade union and was taking a leading part in its formation and activities, and the discharged employee was directed to be reinstated. The learned Adjudicator came to the conclusion that the discharge of the particular Engineer amounted to an unfair labour practice and the strike of the employees which ensued was provoked by the unfair labour practice on the part of the Company. Accordingly most of the other discharged employees, who were not found to have been guilty of serious misconduct or violence to person or property were directed to be reinstated with compensation. While it is true that the law in India is not the same as that prevailing in Britain, America or Australia, it is pertiment to observe that in dealing with the subject of industrial relations between employers and employees an Industrial Tribunal in this country can legitimately act upon principles of general application drawn from reasonable laws of other countries, in the interest of social justice. In a decision reported in Commonwealth Arbitration Reports, Volume 46, Part II, at page 422, the learned Judge of the Commonwealth Court of Arbitration observed as follows:—"The issue in this case is whether these men were dismissed because they engaged in legitimate union activities. In my opinion, this Court now has power in a proper case to make an award directing an employer to employ a dismissed employee or one whom he has declined to re-engage. This is a special power and is only to be exercised in special circumstances". In another case under the New South Wales Industrial Arbitration Act reported in (1921) Arbitration Reports on page 138, in connection with the case of a Bank clerk who was dismissed ostensibly on account of his refusal to proceed to another branch of the Bank, it was found that the clerk's connection with the formation of the Union was the real, though indirect, cause of his dismissal, and an order of his reinstatement in his employment was made. In course of his award, with reference to different decisions and observations in cases in Britain, America and Australia, Sir H. V. Divatia observes on page 348 as follows:—"I have summarised all these principles of industrial relations at some length to show that the principles, though some of them are still on the legislative anvil in India, are so well recognised in industrially advanced countries that they have come to be regarded as fundamental principles of labour relations. I desire to emphasise here that the discussion of these principles which I have made above is confined to the cases of improper discharge as violating the fundamental principle of the right to organise and to strike because of unfair labour practices by the employer. Every employer has a large discretion in discharging or otherwise punishing his employees for inefficiency, negligence, dishonesty, insubordination or misconduct and so long as that is done in good faith and without any ulterior motive, arbitrary conduct, or unnecessary harshness, his discretion would not be interfered with. (Herbert A. Lien "Labour Law and Relations, page 142.) But the position would be different where the employees' conduct is provoked by the unfair labour practice of the employer himself. It is only in such cases that the principles discussed above would have application". The expression "unfair practice" by an employer has since been defined for the purposes of the Indian Trade Unions Act in section 28K of the Indian Trade Union (Amendment) Act, 1947. Some of the provisions of the new section appear to be on the lines of sections 7, 8, etc., of the National Labour Relations Act of 1935 in the United States of America. Under section 28K the following among others shall be deemed to be unfair practices on the part of an employer, namely:—

(a) To intertere with, restrain, or coerce his workmen in the exercise of their rights to organise, form, join or assist a Trade Union and to engage in concerted activities for the purpose of mutual aid or protection;

(b) to interfere with the formation or administration of any Trade Union or to contribute financial or other support to it;

(c) to discharge, or otherwise discriminate against, any officer of a recognised Trade Union because of his being such officer;

(d) to fail to comply with the provisions of section 28F regarding the rights of recognised Trade Unions to negotiate with the employers.

The expression "unfair labour practice" has not indeed been defined under the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. But this Tribunal will be entitled to formulate general principles for the purposes of dealing with an industrial dispute, with reference to such principles relating to social justice and industrial relations as can be gathered from enactments and observations in awards in this country and in other countries.

9. On a consideration of all the materials which I have surveyed I think I can properly lay down the following principles for my guidance in the matter of dealing with the present cases of discharge:—

(1) An Industrial Tribunal under the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, can exercise much wider powers than an ordinary Court of law.

The powers of an ordinary Court of law are necessarily circumscribed by the limits set by the law as it stands, but the powers of an Industrial Tribunal have no rigidly fixed limits inasmuch as they have to be exercised in the light of equitable principles and in furtherance of peaceful industrial relations and in the interest of social justice.

(2) In a case where the discharge of an employee has been ordered owing to his participation in legitimate trade union activities, or in other words, where the order of discharge amounts to an unfair labour practice on the part of the employer an Industrial Tribunal may direct reinstatement of the discharged employee with or without suitable compensation, although an ordinary Court of law cannot direct reinstatement.

(3) In a case of discharge of an employee, where the discharge does not amount to an unfair labour practice on the part of the employer or the discharge has not been ordered on account of the employee's participation in legitimate trade union activities, but it is found that the employee was dismissed wrongfully, that is without just cause or excuse, or that the order of discharge was made with some ulterior motive or it amounts to arbitrary conduct or unnecessary harshness, an Industrial Tribunal will not ordinarily direct reinstatement of the discharged employee, but may award suitable compensation. An Industrial Tribunal can exercise much wider powers than an ordinary Court of law and is entitled, under appropriate circumstances, to go beyond such terms of contract or Standing Orders and Rules which may be in existence.

(4) Even in cases of discharge not covered by (2) and (3), for instance, under circumstances of closure of the concern, retrenchment, etc., an Industrial Tribunal is entitled to exercise its powers in the interest of social justice and peaceful industrial relations, and may award suitable compensation, such as an ordinary Court of law would not be entitled to do.

10. After having enunciated the guiding principles I shall proceed to apply them to the concrete cases of discharge which I am handling, in the light of the findings of fact which I have already arrived at. I shall take up the cases one by one.

Taking the case of Sarajit Bose first, I refer to my findings in paragraph 4. I have found that under the particular circumstances it cannot be said that the real cause of Sarajit Bose's discharge was his participation in legitimate trade union activities, or that the order of discharge amounted to an unfair labour practice on the part of the employer, and that the reasons of his discharge were his seriously irregular habits and acts of negligence and indiscipline. Applying the principles I have enunciated above I hold that in this case no order of reinstatement would be justified. Sarajit Bose is of course entitled to his wages and allowances up to 10th November 1947, the date of his discharge. Other emoluments like bonus, etc., to which he may be entitled under any award or otherwise shall also be paid to him. The only question that remains to be considered is whether any compensation should, under the particular circumstances, be awarded. It is no doubt true that the employer was entitled to enforce regularity and discipline and to order the discharge of an employee who was guilty of seriously irregular habits and acts of negligence and indiscipline. But it is difficult to say that a lighter punishment in the case of an employee who had served the Company for over 13 years would necessarily be inappropriate. It is not indeed for an Industrial Tribunal to measure the degree of the punishment, and some allowance must necessarily be given for different opinions which may be held by different employers under the same set of circumstances. What strikes me in the present case is that this old employee might have been gracefully given adequate notice of his discharge. I find from rule 11 of the Service Rules adopted by the Company that under ordinary circumstances 15 days' notice or half month's pay in lieu thereof would be required and the Company would be entitled to dismiss an employee without such notice in cases of misconduct, serious negligence, undesirable character, or wilful disobedience. The rule is indeed there. But as I have indicated in my enunciation of the guiding principles this Tribunal is not bound by the rules of the Company. In my opinion Sarajit Bose should be given a compensation to the extent of his wages and dearness allowance or other allowances for one month in addition to the emoluments which I have already mentioned. I make my award accordingly so far as Sarajit Bose is concerned.

I pass on now to the case of Damai Mohanti and refer to my findings in paragraph 5. I have found that Damai Mohanti was strongly suspected in connection with the theft of sandal wood oil tins and the subsequent retention of the stolen propetry, and he cannot be said to have taken any mentionable part in trade union activities and it cannot also be said that the real reason of his discharge was his participation in legitimate trade union activities, or that the discharge amounted to an unfair labour practice on the part of the employer. Under the particular circumstances there can be no question of reinstatement of Damai Mohanti. I agree that there were good grounds for strongly suspecting this man, and the Company was justified in losing confidence in him and in considering it unsafe to retain him in employment. In dealing with a case like this it is not necessary that a charge should be proved beyond all reasonable doubt as in a criminal trial, and reasonable latitude must be given to an employer to deal with an employee in whom he has lost all confidence, and an employer cannot be compelled to retain the services of an employee against whom he is entitled to entertain strong suspicion. Damai Mohanti should, of course, be paid his wages and other allowances or emoluments to which he may be ordinarily entitled up to the date of his discharge. It appears that he served the Company for a little over three years. As regards the question of payment of compensation I do not think that this is a fit case for giving any such direction. I make my award accordingly so far as Damai Mohanti is concerned.

I come now to the case of Indramoni Nayak and refer to my findings in paragraph 6. I have found that it cannot be said that the real cause of this employee's discharge was his participation in legitimate trade union activities or that the order of discharge amounted to an unfair labour practice on the part of the employer, and that he was discharged owing to the fact that he was suspected, though not strongly, in connection with the theft of sandal wood oil tins and the subsequent retention of the stolen property. In view of the principles which I have laid down there can be no order of reinstatement. There were some grounds of suspicion against the man, though I do not see that there was much room for strong suspicion. I have already observed that the reasons of suspicion were of a far-fetched and indirect character. It appears that Indromoni Nayak served the Company for eight years, which is a fairly long period. Under the particular circumstances I am of opinion that he should be allowed some compensation for loss of employment. I, therefore, direct that the wages and other allowances or emoluments to which he may ordinarily be entitled up to the date of his discharge shall be paid to Indramoni Nayak and he shall also be paid compensation to the extent of his wages and allowances for one month.

S. N. MODAK,

ORDER.

No. 68Lab.—6th January 1949.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 3806Lab., dated the 23rd October 1948, industrial dispute between Messrs. Movie Academy and Production, Ltd., 45, Bowbazar Street, Calcutta, and their employees in connection with the case of Sri Dhirendra Nath Bhattacharyya, 2, Chhatu Babu Lane, Entally, Calcutta, was referred for adjudication to Sri P. R. Mukherjee, Additional District Judge;

And whereas the said Sri P. R. Mukherjee, Additional District Judge, has given the award as shown in the annexure hereto;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (2) of section 15 read with sub-section (3) of section 19 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased to make the following order and to direct with reference to section 17 of the said Act that the award be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

The award made by the said Sri P. R. Mukherjee, Additional District Judge, shall bind the Company and their workmen aforesaid as specified therein and shall remain in force for a period of one month with effect from the date of its publication.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Movie Academy Production, Ltd., 45, Bowbazar Street, Calcutta, and their employees in connection with the case of Sri Dhirendra Nath Bhattacharyya, 2, Chhatu Babu Lane, Entally, Calcutta.

PRESENT: SRI P. R. MUKHERJEE, Judge, Industrial Tribunal.

AWARD.

By Government Order No. 3806Lab., dated the 23rd October 1948, the above dispute was referred to me for adjudication as a Tribunal constituted under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947.

Notices were issued on the Company as also on the worker and the latter submitted a written statement but the Company did not appear though notice in Form "F" was taken by one of the Partners of the Company from the Tribunal Office. The Company was asked to file written statement by three separate notices but they did not appear to file written statement. I have a shrewd suspicion that this Company was intentionally avoiding the Tribunal and was deliberately delaying the matter. I, therefore, am of opinion that the Company being fully cognisant of the claim of the worker had absented itself from the Tribunal without sufficient reason.

The case of the worker is that he had been appointed as a senior Supervisor in this Company on a monthly salary of Rs. 95 on 15th January 1948. Unfortunately the wife of the employee was attacked with smallpox on 3rd February 1948 and the employee had been asked by the Company to go on quarantine leave. Accordingly the employee went on leave since 7th February 1948 and his mother was attacked with smallpox on 20th February 1948 and the Company by letter, dated 22nd February 1948, granted him leave on half average pay which was later on modified by converting the leave to one without pay. Whatever that may be, on expiry of the leave, the worker joined with a medical certificate from the Health Officer, Calcutta Corporation, on 13th March 1948 and was allowed to work. On all a sudden on the next day, this worker was unceremoniously dismissed from the service stating that he is inefficient. The worker at the time of hearing pressed only the claim of compensation and not reinstatement.

Issue.

Can the worker get compensation as claimed?

Decision.

On reading the entire file of the Labour Commissioner as also the ex parte evidence of the worker which was not challenged in any way by the Company by any written statement, I am firmly of opinion that this worker had been unjustly and unceremoniously dismissed from the service without any just cause. I also find that the attitude of this Company before the Labour Commissioner was anything but satisfactory. In a joint conference held before the Labour Commissioner, the Company had agreed to consider the question of reinstatement or in lieu thereof payment of compensation for six months, but later on went back in a letter flouting the authority of the Labour Commissioner in an insulting manner stating "that the Company is not accountable to the Labour Commissioner for the termination order imposed upon their temporary employees".

Whatever that may be this Tribunal has full jurisdiction to compel the Company to implement its award and certainly the Company is accountable to the Tribunal, if not to the Labour Commissioner for the gross and manifest injustice done to the worker for dismissing him without any show of justice. Principles of social justice, equity and good sense strongly demand that this worker should be fully compensated. I would have been inclined to order reinstatement of this worker forthwith in the service of the Company but inasmuch as the worker himself does not choose to have any further connection with this Company who has got no sense of decency in dealing with an employee, I make the following

Award.

The Company must pay six months' full pay at the rate of Rs. 95 per month to the worker within one month from the date of publication of this award.

The award is to come into force on such date as the Government may be pleased to notify.

Office of the Accountant-General, West Bengal

NOTIFICATION.

No. FDI/200/1822.—25th December 1948.—Due to circumstances created by the partition, and also with a view to improve the standard of maintenance of Provident Fund accounts, it has been found necessary to reconstitute certain series of Provident Fund ledger cards and assign new index numbers to subscribers. In order that the new numbers allotted may be communicated to all subscribers at the places where they are stationed at present, all heads of offices (Central and Provincial) under audit of Accountant-General, West Bengal, are requested to furnish a complete list of the subscribers borne on their establishments (gazetted as well as non-gazetted) to this office within a fortnight from the date of issue of this notification in the gazette. The list should be prepared in the form given below.

2. The following points should be particularly borne in mind in preparing the lists:—

(1) The details furnished must be absolutely correct. The present account number of each subscriber should preferably be verified by comparison with that shown in the Annual Statement of some previous year in the possession of the subscriber.

(2) The lists should preferably be typewritten with enough space between lines. If written by hand, the writing should be clear and legible.

(3) The names of subscribers who have discontinued subscription as well as those on leave or under orders of transfer must also be included.

(4) If the establishment contains subscribers to more than one Provident Fund, there should be a separate list of subscribers to each fund, e.g., General Provident Fund and Contributory Provident Fund.

On receipt of the lists, this office will fill in column 7 and return them to the senders. Thereafter, the new index numbers should invariably be quoted in the Provident Fund schedules attached to pay bills.

3. The following instructions should be carefully observed in preparing the Provident Fund schedules in future:—

(1) The correct account number should always be quoted.

(2) All figures and words should be written clearly and legibly, and in proper column.

(3) When a schedule contains several names, they should be arranged in the serial order of their account numbers.

4. A highly mechanised process has been introduced for the posting of Provident Fund ledger accounts. There are thousands of such accounts to be maintained. The smooth and swift working of the system depends to a very large extent on the accuracy and completeness of the schedules furnished. Even slight defects in the schedules hold up the posting of ledger cards, and thereby cause much inconvenience to the subscribers themselves besides giving rise to a lot of correspondence. For this reason, the necessity for preparation of the schedules correctly is impressed upon all concerned.

Award.

By Government of West Bengal order No. 2855Lab., dated the 17th August 1948, this dispute was referred to me for arbitration. The well-known Lily Biscuit Company of which Lily Barley Mills, Ltd., and P. Sett & Co., Ltd., are allied concerns, came into existence about 50 years ago. Their workmen joined the Trade Union Movement so late as in 1946 and in that year the Lily Biscuit Company Workers' Union was formed. Very shortly after its formation the workmen went into strike on two successive occasions and both the strikes were amicably settled. Things went on peacefully for nearly 18 months until trouble started again over the dismissal of two of the workmen, Dukhi Sow and Basu Nath Bera. The Workmen's Union on 24th March 1948 submitted a charter of demands. The Labour Commissioner and his assistants started conciliation proceedings which unfortunately proved abortive due, according to the Company, to the "underhand tactics" of Sri Naba Jyoti Burman, the Working President of the Union, but according to Sri Naba Jyoti Burman's version, due to "cruel victimisation, unfair labour practice and above all a feudal rule of the Company". According to the Union, further grievances arose. A workman of the Biscuit Company named Sri Santosh Das who was suffering from a "harmless and simple" form of leprosy was dismissed from service on that account. One or two other workmen were also dismissed by the Company "without any reason", according to the Union, Rampati Roy, an upcountry workman, was transferred from the "Mixing Department" to the "Machine Department" on a filmsy pretext, according to the Union, "on the report of one Sambhu Patial who was once found guilty of theft and was detected by Rampati Roy" and another workman. The Company called upon Rampati Roy to explain his conduct as to why he refused to carry out orders, but Rampati who informed the Union about all this, did not submit any explanation. The Company on 26th June 1948 served a notice on Rampati Roy to the effect that if he did not join the Machine Department within the time specified, his services would be dispensed with. According to the Company, Rampati Roy refused to join the department abovementioned and was dismissed, but according to the Union Rampati Roy, while actually present in the Machine Department at 7 a.m. on 28th June 1948 "was roughly handled by the Company and was locked out". It is incidentally to be mentioned that although Rampati Roy did not himself submit any explanation for his failure to carry out the orders of the Company, the Union in a letter to the Company on 26th June 1948 "very strongly replied" on the subject matter. I shall have occasion to deal with this "very strong" letter.

On 28th June 1948 the workmen "very much resented the inhuman and undignified attitude of the Company as manifest in the matter of Rampati Roy" and after having entered into the factory "staged a stay-in strike". The stay-in strikers assumed an attitude, which, according to the Company, became alarming to the management and so, police had to be called. The Officer-in-charge came into the factory in the evening and "asked the workmen to resume their duties as usual on the next day and promised a final settlement by 8 a.m." (paragraph 30 of the Union's written statement). On 29th June 1948 the Officer-in-charge did not turn up, and the workmen who had come into the factory at the usual hour (7 a.m.) "informed the Company at 9 a.m. that if Sri Rampati Roy was not allowed to join his duties immediately or any other amicable settlement not arrived by 10 a.m. the workmen would go on a stay-in strike again from 10 a.m." which they did (vide paragraph 31 of Union's written statement). The Company, on the other hand, understood from the discussions and the attitude of the workmen on the evening of 28th June 1948 that the workmen would resume their normal duties the following day at the usual hour and go on working normally, while their disputes would be amicably settled. The Company was reassured of this when on the following day, i.e., 29th June 1948, the workmen entered the factory at the usual hour, and the machinery for mixing flour and water for the manufacture of biscuits was accordingly set in motion. Nearly forty maunds of flour were then mixed up with water, but as there was no work, this large quantity of essential foodstuff was totally wasted. Meanwhile, the Company being alarmed at the attitude of the workmen had issued a circular calling upon its workmen to sign a bond, the terms of which I shall presumably discuss, and promulgated an order that if any workmen refused to sign the bond within seven days they would not be admitted within the factory premises (vide Company's circular No. 62, dated 28th June 1948). The same order was repeated in Company's circular No. 63, dated 29th June 1948, and in another circular (Circular No. 64) it was clearly mentioned that those workmen who refused to sign the bond on or before 7th July 1948 "would be presumed to have voluntarily resigned the Company's job without notice" and that "the legal consequences of such resignation without notice shall follow". Only about 26 workmen signed the bond and were allowed to go on with their duties; but the rest of the workmen numbering 95 refused to sign the bond and were dismissed by the Company on 7th July 1948.

Labour officials tried to settle their disputes peacefully but failed. According to the workmen, the Company carried on a lock-out from 30th June 1948. The matter was reported to Government and eventually the Government of West Bengal by order No. 2579Lab., dated 29th July 1948, appointed a Tribunal for adjudication of the dispute.

The following issues were framed:—

(1) (a) Whether there was any lock-out from 30th June 1948, and, if so, whether it was illegal, unjustifiable and amounted to an unfair labour practice? Whether the workmen are entitled to their wages for the period commencing from 30th June 1948?

(b) Whether Rampati Roy was locked-out on 28th June 1948, and, if so, whether this lock-out was illegal, unjustifiable and amounted to unfair labour practice?

(2) (a) Whether the discharge of the workmen referred to in paragraph I (21 and 25) of the written statement filed on behalf of the workmen is without justification and amounted to unfair labour practice and/or victimisation?

(b) Whether these workmen should be reinstated with retrospective effect from the date of their discharge?

(c) Whether the services of these workmen should be deemed to be continuous and without any break, and, if so, what wages these workmen should be given for the period during which they were unemployed?

(3) What should be the basic wages of the different categories of workmen?

(4) What should be the dearness allowance of the different categories of workmen?

(5) Overtime payment.

(6) Whether the management should grant to the workmen 50 tins of damaged biscuits for distribution through the Union per week?

(7) Security of service.

(8) Whether Pundit Shau and Haridas, two workmen of the Company, are entitled to Puja Bonus?

(9) Whether the workmen of the Barley Department should be supplied free soap for washing purposes?

(10) From what date the award should take effect?

(11) Whether the award should be applicable to all the workmen under the management or to the exclusion of some of the workmen, and, if so, of whom?

(12) If there was any unfair practices by the majority of the workmen (since discharged) and by some Union leaders between the dates 26th March 1948 and 7th July 1948.

During the hearing of arguments, both parties talked about a compromise, and accordingly we all sat together and took up all the issues one by one, except Issues Nos. 1(a) and 12 which were essentially questions for the Tribunal to decide. It is to be regretted that the parties failed to come to a compromise on that occasion. As I was ordered by Government at that stage to take over the duties of the Commissioner, Workmen's Compensation. I returned the file of this case to the Government with a note to the effect that in the interest of speedy disposal, the dispute might be sent to some other Tribunal, if the Government so pleased. But the file was again returned by the Government to me with the direction that I should take up the case as and when I find time and dispose it off as early as possible. Accordingly I started to re-hear the matter and this time, I am very glad to say, all the issues except Issue Nos. 1(a) and 12 have been settled amicably and in a spirit of good-will between the parties, who left Issue Nos. 1(a) and 12 to be decided by me. The terms of the settlement as agreed upon by both parties are set forth below and these are to form part of my award:—

Terms of Agreement between the Management and Workmen of Lily Biscuit Co., Ltd., Lily Barley Mills and P. Sett & Co., Ltd.

Issue No. 1—Supplementary.

In view of the fact that a settlement has been arrived at between the parties, and as a gesture of peace, the management hereby undertakes to employ with effect from 1st January 1949 55 of the dismissed workmen of the management's choice, and also to re-employ the rest of the workmen as and when a vacancy arises, on the terms and conditions of service herein agreed upon (vide Issue Nos. 3, 4 and 7). It is also undertaken on behalf of the management that the principle of retrenchment, "last come first go" shall not apply to the case of these workmen.

Issue No. 1(b).

In view of the fact that peaceful relations are going to be established, the Union, as a gesture of peace, does not press for reinstatement of Rampati Roy out of respect for the wishes of the management, and the management, though convinced that Rampati Roy was justly dismissed, yet in answer to the gesture of peace and in consideration of the hardship that Rampati Roy may have experienced for his own recklessness agrees to pay him an ex gratia payment of Rs. 70 only.

Issue Nos. 2(a), (b) and (c).

In view of the fact that the management has already compromised with Pankaj Bhor, the Union does not press his case.

As regards Santosh Das, in view of the fact that he is suffering from leprosy, his discharge was justified whether the disease was contagious or not.

The case of Khagen Das II was not pressed in view of the fact that his case was not included in the charter of demands.

This answers Issue Nos. 2(a), (b) and (c) completely.

Issue Nos. 3 and 4.

There will be finally one category of workmen, although they work in different sections. The management will propose as soon as possible, say within one month of this day, a detailed list of duties of men engaged in the different sections and have it approved by the labour authorities. Workmen will have to be guided and governed by that detailed list of duties, and refusal to carry out any of those duties on the part of a workman working in that particular section will amount to insubordination punishable with dismissal.

The daily basic wages of a workman will be Re. 1-1 minimum and Re. 1-7 maximum, the exact amount to be paid by the management on consideration of a workman's efficiency, merit and other qualities. The management's discretion in this matter will be final. Those workmen who are already getting higher wages shall not be affected in any manner by this provision.

Dearness allowance will be paid at Rs. 21 per month to each workman irrespective of his basic wages.

The basic wages and dearness allowance mentioned above shall come into effect from the dates when they are taken back.

Issue No. 5.

Overtime payment shall be strictly in accordance with Factory Rules.

Issue No. 6.

The claim of damaged biscuits is waived and the management agrees to sell at the wholesale rate to each workman 8 lbs. of biscuits per month if stock permitted (the management's discretion in this matter being final) and if the price of tins and biscuits be deposited in advance. The price of returnable tins will be refunded if the tins be returned in good condition.

Issue No. 7.

Promotion and transfer of workmen shall be entirely at the discretion of the management, but in case of promotion other things being equal, the management will give due consideration to seniority.

In case of discharge, the management must give an opportunity to the workman for an explanation and give him at least seven days' notice from the date of notice. If the Union wants to be heard, an opportunity must be given to the Union to represent the workman's case within the time allowed to the workman.

In case of suspension, the simple principle as in the case of a discharge, applies, but the time limit is 24 hours only.

Retrenchment.

The management's right to retrench workmen as exigencies require on seven days' notice from the date of notice is recognised, but the management shall always follow the rule; "last come first go". In case of future recruitment, the discharged workmen shall get priority. The management shall give an opportunity to the Union to be heard within the period of seven days from the date of notice.

Issue No. 8.

Not pressed by the Union.

Issue No. 9.

Workmen of the Barley Department shall be supplied free soap for washing purposes, but no soap should be taken away from the department.

Issue No. 10.

This is governed by section 19(3) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. The award shall come into operation on such date as may be prescribed by the Government of West Bengal.

Issue No. 11.

The award shall be applicable to those who are or become workmen under the management.

Two issues are left for my adjudication, Issue Nos. 1(a) and 12. Essentially in their nature, they are issues which ought to be best left for decision by the Tribunal, for it is indeed awkward, if not impossible, for the contending parties to come to an agreement that there was an illegal lock-out or an illegal strike or that any of the parties was guilty of an unfair labour practice. Both parties feel very strongly on these points. I take up both the issues together for the sake of convenience.

Issue Nos. 1(a) and 12.

I have already recalled the facts at the beginning of my award and given the version of the contending parties. A "lock-out" as defined in section 2(l) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, means "the closing of a place of employment, or the suspension of work, or the refusal by an employer to continue to employ any number of persons employed by him". In the present case, circular No. 62, dated 28th June 1948, issued by the Company is unambiguous in its terms. It says in effect that as the workmen entered the factory premises but did not do any work during the whole day on 28th June 1948, they would have to give, on the following day, a written undertaking that on entering into the factory premises, they would work regularly in accordance with the directions of the management and those workmen who would refuse to give that written undertaking would not be allowed to enter into the factory. So it means "the closing of a place of employment" by an employer, though on the condition of refusal on the part of the workmen to give that written undertaking. In my view, the definition of a "lock-out" applies equally whether the closing of the place of employment is conditional or unconditional. I, therefore, hold that there was a lock-out on 30th June 1948 when the management enforced for the first time its order promulgated in circular No. 62 of 28th June 1948.

Was this lock-out illegal, unjustifiable and did it amount to an unfair labour practice?

Its legality has been assailed by Sri Pal on behalf of workmen on two grounds, viz., (1) that without discharging the workmen, the management was trying to impose something, not in the original contract, that is, a written bond, in place of the verbal contract, which amounted to a repudiation of the original verbal contract, and (2) that conciliation proceedings were pending on 30th June 1948 and that Government order No. 2699Lab., dated 5th August 1948, last paragraph, also made the continuation of that lock-out illegal. The substitution of a written bond in place of an original verbal contract is not ipso facto illegal. There is nothing in law to prevent the parties from implementing their verbal agreement later on by a written agreement. Every day in the business world a proposal and acceptance tacitly agreed upon at first verbally by parties are later on set down in writing for the sake of additional safety and solemnity. But it has been argued that the bond was a repudiation of the original verbal contract and therefore illegal. The bond is a very brief one and its English translation is set forth below:—

To the Manager, Lily Biscuit Factory.

SIR,

I am entering into the factory premises on giving an undertaking (প্রতিশ্রুতি) to work in the factory in accordance with rules (যথাবিধানে) and under the directions of yourself and others of the management. If having entered into the factory premises I do not work according to your orders, I am prepared to take any punishment to which I shall be legally liable (আইন সঙ্গতভাবে আমি যে কোন শাস্তি লইতে প্রস্তুত আছি).

Signature or thumb impression of workman.

There is nothing in the bond reproduced above which, even to the most prejudiced observer, can appear as a "repudiation of the original verbal contract". This is in fact a reiteration of the original contract. Nor can the punishment clause be interpreted as an innovation, because the Standing Orders of the Company to which a reference will be presently made and which were already in operation do prescribe punishment such as dismissal in certain events. Nor can it be said that the proposed bond in any way restricted the right of workmen to strike inasmuch as the bond would only control their action after they had entered into the factory premises and not before. They were at liberty to have gone on strike and refused to enter the factory. This they did not choose to do. They entered the factory premises ostensibly to work, and then would stay in without doing any work. This the bond wanted to prevent. I accordingly find that the workmen failed to prove that the bond was illegal in any way. The lock-out does not appear to me to be illegal on the first ground urged. The first ground therefore fails.

As regards the second ground urged, there was some controversy before me as to whether conciliation proceedings were actually pending on the material date, viz., 30th June 1948, or whether they had already been concluded. But it is immaterial in the present case whether conciliation proceedings were pending or not. Section 22 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, which in sub-section (c) prohibits strikes and lock-outs during the pendency of conciliation proceedings applies to "public utility service" in section 2(n) of the Act, it is quite clear (and the fact is not disputed) that the biscuit and allied companies did not constitute "public utility service".

Section 23(b) prohibits strikes and lock-outs generally during the pendency of proceedings before a Tribunal and two months after the conclusion of such proceedings. Section 10(3) of the Act enables the appropriate Government by order to prohibit the continuance of any strike or lock-out which may be in existence on the date of the reference of the dispute to a Board or a Tribunal. The Government order referred to above did as a matter of fact prohibit this.

But the question is: Was there any lock-out in existence on the date of the Government reference, i.e., on 5th August 1948? By its circular No. 64, dated 29th June 1948, the management promulgated the order that if any workman failed to give the written undertaking in question before 7th July 1948, the management would proceed on the assumption (এই কথা ধরিয়া লওয়া হইবে) that those workmen had voluntarily resigned without notice (স্বেচ্ছায় বিনা নোটিশে ফাক্টরীর কাজ ছাড়িয়া দিয়াছেন) The management dismissed thoseworkmen on 7th July 1948 because they had refused to give the written undertaking demanded.

Was this dismissal legal? I shall presently deal with the question of its justifiability. As to its legality, the matter is simple. The circular No. 64 partly quoted above went on to say (with regard to those workmen who refused to give the undertaking) "the Company would have no liability after 7th July. Those workmen will have to bear the entire legal consequences of quitting their jobs without notice". The workmen deliberately and with their eyes open refused to sign the bond and allowed the period of seven days to lapse. They cannot object if legal consequences follow. Under rule 8 of the Standing Orders which was admittedly in force at the time, "absence without leave for more than seven days shall render an employee liable to dismissal without notice and without compensation in lieu of notice unless he offers explanation to the full satisfaction of the Factory Manager". The notice was promulgated on the 28th and 29th June. The majority of the workmen refused to sign the bond even when the period prescribed had expired on 7th July. According to circular No. 64 this was tantamount to absence without notice. From 28th and 29th June up to 7th July there was absence of more than seven days and thus they were legally dismissed. Looked again from the point of view of misconduct, the workmen were wilfully disobedient and insubordinate in the matter of carrying out a perfectly legal order and accordingly under rule 15 of the Standing Orders —"Misconduct of a Major Type"— read with rule 16 "Penalty for Misconduct", they were legally dismissed. Sri Pal, learned Counsel for the workmen, argued that under rule 14 "Discharge and Resignation" of the Standing Orders above referred to, there should "ordinarily" be 15 days' notice, whereas in the present case there was only 7 days' notice. But Sri J. M. Bose for the Company argued that it was not a case of ordinary discharge or resignation, but a very extraordinary one, and so seven days' notice was quite adequate for the purpose. With this view I agree.

Wilful disobedience of a lawful order amounts, in the absence of circumstances to justify a contrary view, to misconduct. The order must be lawful for such kind of service which the servant originally undertook to perform. From the reported decisions in Pandurang vs. Jairamdas (1924), 82 I.C. 727, Alexander Mackenzie vs. Himalaya Assurance Co., Ltd. (1925), 30 C.W.N. 440, Alexandre Bouzouroa vs. The Ottoman Bank (1930), 124 I.C., P.C., Middleton vs. Playfair (1923), A.I.R. 1925 Cal. 87 and a number of other cases, the principle can be gathered that disobedience, insolence, insubordination, etc., are misconduct and may render the servant liable to instant dismissal. There is no fixed rule of law defining the degree of misconduct which will justify a dismissal, but the misconduct must be such as is inconsistent with the due and faithful discharge of the servant's duties. The question is one of fact and degree depending on the circumstances of each case. It has also been held that if a master can show that he has a good cause for dismissing his servant, he may dismiss him notwithstanding that the contract or agreement between them is for a fixed period, and it is not necessary for him to go through the form of suing for cancellation of the agreement.

Therefore, in the circumstances of the present case, I have to hold that the dismissal was perfectly legal.

I have next to consider whether the lock-out and for the matter of that the dismissal were justifiable or not and whether this amounted to an unfair labour practice or not.

The charge of unfair labour practice may at once be dispensed with. "Unfair practice by employers" is defined in section 28K of the Indian Trade Unions Act, 1926, and falls into five categories. No argument was advanced before me on behalf of the workmen that the conduct of the employer on any occasion fell into any of those five categories.

I have already held that the lock-out and the dismissal of the workmen were legal. It may then be asked, why should the question of justification arise? I may refer in this connection to the observations made by His Lordship, the Chief Justice in a very recent case. (In the matter of an application and in the matter of the Indian Paper Pulp Company, Ltd., on 24th September 1948.) "That an industrial dispute might exist though the employers were legally entitled to do what they did is clearly recognised in a recent case decided by the House of Lords in England, namely, National Association of Local Government Officers vs. Bolton Corporation (1943) A.C. 166". His Lordship further observed: "The law of Master and Servant allows a master to dispense with the services of his servant on giving him such notice as the servant is in law entitled to receive or wages in lieu of such notice..... It may be that the employers in strict law entitled to do what they did, but even so, there might well be a dispute concerning their right to dismiss in the circumstances. The workmen might contend that in the circumstances existing when these dismissals took place, the employers should not have acted as they did and should not have relied on their strict legal rights. The workmen might well contend that it should be a term of the employment that in such circumstances, dismissals should not take place and that their contracts of service should be altered accordingly". In the course of the same decision, His Lordship went on to say: "Mr. Chaudhuri contended that as the Tribunal has to adjudicate on a dispute, it can only do so according to law. It appears to me that if the Tribunal could only decide disputes according to the law of Master and Servant, it would cease to have any importance whatsoever as a Tribunal for the settlement of industrial disputes. If the Tribunal can only act in accordance with law, then it could not make an award in the commonest of all industrial disputes, namely, a dispute relating to wages". Finally His Lordship observed: "In my judgment the Industrial Tribunals set up under the Industrial Disputes Act are set up for the purpose of arriving at a just and honourable settlement of disputes between employers and workmen..... If a dispute cannot be settled by agreement, it is referred to a Tribunal for adjudication, and it appears to me that what the Tribunal has to do is to decide what are fair and just terms upon which the dispute should be settled". Hence the question of justification arises.

If in ordinary circumstances, the management taking objection to the conduct of the workmen insisted on their signing the bond, the terms of which merely reiterated those of the previous verbal agreement, and if on the failure on the part of the workmen to sign the bond within the time specified therein, they were dismissed, I would not as a Tribunal, be inclined to hold that the employers' action was fair and just, though undoubtedly it was strictly legal. I would rather hold that the imposition of the bond in those ordinary circumstances was not strictly necessary, was irritating and humiliating to a degree and that the consequent failure to sign ought not in fairness and justice entail dismissal, because that would be going too far. If, for example, a workman has been guilty of ordinary or minor latches, such as leaving the door of his particular department open, although it was his duty to leave it shut, and if being called upon to sign a bond to the effect that he would never in future leave the door open, he refuses to sign the bond as he thinks that this is unnecessarily humiliating, and is dismissed in consequence, I would, as a Tribunal, call the action of the management palpably unfair and unjust. But the facts and circumstances in the present case are entirely different. They are far from being ordinary or trivial. The workmen had a grievance,—let me assume it to be a genuine grievance,—that one of them had been wrongly dismissed. They were quite at liberty to protest in a rightful manner, to pass resolutions demanding the reinstatement of that workman, and even to go on strike in a regular manner to enforce their demand. This they did not choose to do. Instead they entered the factory premises on 28th June 1948 at the usual hour of attendance, giving the impression that they were going to attend to their duties normally. Then having occupied their respective places in the factory, they staged what is known as a "stay-in-strike". They assumed a threatening attitude later on in the day and police had to be sent for. Before the Officer-in-charge of the police-station, the workmen agreed to resume their duties as usual on the next day, and the management as well as the Officer-in-charge agreed that justice would be done to Rampati Roy, the dismissed workman. On the following day, 29th June 1948, the workmen entered the factory premises at the usual hour and occupied their respective places, but did not do any work. They demanded (to quote from their written statement, paragraph 31) "at 9 a.m. that if Sri Rampati Roy was not allowed to join his duties immediately or any other amicable settlement not arrived at by 10 a.m. the workmen will be under the painful obligation to go on a 'stay-in-strike' again from 10 a.m. of that day". The management had believed earlier from the attitude of the workmen that they had come to work and under its direction as much as 40 maunds of flour had been mixed with water with the help of an electrical appliance. As a result of the workmen's sudden resolve to go on a stay-in-strike 40 maunds of dough was completely wasted and later on had to be thrown away as stinking garbage. Now the demand of the workmen that "Rampati Roy was to join his duties immediately or any other amicable settlment arrived at by 10 a.m." was a thoroughly unreasonable demand. No better proof of this can be given than what both parties have now agreed upon compromise with regard to Issue No. 1(b) above. This Rampati Roy was guilty of flagrant violation of the rules and of gross disobedience and insubordination. He flouted more than once the management's order to show cause and was very rightly dismissed. He would not carry out his master's order of transfer. He would not show cause when called upon to do so as to why he did not carry out that order. He would not show cause when called upon to do so as to why he should not be dismissed. What could the management do with such a man? What could any management in the world do with such a man but to dismiss him? And yet the misguided workmen demanded the immediate reinstatement of such a man or some other amicable settlement (which must be considered to mean an equally exorbitant and unreasonable demand) failing which they staged what is strongly suspected to be a preconcerted course of action and not only caused huge loss to the Company but also a huge loss to the community, of essential foodstuff to the extent of about 40 maunds of flour. There was no knowing and no guarantee that the recalcitrant workmen would not go on repeating their conduct from day to day. No employer in the world can allow this state of affairs to continue without taking adequate and reasonable steps to stop this. No community in the world can tolerate such huge wastage of essential foodstuff from day to day. Therefore justice and fairness demanded that there should be a guarantee against its repetition by those misguided workmen. The insistence that the workmen should give a written undertaking that if they entered into the factory premises they should do their normal work was perfectly just, fair and honourable in the circumstances of the case. In my view the workmen cannot justifiably and in fairness contend that in the circumstances existing when the dismissals took place, the employers should not have acted as they did. The workmen cannot contend in fairness and justice that it should be a term of the employment that in such circumstances notwithstanding the fact that enormous losses were being caused to the employer and the community by their passive resistance within the factory premises, dismissals should not take place and that their contracts of service should be altered accordingly.

This conduct of the workmen must not be confused with an ordinary and regular strike. In an ordinary regular strike the management is not wilfully misguided and taken by surprise, but is unequivocally warned that workmen would not work, so that the management might find as best as it could. In that case the unnecessary wastage of the essential commodity might easily be avoided.

I, therefore, hold that in the circumstances of the case the lock-out was not only legal, but fully justifiable, and that it did not amount to any unfair labour practice. The workmen were justly dismissed with effect from 30th June 1948 and they are not entitled to any wages from this date.

Issue No. 12.

As regards this issue, I do not think, it will be necessary for me to go into details. The argument has been levelled against strikes of other dates, but I shall confine myself to the strikes on the material dates, viz., 28th and 29th of June 1948. Section 28(J) of the Indian Trade Unions Act, 1926, gives a summary of unfair practices by recognised Trade Unions and the taking part in an irregular strike is one of such unfair labour practices. "Irregular Strike" is defined in section 2(l) of the Indian Trade Unions Act and means an illegal strike or a strike declared by a Trade Union in contravention of its rules referred to in clause (d) of section 28D. It was admitted on behalf of the workmen that under the rules of their Union, 14 days' notice for the strike is essential. When asked to point out the resolution authorising this strike, the Working President of the Union drew my attention to a resolution, dated 7th May 1948. In that resolution there was nothing about Rampati Roy. The resolution was that in protest of the "Jabardasti" of the management, the workmen had resolved to strike (জবরদস্তিমূলক কার্যকলাপের প্রতিবাদে). A second resolution, dated 25th June 1948, speaks about taking steps for the first time about the grievances of Rampati Roy. It is quite clear to me that the first resolution is a very vague one and cannot be taken to mean an authority for the strike of 28th and 29th June 1948; and the second resolution, dated 25th June 1948, was passed only three days before the actual stay-in-strike was resorted to. In these circumstances I hold that the strikes on both the dates were irregular, and would make the consequent lock-out legal.

It is to be mentioned here that the subject matter of the two issues, viz., Issue Nos. 1 and 12 could not have been included in the charter of demands, dated 24th March 1948, as it occurred more than three months after that date. It is often a very perplexing problem for a Tribunal when a dispute has been referred to it for adjudication, to ascertain what precisely the dispute is. One view often adopted is that the original charter of demands which was the basis of the conciliation proceedings should be treated as covering the dispute in its entirety and that nothing which was not included in the charter of demands should be admitted into the scope of arbitration. In support of this view, the observations of Issacs J. in King vs. Ex parte Whyprow and Co. and ors. reported in 11 (Australian) Commonwealth Law Reports (1910-11), page 1, at page 61 are often cited. But it is doubtful if those observations which I quote below, are capable of this narrow interpretation:—

"There is nothing in the world to prevent employers and employees from making their respective demands as wide as they please; but when they choose to select one particular limited demand as the subject of point of dispute, and refer that to court, then that is what the court has to decide".

The most significant words in the above passage are: "They choose to select one particular limited demand.....and refer that to court". The scope of adjudication therefore is strictly limited to that demand or those demands which are referred to court. This leads us back to the same perplexing problem: what are the demands that have been referred to court.

Section 12, sub-section (4) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, lays down: "If no such settlement is arrived at, the conciliation officer shall, as soon as practicable after the close of the investigation, send to the appropriate Government a full report setting forth the steps taken by him for ascertaining the facts and circumstances relating to the dispute and for bringing about a settlement thereof, together with a full statement of such facts and circumstances, and the reasons on account of which, in his opinion, a settlement could not be arrived at".

Sub-section (5) reads as follows: "If on consideration of the report referred to in sub-section (4) the appropriate Government is satisfied that there is a case for reference to a Board or Tribunal, it may make such reference....."

From the above it appears to me that the scope of adjudication ought not to be limited always to the original charter of demands. The Conciliation Officer's report which formed the basis of the appropriate Government's reference has to be looked into. Unfortunately such reports are often extremely vague and wanting in material particulars. The importance of "a full report setting forth.....the facts and circumstances relating to the dispute" cannot be over-emphasised, for it is that dispute which is referred to the court and no other.

In the present case, the lock-out and the strike were undoubtedly the subject-matter of the dispute and have, therefore, been included in the issues.

Before I conclude, I must say that a review of the chain of events from the submission of the workmen's charter of demands on 24th March 1948 up to the fateful 30th June 1948 cannot but show to any dispassionate observer the utter tragedy and futility of the course of conduct adopted by these workmen under the direction of their misguided and acrimonious leaders. Instead of concentrating their energies on the points in dispute and pushing forth their claims regularly in an orderly and business-like manner, the union leaders, notably Sri Naba Jyoti Burman, the Working President, allowed their energies to be frittered away in quite unnecessary wordy warfare, and their singleness of their purpose to be bewildered in a maze of extraneous distractions. The affair of Rampati Roy, an illiterate upcountry man, who had sought the good offices of the Union at every stage, was hopelessly mismanaged and this resulted in his dismissal. I have before me a letter, dated 26th June 1948, purporting to have been signed by one Sri Bimal Sinha Roy and addressed to Sri Probodh Chandra Sett, Production Director of the Company. This letter has been paraded as the cause shown by the Union for the worker Rampati Roy. But in reality it is a letter containing a catalogue of the very many personal grievances of Sri Burman against the Company and it mentions Rampati Roy only incidentally. It cannot in any sense of the term be regarded as the cause shown by Rampati Roy as to why he should not be transferred from one department to another. It protests vehemently against the complaints alleged to have been made by the Company before the police concerning Sri Burman. It protests also against the lies alleged to have been spread among workmen by the Company concerning the personal conduct of Sri Burman. The letter indeed "very strongly replied on the subject-matter". It was so strong that it had to end with a melodramatic hyperbole: "যাহা হউক আমরা পরিষ্কার করিয়া জানিতে চাই আপনারা কি চাহেন, শান্তিপূর্ণ কার্য্য অথবা অন্যায়ভাবে শ্রমিক পীড়ন করিয়া বিশৃঙ্খলতা সৃষ্টি।"

This could not have been the "cause shown" by a workman under orders of transfer against his transfer. This is one of the numerous instances of how the Union frittered away its energies in acrimonious gymnastics. A notion of exaggerated self-importance in a labour leader as in any other kind of leader only increases his capacity of inflicting and suffering pain, and merely enhances his nuisance-value.

But all is well that ends well. I am indeed very glad that the rate of so many misguided workmen has not been as bad as it could have been. It looked as if all of them were going to lose their jobs under the Company for ever. But I am thankful to the management that my persuasion has been successful. The Company will re-employ 45 of the dismissed workmen now and the rest of the dismissed workmen as and when vacancy arises. I do hope that the Company will soon be able to take back all the old workmen. I congratulate both parties that at last good sense has prevailed, that the workmen have got better terms of employment under the compromise, better wages and better prospects. It is indeed very distressing to me that they have lost their wages from July 1948 up to the date of their re-employment, but let me hope that there will be no further discord in future and that the Union will henceforth be able to lead the workmen in a proper, methodical and business-like manner.

GOVERNMENT OF WEST BENGAL.

Irrigation and Waterways Department.

NOTICE.

IN accordance with rule 31 of the rules for the navigable channels of the Magrahat Drainage Scheme issued under sections 6 and 11 of the Canals Act, 1864 (Bengal Act V of 1864), and published under Irrigation Department notification No. 3, dated the 22nd February 1913, notice is hereby given for general information that Hotor Jhinkee Khal from Hotor Railway Bridge to Jhinkee at the junction of Keorapukur Khal channel will remain closed to traffic for a period of three months with effect from the 14th February 1949 for the purpose of re-excavation of Hotor Jhinkee Khal.

PRIZE ANNOUNCED FOR IMPROVED BENGALI TYPEWRITER COMPETITION OF BENGALI STENOGRAPHERS.

LACK of competent Bengali stenographers has been found to stand in the way of wider use of Bengali as the State language in this province. To remove this difficulty and to encourage the study of Bengali shorthand writing Government have decided to hold a competitive examination in the first half of February next. All Bengali shorthand writers, whether employees of this Government or not, will be eligible to take part in the competition. Any existing method or a new method of shorthand writing in Bengali will be allowed to be used. No fees will be payable for the test. All entries are to be made by 25th January 1949. A reward of Rs. 500 will be paid to the competitor who stands first in the test. The minimum qualifying speed must, however, be at least sixty words per minute.

Another difficulty that has materially held up quicker progress in the use of Bengali is the dearth of suitable Bengali typewriters with a keyboard to answer the typists' needs. In order to encourage the development of an improved Bengali typewriter, a reward of Rs. 1,000 will be paid to the inventor whose model or design of a Bengali typewriter is adjudged to be the best. One of the criteria for judging the merits of entries will be the convertibility of standard typewriting machines with English keyboards for use as Bengali typewriters merely by changing the letters and the figures and signs on the keys. Entries for this competition are to be made by 15th January 1949. No fees will be payable.

All entries and communications regarding these competitions should be addressed to the Deputy Secretary, Home (Political) Department, Writers' Buildings, Calcutta, and marked "Competition in Bengali shorthand/typewriter" as the case may be.

The following Bill was introduced in the Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative) on the 26th February 1948:—

A. BILL No. 15 OF 1948.

A Bill further to amend the Indian Penal Code.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Indian Penal Code (XLV of 1860), in the manner hereinafter appearing;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title, extent and commencement.—(1) This Act may be called the Indian Penal Code (Amendment) Act, 194 .

(2) It shall extend to such parts of the Dominion of India where the Indian Penal Code and all amended provisions thereof are in force at present.

(3) It shall come into force at once.

2. Amendment of section 53, Act XLV of 1860.—In section 53 of the Indian Penal Code (XLV of 1860) (hereinafter referred to as the said Act) the words "First-Death" shall be omitted and the clauses Secondly, Thirdly, Fourthly, Fifthly, and Sixthly, shall be renumbered First, Secondly, Thirdly, Fourthly, and Fifthly, respectively.

3. Amendment of section 121, Act XLV of 1860.—In section 121 of the said Act the words "death, or" shall be omitted.

4. Amendment of section 132, Act XLV of 1860.—In section 132 of the said Act the words "with death or" shall be omitted.

9. Amendment of section 307, Act XLV of 1860.—The second paragraph of section 307 of the said Act shall be

10. Amendment of section 396, Act XLV of 1860.—In section 396 of the said Act the words "death, or" shall be omitted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of the Bill is to abolish sentence of death prescribed for different offences under the Indian Penal Code. Experience has shown that the mode of punishment has not only failed to achieve its object of creating deterrent effects but has in many cases put an end to human lives which, if spared, might have proved very precious to the country. The abolition of death sentence will enable the state to prevent the irreparable mischief arising out of miscarriage of justice. The main provision of the Bill will do away with sentence of death altogether as the mode of punishment.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative).

The following Bill was introduced in the Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative) on the 26th February 1948:—

A. BILL No. 16 OF 1948.

A Bill further to amend the Indian Bar Councils Act, 1926, and the Legal Practitioners Act, 1879.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Indian Bar Councils Act, 1926 (XXXVIII of 1926), and the Legal Practitioners Act, 1879 (XVIII of 1879), for the purposes hereinafter appearing;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title.—This Act may be called the Indian Bar Councils and the Legal Practitioners (Amendment) Act, 194 .

2. Amendment of section 10, Act XXXVIII of 1926.—To sub-section (1) of section 10 of the Indian Bar Councils Act, 1926 (XXXVIII of 1926), the following explanation shall be added, namely:—

"Explanation (i).—The holding of any political opinion or the expression of it in any form or act provided it does not involve violence and incitement to or abatement of violence is not misconduct under this sub-section.

Explanation (ii).—Conviction under any Law or Ordinance, general, special, local or otherwise, or under any rules, including conviction under section 124-A of the Indian Penal Code (XLV of 1860), for any political offence where the person convicted is not found guilty of violence or incitement to or abatement of violence is no proof of misconduct."

3. Insertion of new section 13A in Act XVIII of 1879.—After section 13 of the Legal Practitioners Act, 1879 (XVIII of 1879), the following new section shall be inserted, namely:—

"13A. Notwithstanding anything contained in sections 12 and 13, no pleader or mukhtar holding a certificate as aforesaid shall be liable to be proceeded against or punished under those sections for holding any political opinion or for expressing it in any form or act, provided it does not involve violence or incitement to or abatement of violence, nor for having been convicted under section 124-A of the Indian Penal Code (XLV of 1860), or under any general, special or local law or ordinance or under any rules, if he has not been found guilty of violence, or incitement to or abatement of violence."

4. Provision for restoration of aforesaid practitioner to his former status.—Any advocate, pleader or mukhtar against whom any proceedings or disciplinary action have been taken under the Indian Bar Councils Act, 1926 (XXXVIII of 1926), or the Legal Practitioners Act, 1879 (XVIII of 1879), before the commencement of this Act, may within one year from the commencement of this Act apply to have the proceedings dropped or the disciplinary action set aside; and if it is proved that such proceedings or disciplinary action could not have been taken if this Act were at the time in force, the proceedings shall be dropped and the disciplinary action set aside forthwith and the person restored to his former status.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

There have recently come before Courts many cases in which legal practitioners who were convicted of offences under such emergency ordinance like the Defence of India Rules for their political activities were debarred, in spite of their admittedly high character and professional integrity and in spite of the fact that the offences did not involve violence. In a recent case in the Madras High Court the entire Bar of the country was of the opinion that acts which did not involve violence did not amount to moral turpitude; but the Court reprimanded the advocate. The opinion of the several High Courts are not uniform on this subject. The Calcutta High Court has held that such non-violent political activities did not amount to defect of character. Public opinion as also the considered opinion of the legal profession in the country is against striking lawyers off the Rolls for their non-violent political activities. In the course of a country's struggle for freedom and in view of the impending constitutional changes in the country, all citizens including lawyers should be free to serve without fear or favour. It is very often the case that persons who have been imprisoned for their political opinions or activities are persons of noble character and are the chosen leaders of the people, respected and honoured. Some of these are even called to fill high posts of honour and responsibility on political changes occurring in the country. The administration of law and justice stultifies itself by proceeding against such persons. This amendment has long been felt necessary. Even in the last assembly a Bill was introduced for the purpose. The proposed amendment seeks to bring the law into conformity with the progressive ideas of the people.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative).

The following Bill was introduced in the Constituent Assembly of India (Legislative) on the 26th February 1948:—

A. BILL NO. 20 OF 1948.

A Bill to provide that marriages between Hindus, Sikhs, Jains and their different castes and sub-castes are valid.

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide that marriages between parties belonging to the Hindu, Sikh and Jain religions and the different castes and sub-castes among them are valid;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title and extent.—(1) This Act may be called the Hindu Marriages Validity Act, 194 .

(2) It extends to all the provinces of India.

2. Definition.—The word "Hindus" includes Sikhs and Jains.

3. Notwithstanding any text, rule, interpretation of Hindu law, or any custom or usage to the contrary, no marriage among Hindus is or will be deemed to be invalid by reason of the fact that the parties thereto belong to different religious castes or sub-castes.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Under the Hindu law, as at present interpreted, validity of marriages between Hindus, Sikhs and Jains and their different castes and sub-castes are open to doubt though such marriages are not unfrequent and at present neither result in social ostracism nor evoke serious criticism. The present state of things is however not satisfactory and is an obstacle towards the attainment of social solidarity which is the present need of the hour.

This enacting measure is sure to make for better relations between the different communities of India and lead to social progress of a high order by banishing clash of interests of the present day crystallized castes and groups and mollifying their rigidity and rigour.

LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT DEPARTMENT

RESOLUTION No. L.S.-G. 1M/58/48.

Calcutta, the 18th January 1949.

Various representations including one from two Municipal Commissioners were received by Government making serious allegations of mal-administration and misuse of public money by the Commissioners of the Garulia Municipality. The Subdivisional Officer, Barrackpore, inspected the municipality on 29th June 1948 and the Additional District Magistrate, 24-Parganas, held an enquiry into the allegations afterwards. Notes of inspection of the Subdivisional Officer and the enquiry report of the Additional District Magistrate taken along with Divisional Commissioner's remarks disclose a very unsatisfactory state of affairs, and reveal several instances of mal-administration and irregularities, the most important of which are noted below:—

(I) A brick-field comprising of an area of 73 bighas, of which the Vice-Chairman is one of the proprietors, has not been valued for assessment of rates but considered as part of another holding whose valuation was not increased on account of this addition.

(2) The tender of one Sri P. N. Mukherjee, contractor for repair of roads, at rates considerably higher than those quoted by other bona fide contractors, was accepted without proper consideration of all the tenders received. The said contractor Sri P. N. Mukherjee took supply of bricks for the work from a brick-field of which the Vice-Chairman is a part-proprietor, a fact which is reasonably suspected to be responsible for the acceptance of the higher tender, although this meant a loss to Municipal Fund of a sum of Rs. 5,766-3.

(3) The tax-daroga of the municipality who is a relation of the Chairman resigned in March 1948 and his resignation was accepted on 30th March 1948. He was, however, re-appointed from 1st April 1948 with an increase of pay of Rs. 20 without proper efforts for finding a suitable substitute on that increased pay.

(4) The conservancy work is utterly neglected. The conservancy sweepers work only for two hours a day and are irregular in their work and there is complete lack of supervision.

All these and several other irregularities show a persistent default in the performance of duty and a complete disregard of the law and the rules in the conduct of municipal business. The abolition of nomination reduced the number of Municipal Commissioners to six, out of which four including the Chairman and the Vice-Chairman form one party while the remaining two form another. These two dissident Commissioners have since resigned on the alleged ground that the majority group are acting in an arbitrary and autocratic manner and this has further reduced the number of Commissioners to four. After a careful consideration of the whole matter Government have come to the conclusion that the Commissioners of the Garulia Municipality have shown their incompetency to perform the duties imposed on them by or under the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932. In exercise of the power conferred by section 553 of the said Act, the Governor is, therefore, pleased to declare the Commissioners to be incompetent and supersede the said Commissioners for a period of one year with effect from the date of publication of this resolution in the Calcutta Gazette.

Ordered that this resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Governor,
S. K. GUPTA, Secy.

NOTIFICATION.

24-Parganas.—No. L.S.-G. IM/58/48.—18th January 1949.—In exercise of the power conferred by clause (b) of sub-section (1) of section 554 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932 (Bengal Act XV of 1932), the Governor is pleased to direct that the Subdivisional Officer, Barrackpore, shall exercise and perform all the powers and duties which may under the provisions of the said Act or any rule or by-law made thereunder be exercised and performed by the Chairman and by the Commissioners, whether at a meeting or otherwise, of the Garulia Municipality, which has been superseded by resolution No. L.S.-G. IM/58/48, dated the 18th January 1949, during the period of such supersession.

RESOLUTION.

TARIFFS.

New Delhi, the 11th December 1948.

No. 218-T.II(13)/48.—In their resolution No. 134-T.(19)/47, dated the 10th April 1948, in the Ministry of Commerce, the Government of India requested the Tariff Board to examine and report whether protection for the magnesium chloride industry should be continued after the 31st March 1949, and, if so, to what extent. The Board, having conducted an enquiry, has submitted its report. Its main recommendations are as follows:—

(i) The industry is no longer in need of protection. The existing protective duty should therefore be removed and a revenue duty imposed in its place. In the event of unequal competition from foreign countries, the industry should be assured that the question of protecting the industry would be favourably and expeditiously considered.

(ii) If the recommendation regarding the withdrawal of the protective duty is accepted, the entry in the third column against item No. 28(5) in the First Schedule to the Indian Tariff Act, 1934, should be altered from "Protective" to "Revenue".

(iii) There is a great scope for the development of the export trade in Magnesium Chloride. Government should give all possible facilities for the development of this export trade.

(iv) Adequate supply of raw materials for the manufacture of containers, pans, etc., should be made available to the industry as far as practicable and the question of granting railway priorities for the movement of goods should be favourably considered by the railway authorities, if and when approached by the firms. The industry is not at present exposed to foreign competition in the country and there is no ground for granting special freight rates to the industry.

(v) Government should decide the question of the renewal of the lease of "bitterness" to Pioneer Magnesia Works as early as possible. Pioneer Magnesia Works has shown considerable initiative and enterprise in developing this industry; it has, therefore, a strong claim to a further renewal of the lease. Should Government decide in favour of renewing the lease to the present firm, such a renewal must be subject to the firm converting itself into a public limited company.

2. The Government of India accept recommendations (i) and (ii) and will introduce necessary legislation to replace the existing protective duty on Magnesium Chloride by a revenue duty as from the 1st April 1949.

3. The Government of India also accept recommendations (iii) and (iv) of the Board and requests in this behalf from the industry will receive favourable consideration.

4. Recommendation (v) is under active consideration in the Ministry of Industry and Supply.

ORDER.

ORDERED that a copy of this reso ution be communicated to all Provincial Governn nts, all Chief Commissioners, Ministry of Ext rnal Affairs (External Affairs Wing), Ministry of External Affairs (Commonwealth Relations Wing), and the several Ministries of the Government of India, Prime Minister's Secretariat, Cabinet Secretariat, the Private and Military Secretaries to His Excellency the Governor General, the Central Board of Revenue, the Auditor General, the Director-General of Employment and Resettlement, the Director-General, Industry and Supply, the High Commissioner for India in London, the Economic Adviser to the Government of India, the Director-General of Commercial Intelligence and Statistics, Calcutta, the Indian Trade Commissioner, London, the Indian Trade Commissioners, at New York, Buenos Aires, Toronto, Alexandria, Colombo, Paris, Mombasa, Tehran and Sydney, His Majesty's Senior Trade Commissioner in India, the United States Embassy, New Delhi, the Canadian Trade Commissioner in India, the Australian Trade Commissioner in India, Norwegian Consul-General, Bombay, the High Commissioner for India in Pakistan, Karachi, the High Commissioner for Pakistan in India, New Delhi, the Secretary, Indian Tariff Board, Bombay, the Secretary, Industrial Finance Corporation of India, New Delhi, and all recognised Chambers of Commerce and Associations.

Malda.—No. PH-W-76/48.—17th January 1949.—In pursuance of rule 8 of the rules for the preparation, publication and execution of projects for water-supply, sewerage or drainage for municipal authorities, it is hereby notified for general information that the scheme for installation of a water softening plant at the water-works of the English Bazar Municipality within the district of Malda has been approved by the Government of West Bengal and that the particulars of the said scheme are as follows:—

(a) A general description of the scheme.—The scheme provides for installation of a water-softening plant on the Lime Soda process.

The water from each of the existing tube-wells will be lifted by air lift pumps, as at present, to a small reservoir to be constructed at a height of 10 feet above the top of the existing tube-well chamber. It is proposed to change the size of the engine of compressor pulleys in order to give this additional lift. The pipes will be re-arranged utilising the existing ones as far as practicable. Water from the reservoir will flow by gravity and discharge into the softening plant. It is proposed to fit a chemical tank with mechanical agitators run by a small motor. The raw water after being thoroughly mixed with the chemicals will flow into the first section of the settling tank. The settling tank consists of 3 compartments separated by baffle walls having posts to collect and distribute the water in each compartments. The compartments are provided with "Ridge and Valley" type bottom for easy removal of sludge. The treated water from the tanks will pass through a rapid gravity sand filter where collodial suspensions of carbonates will be arrested and all traces of precipitates removed. The filtered water will collect into the existing clear water reservoir and pumped direct into the distribution main.

The filter unit will require a back-wash from time to time. For this purpose an overhead wash water tank is proposed to be erected over 30 feet staging from which clear water will be supplied for about 3 to 4 minutes to the filter and the back-washed dirty water carried away to the surface drain.

There is no godown at the water-works. It is therefore proposed to construct a godown for storage of chemicals, etc.

(b) An sstimate of cost of carrying out—Rs. 97,800.

(c) An estimate of the cost of maintaining it.—Rs. 7,700 per annum.

(d) The source from which the cost will be met.—

		Rs.
(1) Grant from Government	...	65,200
(2) Loan from Government	...	32,600
		97,800

(e) The amount of the loan if any required for the schemes, the annual instalments by which the loan will be repayable and the number of years required to repay it.—Rs. 32,600 as loan will be repaid in 20 years at an equated annual instalment of Rs. 2,293-12-4 p. at 3½ per cent.

II. The scheme will be taken into consideration on or after the 15th March 1949, and any objection or suggestion with regard thereto, which may be received by the undersigned on or before that date, will be duly considered.

C. Chakravarty, Additional District Judge;

And whereas the said Sri S. C. Chakravarty, Additional District Judge, has given the award as shown in the annexure hereto;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the power conferred by section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased to direct that the award be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of the industrial dispute between the Management of the Alkali and Chemical Corporation of India, Ltd., Rishra, Hooghly, and its workers as represented by the Alkali Chemical Workers' Union, 72, Grand Trunk Road, Rishra, Hooghly.

PRESENT:—SRI S. C. CHAKRAVARTY,
Chairman, Tribunal.

By an order No. 4390Lab., dated the 2nd December 1948, under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the Government of West Bengal constituted a Tribunal with me to adjudicate on the industrial dispute between Messrs. Alkali and Chemical Corporation of India, Ltd., Rishra, Hooghly, and their workers represented by the Alkali Chemical Workers' Union, 72, Grand Trunk Road, Rishra, Hooghly.

Notices were issued to the parties. Company entered appearance on 10th December 1948 through Messrs. Orr Dignam & Co., Solicitors. The notice on the Union appears to have been served on 6th December 1948. The acknowledgment appears to have been signed by Mr. J. N. Sen, Secretary, A.C.E. Union. 10th December was the date for appearance and as the Union did not appear, I waited for three days. As the Union did not turn up, I issued another notice on the 13th which appears to have been received by the self-same gentleman on 15th December 1948. Union has not appeared.

I am satisfied about service of notice. The Union does not appear. The legal inference is that it has nothing to place before the Tribunal or no dispute exists now. The dispute which existed has died out. I award accordingly.

S. C. CHAKRAVARTY.
Chairman, Tribunal.

The 30th December 1948.

By order of the Governor,
D. S. P. MUKHERJEE, Jt. Secy.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Nasco, Ltd., Prince Anwar Shah Road, Tollygunge (Head Office 11, Clive Street, Calcutta), and their workmen as represented by Nasco Mazdoor Congress, 9/A, Haralal Das Street, Entally, Calcutta.

For the Company.—Sri P. K. Saunyal, assisted by Sri Santosh Dutta, Factory Manager.

For the Union.—Sri Dwijendra Lal Sen Gupta, assisted by the Secretary and Assistant Secretary of Nasco Mazdoor Congress.

AWARD.

The industrial dispute between Messrs. Nasco, Ltd., Prince Anwar Shah Road, Tollygunge, and their workmen as represented by the Nasco Mazdoor Congress, 9/A, Haralal Das Street, Entally, Calcutta, was referred to me by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, by order No. 3840Lab., dated the 25th October 1948. Both parties filed their written statements and points for adjudication were formulated under ten broad heads. The case was heard on the merit for two days. After conclusion of the hearing, both parties amicably settled the dispute and filed the terms of settlement signed by both parties. The terms of settlement are detailed in Annexure A to this award.

Peace in an industry is secured more by amicable settlement than by adjudication. I accordingly give my award in terms of the settlement arrived at between the parties, which forms part of this award.

ANNEXURE A.

The Union and the Company after matured deliberation have come to the following terms and desire to place the same before the Tribunal for an award.

1. The Company admits and appreciates that there is a necessity for increasing pay and dearness allowance of the working class. But due to the situation arising out of partition of Bengal and other reasons and general slump in the trade, it is regretted that at the present stage no relief can be offered by the Company as demanded by the Union. The Union, however, without prejudice to their claim, agrees to compose the present dispute in the interest of the Industry with condition of re-opening the same after nine months. The Company appreciates the sentiment of the Union and reciprocates the same by an offer of increasing the dearness allowance of the workers employed in the factory except the clericals engaged therein by Rs. 5 per month.

2. That the Company assures to decide all matters regarding discharge, dismissal, retrenchments after due intimation to the Union and consideration of its views.

3. That both the Company and the Union shall be entitled to re-open the other items of dispute after nine months from this date.

4. That as regards the question of arrears of wages for overtime work, the Union's demand will be decided by the Company and the Union.

5. That it has been agreed that the Company shall be entitled to retrench 27 temporary workmen as from the 1st of January 1949.

Additional District Judge, Industrial Tribunal, Calcutta.

Industrial dispute between Messrs. M. R. Metal Works, 200, Bowbazar Street, Calcutta, and their employees represented by the Bengal General Engineering and Metal Factory Workers' Union, 14, Mati Sil Street, Calcutta.

AWARD.

Messrs. M. R. Metal Works is a small factory owned by two partners for the manufacture of some metallic umbrella parts. It produces ferrules, caps, notches and runners. The Company was started in 1944 and manufacturing operations were commenced in January 1945 with only 50 men, who made only ferrules. The other items were taken up gradually as conditions improved. There is a number of other factories of similar dimensions producing identical articles and some of them are National Metal Industries, Rup Metal Works, Keshorimull Kundalmull and Nafar Atta Works. During the last four years of the life of the factory the manufacturing operations were extended and at present there are about 170 workmen producing ferrules, caps, notches and runners. The manufacture of runners was commenced in the latter part of 1948 and till September 1948 they were produced on the contract basis and since October, runners are being manufactured by paid workmen of the Company, like the other items mentioned above. In 1948 the majority of the workmen of the Company joined the Bengal General Engineering and Metal Factory Workers' Union and thereafter on 17th June 1948, the Union, on behalf of the workmen, submitted a charter of demands to the Company claiming improvement of wages and other terms of employment and conditions of labour of the workmen. The copy of this charter of demands appears in Annexure "D" to the written statement of the Union. The factory remained closed on the 17th and the 18th June 1948 and the cause of this closure is attributed by the Company to a strike on the part of the workmen and by the Union to a lock-out on the part of the Company. Whatever it might be, the Labour Commissioner, West Bengal, took up the matter and started conciliation proceedings and work in the factory was resumed with effect from 19th June 1948. The conciliation proceedings yielded no success and the disputes between the Company and its workmen were referred by the Government of West Bengal in the Commerce, Labour and Industries Department (Labour) by Order No. 3425-Lab., dated 18th September 1948, under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, to me for adjudication.

Notices were issued on both parties and they filed written statements on the disputes in question and issues were framed on 6th November 1948. The parties were heard on 29th November 1948, 30th November 1948, 1st December 1948, 2nd December 1948 and 6th December 1948.

The appearances for the parties were as follows:—

Sri J. N. Mitra, President of the Union, and Janab K. Ahmed, Treasurer, and some workmen were present on behalf of the Union. Sri P. K. Sanyal, Advocate, represented the Union till before the date of hearing.

The Company was represented by Sri S. P. Ghosh, Advocate, and Sri H. N. Chatterji, Works Manager.

The issues framed are as follows:—

ISSUES.

1. Revision of basic pay and dearness allowance.

2. Guarantee of wages for twenty-six days' work in the month.

3. Leave and holidays.

4. Provident Fund.

5. Gratuity.

6. Bonus.

7. Rules of service in respect of discharge, dismissal and retrenchment.

8. Reinstatement of (a) Ramesh Chandra Das, and (b) Satish Chandra Mondal with compensation for the period of non-employment.

9. Pay for the period of lock-out on 17th and 18th June 1948.

10. Safety and sanitary arrangements in the factory.

11. Welfare arrangements.

12. Standing orders.

DECISIONS.

Issue No. 1.—Revision of basic pay and dearness allowance.

In the charter of demands the Union claims a minimum basic wage of Rs. 45 per month and a minimum dearness allowance also of Rs. 45 per month. The Union's claim is, therefore, for a total minimum emolument of Rs. 90 per month. The Company pleaded its inability to pay such a high minimum of emolument to its workmen and stated that it was impossible to expect the Company in view of its financial condition, to pay such a scale of wages to its workmen. The wage list of the workmen, being a copy of the monthly wage bill for the month of August 1948, will appear in Appendix "A" of this Award. This shows that there are as many as 17 workmen receiving a daily wage of Re. 1 to Re. 1-4, 53 workmen getting at the rate of Re. 1-6 per day, 1 at Re. 1-7, 70 at Re 1-8, 5 at Re. 1-10 and 5 at Re. 1-12 per day. There are other workmen who are receiving higher daily wages up to the maximum of Rs. 6 per day. It appears that the 17 workmen receiving wages at Re. 1 to Re. 1-4 per day are boys below the age of 18 years who act as helpers to the other workmen. The Company does not pay any separate dearness allowance and it is stated that the daily wages shown above include also dearness allowance at the rate of 4 annas. It, therefore, appears that the minimum daily wage is at Re. 1-6, and the monthly emolument would, therefore, amount to Rs. 35-12 (at 26 days in a month).

The minimum wage allowed by the Company no doubt appears to be below the living wage for a person of the working class as discerned in the Report of the Central Pay Commission. It is, however, to be remembered "the necessity of complying with a theoretical definition of living wage, cannot transcend financial limitations". (Report of the Central Pay Commission, page 32.) It is, therefore, clear that the claim of a minimum wage must be subject to the financial limitations of the industry and that if these considerations are ignored the industry itself may be destroyed leading to unemployment and a total loss of wage. The considerations of the financial condition of the Company are, therefore, very important in this connection.

The balance-sheets of the Company for 1945, 1946, 1947 and 1948 have been filed before me, that for 1948 has not, however, been audited but those for the other years were certified by a qualified auditor. The financial year of the Company is from 1st October to 30th September of the next calendar year. On a careful scrutiny of the balance-sheets it appears that the partners Lala Motiram Jain and Lala Kanwar Sain Jain did not advance any money for the Company but that the Company was started with a loan of Rs. 39,441 taken from Srimati Chandsiri, wife of Lala Motiram Jain and another loan of Rs. 3,500 taken from Lala Hiralal Mundra, the Sole Agent of the Company. There were, however, other sundry liabilities at the end of 30th September 1945. Lala Kanwar Sain Jain is the son-in-law of Lala Motiram Jain. The balance-sheets for the years ending 30th September 1945, 30th September 1946, and 30th September 1947 which were certified by qualified auditors show payment of interests in cash to the creditors as also addition of interests to the loan of Srimati Chandsiri and a further withdrawal of sums for the domestic expenses of the partners. These items in the years ending September 1945, 1946, 1947 and 1948 are as follows:—

Payment of interest in cash to the creditors.

		Rs.	a.	p.
1945	.. ..	1,584	12	6
1946	.. ..	3,585	4	9
1947	.. ..	4,163	0	6

1946	.. ..	2,713	8	6
1947	.. ..	2,925	4	0
1948	.. ..	3,311	1	9

It appears that a sum of Rs. 6,600 was taken as a further loan from Srimati Chandsiri in 1945-46 and that the total dues payable to her at the end of September 1948 stands at Rs. 55,000 and odd.

		Rs.	a.	p.

1946	..	1,513	13	10
1947	..	10,563	7	0	(including Rs. 7,131-2-11 shown as less drawn from last year's account.)
1948	.. ..	8,230	14	0

On an examination of the accounts it appears to my mind that the accounts unduly lean on showing a deficit and that really there was no loss or profit in 1945, that there was a profit of more than Rs. 10,000 in 1946, a profit of about Rs. 10,000 in 1947 and a loss of about Rs. 4,000 in 1948. These figures do not, however, take into account the money withdrawn as interests in cash paid to creditor Srimati Chandsiri. The balance-sheet of 1948 was prepared after the hearing of the case for three days and was not audited by any Registered Accountant. It was explained that the loss in this year occurred on account of the depreciation in the prices of the materials manufactured by the Company.

The average production of the manufactured articles and their market price will indicate the prospects of the Company in the years to come. The Union in paragraph 4 of the written statement put the following figures for the estimate of the daily income of the factory:—

Parts daily produced.	Average price current in the market.	Nnmber of workmen.	Approximate present labour charge for production.
	Rs.		Rs. a. p.
(1) Runner finished 20 gross.	14 per gross.	32	56 0 0
(2) Notch 16 gross.	9 „	9	18 0 0
(3) Cap 25 gross.	36 „	9	12 4 0
(4) Ferrule 16 gross.	9 „	15	21 0 0

The estimate of daily production set out by the Union appears to be incorrect in view of the actual figures of production in the month of August 1948 as taken from the Company's account and verified by the representatives of the Union. This chart was filed by the Company and it appears as Appendix "B" to this Award. It shows that the daily production of the articles were as follows in the month of August 1948:—

(1) Caps—27¾ gross per batch of 7 men.

(2) Ferrules—16 gross per batch of 10 men.

(3) Runners—(Figure of October) 30 gross per batch of 40 men.

(4) Notches—16 gross per batch of 4 men.

The written statement of the Company filed on 3rd November 1948 shows the price per gross of the articles as follows:—Caps at Re. 1-4, ferrules at Rs. 5, runners at Rs. 9-8 and notches at Rs. 4-4. These prices were not questioned by the Union at the time of the hearing. They are also supported by the prices of runners, notches and caps as set out in the Award of Sri S. C. Chakravarty, Judge, in the dispute between Keshorimull Kundalmull and this Award was signed on 4th October 1948 and published by Gazette on 20th October 1948. I, therefore, accept the prices of the materials as set out in the written statement of the Company. Runners are produced by one batch of 40 men, notches are made by two batches of 4 men each, caps by 6 batches of 7 men each and ferrules by 4 batches of 10 men each. There are, however, 38 men in six batches of caps and 38 men in 4 batches of ferrules when the full strength works. With the full strength working and the articles selling at the prices set out with above, it appears that the total value of the articles produced during the year will be more than Rs. 2½ lakhs. The profit and loss account of the company in 1948 shows the value of the total production as Rs. 1,94,000 and odd. The Company explains by saying that runners were not produced for the first half of the year and that they were being produced by the paid workmen only since October 1948, that is, after the close of the years 1947-48. The total expenditure of the Company in 1948 appeared to be about Rs. 1,96,000. It, therefore, appears that if the work of the factory goes on in full swing the Company is expected to make a profit by its trading activities. I was told that the price of runners has since fallen down to Rs. 7-8 per gross and that of ferrules to Rs. 4-8 per gross. I do not suppose that even then the Company should be faced with a deficit. The Proprietors of the Company should be able to see that the work is not impeded for want of materials as according to the Union, it often happens in this factory.

It, therefore, appears that great caution is to be exercised in revising the emoluments of the workmen in this factory. Sri J. N. Mitra, President of the Union, was very reasonable in his demands on this item at the time of the hearing. He categorically stated that it was far from the desire of the Union that the emoluments of the workmen should be so increased as to sap the vitals of the industry. He, however, claimed that he was sure that in the circumstances disclosed in the account papers and the prospects of the Company, the workmen could be safely granted a flat increase of at least Rs. 5 per head in view of the low emoluments they were receiving. On a careful consideration of the matter I am of opinion that the workmen receiving a daily wage of Re. 1-6 to Rs. 1-12 numbering 134 should be granted an increase of 2 annas each in the daily wage. This will mean an increase of Rs. 3-4 per month to the wage of every workman of the categories mentioned and will involve an increase in the annual expenditure by about Rs. 5,200. It may be noticed that even then the minimum emolument of the workmen will be only Rs. 39 per month, which is below the living wage at the prevailing cost of living.

The increase thus afforded should, in my estimation, be guaranteed by production which should be at the figure of the average production in the month of August for caps, ferrules and notches and in the month of October for runners. It is, therefore, awarded that the increase of wages above-mentioned should be paid on condition that the average daily production be as set forth below:—

(1) Caps—At 27½ gross per batch of 7 men (38 men working in 6 batches).

(2) Ferrules—16 gross per set of 10 men (38 men working in 4 sets).

(3) Runners—30 gross per batch of 40 men.

(4) Notches—16 gross per set of 4 men.

It is also awarded that in case the workers can produce more, each of the workers will get a production bonus at 1 anna per gross for caps, 1 anna per gross for runners, 1 anna 6 pies per gross for notches and 1 anna 6 pies per gross for ferrules.

I do not consider that the other workers should be granted any increase in emoluments. The financial condition of the Company at the present moment does not appear to be very satisfactory and the prospects are discouraging in view of the fact that the prices of materials are going down. No increase in the emoluments of the helpers are awarded in the circumstances of the case.

This issue is accordingly answered.

Issue No. 2.—Guarantee of wages for twenty-six days' work in the month.

The Union demanded a guarantee of work for twenty-six days in the month and it is complained that the workmen are often asked to go home on the ground that there was no work for them. The Company's representative stated that sections of the factory have at times to be closed on account of dearth of essential materials. The claim of the Union in effect amounts to one for compensation for involuntary unemployment. It is hardly proper that when a workman, who has been asked to come and attends the factory, should be ordered to go back without any work or remuneration. On such occasions the workman is entitled to full wage for the day. It is, therefore, awarded that when a workman on being required to attend the factory actually attends the factory, he shall, whether any work is offered to him or not, be entitled to the full remuneration for the day and should be asked to come on an appointed day. The Company explains that it is to deal with materials controlled by the Government and the availability of the materials depends much less on its option than on various other factors over which it had no control. It is still an infant industry and its future is yet unknown. The monthly wage bill of the workers amounts to about Rs. 6,000 and it is difficult to expect that the Company will be able to bear an extra burden on account of compensation for involuntary unemployment even to the extent of one month's wage over and above the increase in the emoluments that is granted by this Award. The claim on this item is, therefore, disallowed.

Issue No. 3.—Leave and holidays.

At present the Company allows only the statutory leave for ten days in the year. No other holidays with pay are allowed. It is, therefore, awarded that the Company should grant six days of festival holidays in the year on the occasion of Durga Puja, Kali Puja, Viswakarma Puja, Mahalaya and Luxmi Puja. It will be competent for the Company to alter the occasions of these holidays according to its discretion. If the worker absents on the day preceding or following the festival holiday, he shall be deprived of the holiday which will be treated as absence.

Issue No. 4.—Provident Fund.

Issue No. 5.—Gratuity.

The Union demanded a Provident Fund scheme to be immediately introduced with a contribution of one anna in the rupee on the part of the workman as also the employer. The Union also demanded gratuity amounting to one month's wage for each completed year of service to be paid on retirement, discharge or dismissal of the workmen.

The industry is so small that no Provident Fund system can be profitably introduced. As for gratuity I consider that the matter should stand over for the present till the industry finds itself on a more stable basis. The industry is only three years old and it does not appear that it can be considered to have stabilised itself and an award of gratuity in such circumstances is bound to be injurious to the industry and may be infructuous in practice in the long run. The claims of Provident Fund and Gratuity are, therefore, disallowed.

Issue No. 6.—Bonus.

The Union claimed two months' wages to be paid during the Durga Puja as a special bonus as a part of service condition irrespective of the earning of profit. As far as it appears from the balance-sheets the prospect of the industry is not yet very bright. The industry has yet to repay a considerable amount as loan and it has not yet made huge profits. It cannot be burdened with the grant of a bonus at the present moment. This claim is also disallowed.

Issue No. 7.—Rules of service in respect of discharge, dismissal and retrenchment.

The Union demands that three months' notice should be given prior to discharge, dismissal or retrenchment or in lieu thereof three months' wages with all allowances should be paid. It further claims that in case of discharge or retrenchment the workman if available shall be taken in as soon as a vacancy arises and due information of such vacancies shall be given to the Union and that no workman should be dismissed unless charges are framed against him in writing and he is given an opportunity of explaining his conduct and interrogate the persons giving evidence against him and that all such proceedings shall be in writing.

It is awarded that before any orders of discharge or dismissal are passed by the management, proceedings in writing embodying the specific charges against the particular workman should be drawn up and such workman should be supplied with a copy of such proceedings in good time to enable him to defend himself. The workman concerned may defend himself with the assistance of another workman who may be a member of the Union.

It is decided that in the case of retrenchment of any particular type of worker the principle of "last come first go" in that group shall always be observed, consistently with the efficiency of the establishment. It is, however, recommended that at the time of fresh appointment the management should consider the claims of the retrenched employees, if they seek re-employment.

In all cases of retrenchment the workman shall be entitled to one month's notice or in lieu thereof one month's pay (a month's pay will mean the pay for twenty-six days at the daily rate).

Issue No. 8.—Reinstatement of (a) Ramesh Chandra Das and (b) Satish Chandra Mondal with compensation for the period of non-employment.

The statement of the Union shows that these two employees were victimised for their union activities and that the discharge of these employees amounted to an unfair labour practice on the part of the Company. The Company maintained that these two employees were discharged for negligence in duty. It appears from the statement of both the parties that Satish Chandra Mondal has at present been serving in another factory at Dum Dum and that Ramesh Chandra Das cannot be traced. None of them appeared before the Tribunal or adduced any evidence to show that they were discharged unlawfully for their union activities. It does not appear even whether they were members of the Union. In the circumstances, the claim for reinstatement of these two employees cannot be sustained and it is rejected.

Issue No. 9.—Pay for the period of lock-out on 17th and 18th June 1948.

The Union stated that there was an illegal lock-out of the factory on 17th and 18th June 1948. The Company maintained that there was a strike on these two days for no sufficient reason and that the employees were not entitled to any remuneration for the period of strike. At the time of the hearing there was an amicable settlement of this question and the Company agreed to pay the remuneration for one day to the workmen and the Union accepted this offer. It is, therefore, awarded that the workmen should be paid wages for one day the 17th of June 1948.

Issue No. 10.—Safety and sanitary arrangements in the factory.

The Union made the following demands on this item:—

(a) Repairing and/or replacing loose machines.

(b) Providing for sanitary urinals and privies.

(c) Making proper arrangements for supply of drinking water.

These points are considered below.

(a) The Company should repair loose machines, if there be any. It appears that the General Secretary of the Union addressed a letter to the Chief Inspector of Factories, West Bengal, complaining that some machineries were in such condition that it was dangerous to human life or safety. It is for the Inspector of Factories to take proper steps in such cases under section 26 of the Factories Act and I have no doubt that inspecting staff will do all that it is necessary in this behalf.

(b) It appears that there are two urinals and two sanitary privies with flushing arrangements in the factory premises. I suppose two more urinals are necessary. The Company should provide for two more urinals. The urinals and the privies should be kept clean and in a sanitary condition.

(c) It appears from the statements of both the parties that the supply of drinking water is rather inadequate and the reservoir for the water should be extended in size and I award accordingly.

Issue No. 11.—Welfare arrangements.

In this item the claim of the Union was as follows:—

(a) Free Medical Aid and supply of medicine.

(b) A rest room for the workers.

(a) The factory is situated at 200, Bowbazar Street, within a short distance of the Medical College Hospitals, Calcutta. It is stated by the Works Manager that in case of necessity the workmen are sent to the Medical College Hospitals and the cost of the treatment there, if any, is borne by the Company. It is awarded that this practice should be followed in future. I do not consider that any further provision for medical aid is necessary for this factory which is so close to the biggest hospital of the city.

(b) It appears that there is no rest shelter in this factory. The number of workmen in this factory at present is about 170. A suitable shelter should be provided for rest and I award accordingly.

Issue No. 12.—Standing orders.

The parties addressed me on rules as to permanency, discharge and dismissal, retrenchment and involuntary unemployment. I have framed rules as to discharge and dismissal and retrenchment in issue No. 7. I have disallowed any claim for involuntary unemployment in this establishment for the present in issue No. 2. I shall, therefore, consider only the rule as to permanency and the period of probation. It is awarded that a workman shall be taken into the permanent service of the Company after a satisfactory period of probation of six months.

CONCLUSION.

It has appeared to me during the hearing of this case that the workmen of this factory should be more disciplined and that the Company should not lay off its workmen as frequently as it is doing at the present time. Both these factors should improve for a healthy growth of the industry. I would tell the workmen that I could not raise the emoluments to a sufficiently satisfactory level owing to the financial impediments facing the industry and that if they devote their energy to the task of stepping up production, they can legitimately expect a further rise in the emoluments. This Award will throw an additional burden of more than Rs. 5,000 in the year on the industry and I would urge on the workers to increase the production so that the Company may be compensated for this extra cost and can also earn profits.

ORDER.

No. 378Lab.—28th January 1949.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 3953Lab., dated the 2nd November 1948, industrial dispute between Messrs. Pal Singh, 52A, Harish Mukherji Road, Calcutta, and his employees in connection with the case of Narain Singh as represented by Bengal Bus Mazdoor Union, 1/2, Rustamji Parsee Road, Calcutta, was referred for adjudication to Sri P. K. Sarkar, Additional District Judge;

And whereas the said Sri P. K. Sarkar, Additional District Judge, has given the award as shown in the annexure hereto;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (2) of section 15 read with sub-section (3) of section 19 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased to make the following order and to direct with reference to section 17 of the said Act that the award be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

The award made by the said Sri P. K. Sarkar, Additional District Judge, shall bind the Company and their workmen aforesaid as specified therein and shall remain in force for a period of three months with effect from the 17th January 1949.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Pal Singh, 52A, Harish Mukherji Road, Calcutta, and his employees in connection with the case of Narain Singh as represented by the Bengal Bus Mazdoor Union, 1/2, Rustamji Parsee Road, Calcutta.

PRESENT: SRI P. K. SARKAR,
Judge, Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the employer: Sri S. P. Ghosh, Advocate.

Present for the Union: Sri Panchanan Bhattacharyya, Secretary.

Award.

By Government order No. 3953Lab., dated the 2nd November 1948, the above dispute was referred to me for adjudication under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act of 1947. The dispute arose in connection with the discharge of Narain Singh, a driver serving under the employer Pal Singh, on 27th July 1948. The Union alleged in its written statement that the cause of the dismissal was his Union activities. The Union demanded his reinstatement and pay for the period of non-employment. The employer denied that Narain Singh was at all discharged or discharged for Union activities. The employer's case was that he was merely working as a substitute in place of a permanent worker who was on leave and that on the return of the said worker from leave he had to make room for him. The employer, however, stated in his written statement that he was prepared to offer a job to Narain Singh if he desired to serve under him. Narain Singh did not appear before me and it is stated that he is now in his native place in East Punjab.

On the date of hearing, namely, 17th January 1949, the employer Pal Singh and Sri Panchanan Bhattacharyya, Secretary of the Bengal Bus Mazdoor Union, reported that the dispute had been amicably settled and a petition embodying the terms of settlement and signed by them was filed. According to the said terms Narain Singh would be re-employed by Pal Singh, if he should return from home within three months from the date of the settlement, namely, 17th January 1949. The parties want that an award be made in terms of the settlement. My award accordingly is that the dispute be settled in terms of the petition which is set out in full in the appendix.

Dictated and corrected by me.

P. K. SARKAR,
Judge.

P. K. SARKAR,
Judge, Industrial Tribunal.

The 19th January 1949.

APPENDIX.

BEFORE SRI P. K. SARKAR, Tribunal, appointed under the Industrial Disputes Act.

In the matter of a dispute between Narain Singh (driver) represented by the Secretary, Bengal Bus Mazdoor Union and Pal Singh (owner of buses).

The humble petition of the parties abovenamed most respectfully sheweth:—

(1) That the parties have settled their disputes on the condition that Narain Singh should be coming back and he should be reinstated by Pal Singh, i.e., the former should be given a job under the latter.

(2) That the said offer by Pal Singh should remain open for a period of three months.

(3) Pray that an award be made in terms of the settlement as hereinbefore set out.

(4) And for this kind act, your petitioners as in duty bound, shall ever pray.

PANCHANAN BHATTACHARYYA,
Secretary, Bengal Bus Mazdoor Union.

The award made by the said Sri M. C. Banerji, Additional District Judge, shall bind the Company and their workmen aforesaid as specified therein and shall remain in force for a period of one year with effect from the date of its publication.

ANNEXURE.

PRESENT: SRI MATISH CHANDRA BANERJI, Additional District Judge, Industrial Tribunal, Calcutta.

Industrial dispute between Messrs. Spence, Ltd., 23, Convent Road, Calcutta, and Spence, Ltd., Workers' Union, 27/1, Beliaghata Main Road, Calcutta, in connection with the cases of Sri Saktipada Bera, (2) Panchanon Bhattacharjee and (3) Sri Dhruba Chandra Mahanti referred to by Government order No. 4118Lab., dated 15th Nofember 1948.

Award.

Messrs. Spence, Ltd., is an engineering firm which was incorporated as a private limited Company in 1930. It carries on business as agents and distributors of engineering stores manufactured in U.S.A. and U.K. and maintains a workshop for manufacture of machineries and for reconditioning or repairing machineries purchased from abroad. The workshop had a complement of 390 workmen in 1942 but this number gradually fell down to 32 in 1948 on account of shrinkage of the volume of work. The Company has also a Sales Department where the transaction of importing engineering stores and machineries from U.S.A. and U.K. and selling them to customers in India is made.

On 5th March 1948, the workmen of the factory through their Union, submitted a charter of demands in respect of the terms of employment and conditions of labour and a dispute arose between the Company and the factory workers. The Labour Commissioner to the Government of West Bengal failed to effect a settlement of the disputes between the parties and by order No. 2648Lab., dated 2nd August 1948, the disputes were referred by the Government of West Bengal, in the Commerce, Labour and Industries Department, under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, to this Tribunal (Sri M. C. Banerji), for adjudication. The Award of the Tribunal was made on 24th September 1948 and was published in the Calcutta Gazette on 21st October 1948.

While the case between the Company and the workmen was pending before the Tribunal, the Company on 12th August 1948 discharged three of the workmen of the factory, viz., Sri Panchanon Bhattacharjee, Sri Saktipada Bera and Sri Dhruba Chandra Mahanti. Dhruba Chandra Mahanti was re-appointed on new terms of service to the Sales Department of the Company on 25th October 1948. The Union questioned the discharge of the three workmen as instances of victimisation and unfair labour practice on the part of the Company and approached the Labour Directorate for conciliation. As conciliation was not successful, the Government of West Bengal, in the Department of Labour, by order No. 4118., dated 15th November 1948, referred the disputes between the parties, under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, to me for adjudication. Notices were issued to both the parties and they filed written statements. The issues were framed on 8th December 1948 and the case was heard on 18th December 1948.

Sri D. L. Sen Gupta, Pleader, with some members of the Union, represented the Union and Messrs. B. N. Basu and Company, Solicitors, represented by Sri S. K. Sen, Solicitor, appeared for the Company before me.

The issues framed were as follows:—

Issues.

(1) Was the discharge of (1) Panchanon Bhattacharjee, (2) Saktipada Bera and (3) Dhruba Chandra Mahanti unlawful and are Panchanon and Saktipada entitled to reinstatement to their posts?

(2) Are Panchanon Bhattacharjee and Saktipada Bera entitled to emoluments for the period of their forced non-employment or any other compensation?

(3) Is Dhruba Chandra Mahanti entitled to emoluments for the period of his non-employment from 12th August 1948 to 24th October 1948 or any other compensation? Should his service be deemed continuous in spite of the break?

Decisions.

Issue No. 1.—Was the discharge of (1) Panchanon Bhattacharjee, (2) Saktipada Bera and (3) Dhruba Chandra Mahanti unlawful and are Panchanon and Saktipada entitled to reinstatement to their posts?

The Union contends that Sri Panchanon Bhattacharjee, the Treasurer of the Union, was attending the Tribunal on behalf of the workmen and that the Company, in retaliation of his taking interest in the dispute before the Tribunal, discharged him and two of his co-workers. In other words, the Union contends that these three workmen were discharged by way of victimisation on account of their trade union activities. The Union, therefore, claimed reinstatement of these workmen and for payment of compensation to them, being their emoluments for the period during which they have been kept away from work.

The Company in its written statement averred that although the dispute between the parties was referred to the Tribunal on 2nd August 1948, the proceedings were notified to commence from 23rd August 1948, but that it was on 12th August 1948 that these workmen were discharged by way of retrenchment on the ground that they were in excess of the requirements of the workshop. The Company further states that since the termination of the service of these workmen no other workmen were appointed in their places, and that Sri Dhruba Chandra Mahanti was re-appointed on 25th October 1948, not in the workshop but in the Sales Department of the Company. It, therefore, contends that the discharge of these workmen was made in the honest exercise of the duties of the administration of the Company and that there was no victimisation or unfair labour practice involved in the matter. The Company, therefore, claimed that these three workmen were not entitled to reinstatement or any relief whatsoever.

At the time of the argument the learned Pleader for the Union abandoned the claim for reinstatement of Sri Panchanon Bhattacharjee and Saktipada Bera as also the plea that the discharge of the three workmen were instances of victimisation by the Company but confined his argument to the plea that the discharge of the three workmen on 12th August 1948 when the proceedings before the Tribunal were pending, constituted an illegal lock-out and an unfair labour practice by the Company and that the workmen were entitled to their emoluments as if no such discharge had taken place. The Company, on the other hand, maintained that the Tribunal had no jurisdiction to reinstate the discharged employees or grant them any compensation for discharge and that assuming that the discharge of these employees during the pendency of the case before the Tribunal was unlawful, it was for the Government to prosecute the employer under section 26 or 31 of the Industrial Disputes Act. It was further argued that the only consideration that the discharged employees could secure was that mentioned in the decision as to the issue of retiral benefits in the previous Award which allowed gratuity at half a month's basic pay for each completed year of service, irrespective of the length of service. The Company claimed that it had every right to discharge these employees when it found them in excess of requirements and the Tribunal would be ill-justified to force unnecessary expenditure on it.

There is no doubt that under the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the Tribunal has ample jurisdiction to legally make an Award directing employers to reinstate a workman or workmen. The recent judgment of the Hon'ble Chief Justice and Mr. Justice Chakravarty, dated 24th September 1948 in Re: The Indian Paper Pulp Co., Ltd., vs. The Indian Paper Pulp Workers' Union and analogous applications, is a complete answer on the point. It is, therefore, decided that this Tribunal has jurisdiction to direct an employer to reinstate workmen discharged by him. It may be mentioned that this extra-ordinary jurisdiction to direct reinstatement of discharged employees should be exercised within the narrow limits of cases where the discharge or dismissal has been the result of victimisation or an unfair labour practice by the employer. As the Union does not really press for reinstatement of the two discharged employees, excluding the one who has been re-appointed, I do not discuss this aspect of the case in any great detail. The question of dismissals or discharge of employees effected during the pendency of an industrial dispute between the employer and the employees is, however, to be guided by the express provisions of the Act as will be discussed below.

The previous dispute between the Company and its employees in the workshop was referred by Government order No. 2648Lab., dated 2nd August 1948 to the Tribunal and the Award of the Tribunal was published in the Calcutta Gazette, on 21st October 1948. Under section 20(3) of the Act, the proceedings before a Tribunal are deemed to have commenced on the date of the reference of the dispute for adjudication and to have concluded when the Award is published by the Government. It is, therefore, clear that the proceedings of the previous dispute before the Tribunal was pending from 2nd August 1948 to 21st October 1948. A survey of the provisions of the Industrial Disputes Act shows that the paramount object of the Act is the establishment and preservation of industrial peace by methods of conciliation and adjudication and that the Act intends that status quo must be maintained in the industry involved in the dispute during the pendency of the adjudication proceedings. Section 23 of the Act lays down that no workman shall go on strike and no employer shall declare a lock-out during the pendency of the adjudication proceedings. Section 24 lays down that a strike or lock-out shall be illegal if it is commenced or declared in contravention of section 23. Section 26 provides for penal action against any workman or any employer who acts in contravention of the provisions of sections 23 and 24. "Lock-out under section 2(l) of the Act means the closing of a place of employment, or the suspension of work, or the refusal by an employer to continue to employ any number of persons employed by him." It is noticeable that the definition of "lock-out" in section 2(c) of the Trade Disputes Act, 1929, since repealed, was given in exactly the same words with the following words added, "where such closing, suspension or refusal occurs in consequence of a dispute and is intended for the purpose of compelling those persons or of aiding another employer in compelling persons employed by him, to accept terms or conditions of or affecting employment." It is remarkable that these qualifying words as they appear in the Trade Disputes Act, 1929, were deliberately omitted by the Legislature when the Industrial Disputes Act was enacted. The result is that under the present Act the closing of a place of employment or a suspension of work or refusal by employer to continue to employ one or more persons employed by him irrespective of any other consideration amounts to a "lock-out". This "lock-out" has been made illegal and punishable only under certain specified circumstances. These are as laid down in sections 22 and 23 of the Act. Section 23 of the Act prohibits a "lock-out" of every description during the pendency of the proceedings before a Tribunal and two months after the conclusion of such proceedings. It, therefore, appears that discharge or dismissal of any workman amounts to a lock-out under the definition of the word in section 2(l) of the Act and that under section 23(b) of the Act, such a "lock-out" is prohibited during the pendency of the proceedings before a Tribunal. The first part of section 33 of the Act enacts that no employer shall during the pendency of the proceedings before a Tribunal in respect of an industrial dispute, alter to the prejudice of the workmen concerned in such dispute, the conditions of service applicable to them immediately before the commencement of such proceedings. It is clear from what has been discussed above that the Act definitely intends the status quo to be maintained during the pendency of the adjudication proceedings. The second part of section 33 lays down the rights of the employer to punish a workman during the pendency of the adjudication proceedings, and it is enacted that no employer shall save with the express permission in writing of the Tribunal, discharge dismiss or otherwise punish any workman during the pendency of the adjudication proceedings except for misconduct not connected with the dispute. It, therefore, appears clearly that the employer is entitled to punish a workman during the pendency of an adjudication proceeding for a misconduct not connected with the dispute, but that otherwise he is prohibited from awarding any punishment without the express permission in writing of the Tribunal. It follows from what has been discussed above that by virtue of the definition of "lock-out" in section 2(l) and the provisions of sections 23 and 24 of the Act, an employer is forbidden to discharge, dismiss or suspend any workman during the pendency of an adjudication proceeding as he will thereby commit the offence of effecting an illegal lock-out, but that this disability has been qualified by the second part of section 33 of the Act by which the employer has been permitted to discharge, dismiss or otherwise punish any workman during the pendency of the adjudication for a misconduct not connected with the dispute and for other types of misconduct with the express permission in writing of the Tribunal. Contravention of the provisions of section 33 of the Act has been penalised by the provisions of section 31 of the Act.

These conclusions depend on the construction of the definition of "lock-out" under section 2(l) of the Act as a refusal by an employer to continue to employ one or more persons employed by him irrespective of any other consideration. It was argued by the learned Solicitor for the Company that while section 33 made discharge of an employee in certain circumstances illegal, it did not make it ineffective. If it was illegal the penalty provided for in section 31 would visit on the delinquent employer but that such a penalty would not make the termination of the employment of the workmen null and void. It was, therefore, argued that this Tribunal could not unsettle the fact of termination of the employment of the workmen, and in any case should not do it although the Act provided for a penal action on the offending employer.

The question is if this Tribunal has the jurisdiction to reinstate an employee if it is found that the employee was dismissed in circumstances amounting to an illegal lock-out by the employer. If the dismissal of the workmen in questoin is an industrial dispute, the Tribunal has the jurisdiction to adjudicate on it, provided the dispute is referred to it by the appropriate Government under section 10 of the Act. In this industrial dispute the workman has a right of claiming the remedy of reinstatement when his discharge is prohibited by law and the Tribunal has to adjudicate on this claim if such a jurisdiction was vested in it under the Statute. Sir H. V. Divatia in his Award in the Trade Dispute between the Empire of India Life Insurance Co., Ltd., Bombay and its employees (Bombay Labour Gazette, October 1947, page 187) observed, in similar circumstances, as follows: "The only ground on which reinstatement can be claimed is an order under rule 81A, which says that when a matter has been referred for adjudication, no employer in any undertaking shall lock-out or continue to lock-out his employees until the expiry of two months after the conclusion of the proceedings. Apart from the remedy of criminal prosecution under this rule, the employees can ask either for reinstatment or for compensation of illegal lock-out." He also observes further in the judgment that the power of reinstatement was a discretionary one, to be exercised in view of all circumstances in each case. He awarded pay by way of compensation to some of the dismissed workers for the period of adjudication proceeding till the final conclusion of the proceedings, being the period during which no lock-out could be declared. The claim of reinstatement was refused in the special circumstances of the case. I consider that the observations of Sir H. V. Divatia are worthy of respect, and that the same considerations will follow from the provisions of section 23(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act. It is, therefore, decided that although an illegal lock-out may entail criminal prosecution and punishment as laid down in section 26 of the Act, the workmen can claim the relief of reinstatement or compensation in an industrial dispute over the matter. The Tribunal has the jurisdiction to entertain the question and to adjudicate on the claims of the workmen and decide whether he is entitled to reinstatement or compensation in the circumstances of the case.

In the present case, however, the Union abandoned the claim of reinstatement of two of the workmen who are out of employment, viz., Panchanon Bhattacharjee and Saktipada Bera but pressed for their emoluments for the period of illegal lock-out as if they were in service of the Company. The decision of this question is a subject matter of issue No. 2. From what has been discussed above it is clear that the discharge of three workmen—Panchanon Bhattacharjee, Saktipada Bera and Dhruba Chandra Mahanti on 12th August 1948, that is at a date when the previous industrial dispute between the Company and these workmen were pending before the Tribunal, was unlawful under the Industrial Disputes Act and although these workmen do not claim reinstatement they should be deemed to have been in the employment of the Company during the period for which their non-employment amounted to an illegal lock-out.

This issue is accordingly answered.

Issue No. 2.—Are Panchanon Bhattacharjee and Saktipada Bera entitled to emoluments for the period of their forced non-employment or any other compensation?

From the decision of issue No. 1, it is clear that Panchanon Bhattacharjee and Saktipada Bera are entitled to emoluments for that period of their non-employment during which their discharge constituted an illegal lock-out on the part of the Company. This is the period from the date of their discharge during the pendency of the proceedings before the Tribunal, until the expiry of two months after the conclusion of the proceedings. This period, therefore, appears to be from 13th August 1948 to 20th December 1948.

The learned Solicitor for the Company argued that this Tribunal could not go behind its Award on the previous dispute published on 21st October 1948 where the only benefit accorded to a discharged workman was a gratuity at half a month's basic pay for each completed year of service according to clause (d) in the decision of issue No. 10 of that Award. It is only to be pointed out that this gratuity is available to an employee on the termination of his service by the employer at a date when the employer could lawfully terminate his service. In other words, inasmuch as Panchanon Bhattacharjee and Saktipada Bera do not claim reinstatement, the termination of their service by the employer should be considered to have been effected on 21st December 1948, that is after the expiry of the period, during which their discharge was prohibited by the Act. Under the terms of the previous Award Panchanon Bhattacharjee and Saktipada Bera are entitled to the gratuity as mentioned in clause (d) of issue No. 10, but the date of this termination of service is to be considered to be on 21st December 1948. The result is that these two workmen shall be entitled to recover from the Company their full emoluments including dearness allowance from 13th August 1948 to 20th December 1948 and thereafter gratuity at the rate of half a month's basic pay for each completed year of service.

It appears from the written statement of the Company that at the date of his discharge Panchanon Bhattacharjee used to get a monthly basic pay of Rs. 27-8 and a dearness allowance of Rs. 12-8 (i.e., Rs. 40 in all and that he entered the service of the Company on 5th January 1942. It is, therefore, decided that Panchanon Bhattacharjee shall get emoluments at the rate of Rs. 40 from 13th August 1948 to 20th December 1948 and also gratuity to the extent of three months' basic pay at Rs. 27-8 as he was in service for six completed years calculated up to 20th December 1948. Saktipada Bera according to the written statement of the Company joined service on 11th June 1946 and used to get a basic pay of Rs. 50 and a dearness allowance of Rs. 12-8. It is decided that Saktipada Bera shall get emoluments at the rate of Rs. 62-8 from 13th August 1948 to 20th December 1948 and a gratuity to the extent of one month's basic pay at Rs. 50 as he was in service of the Company for two completed years.

These payments should be made by the Company within two months after the publication of this Award.

Issue No. 3.—Is Dhruba Chandra Mahanti entitled to emoluments for the period of his non-employment from 12th August 1948 to 24th October 1948 or any other compensation? Should his service be deemed continuous in spite of the break?

It appears that Dhruba Chandra Mahanti used to get a basic pay of Rs. 25 and a dearness allowance of Rs. 12-8 and was employed in the service of the Company on 6th May 1946 and was discharged on 12th August 1948 along with other two workmen mentioned above. He was, however, reinstated on 25th October 1948 in the Sales Department at a consolidated salary of Rs. 35 including dearness allowance. From what has been decided in issue No.1, it is clear that Dhruba Chandra Mahanti is entitled to remuneration at Rs. 37-8 per month from 13th August 1948 to 24th October 1948, that is a period of two months and twelve days and also at the rate of Rs. 2-8 per month from 25th October 1948 to 20th December 1948. There is no question of payment of any gratuity to him as he is still in the service of the Company. His service, however, should be deemed to be continuous, notwithstanding the break from 13th August 1948 to 24th October 1948 as it was a period when he should be deemed to have been in the service of the Company in accordance with the Act. The compensation to Dhrubachandra Mahanti should be paid within two months after the publication of this Award.

This issue is accordingly answered.

Bonus.

At the time of the hearing of the case the Union made a claim for bonus for each of these three employees and pressed that bonus should have been paid to the employees of the workshop under the terms of the previous Award as the employees of the Sales Department were paid bonus. No such claim was made in the statement of the Union and the Company did not get any opportunity of making any statement on the matter. The representatives of the Company tells me that no bonus has really been paid to any employee in 1948 after the publication of the previous Award. In the circumstances, I do not consider that the claim of bonus for the three employees in question should be allowed and I award accordingly.

Conclusion.

The Union took up a very reasonable attitude at the time of the hearing and did not press for reinstatement of Panchanon Bhattacharjee and Saktipada Bera although they claimed for the compensation that was available to them under the law. It is encouraging to find that the peace of the establishment has not been disturbed since the publication of the last Award. The present case is the outcome of the discharge of three workmen effected during the pendency of the previous case before the Tribunal and although the Union prayed for an adjudication of this matter before the Tribunal in the previous case, no decision could be made as it was a dispute which occurred at a date subsequent to the date of reference and the Tribunal was not, therefore, competent to entertain this matter. I mention this fact as I notice in the report of the Conciliation Officer submitted to Government which was appended to the reference of the dispute to the Tribunal, that the Conciliation Officer instructed the Union to take up the matter before the Tribunal which was sitting over the previous dispute and that yet he did not find the adjudication of the present dispute in the decision of issue No. 11 which dealt with the question of reinstatement of discharged workers.

I would appreciate the gesture of the Company in providing Dhruba Chandra Mahanti in the Sales Department on 25th October 1948 and I hope that this worker should not in any way suffer from a set-back in the estimation of the Company in view of the claim of the lawful compensation which has been allowed by me under this Award.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Jaipuria Concerns and their employees.

PRESENT: SRI S. K. HALDAR, I.C.S.

By Government of West Bengal order No. 2391Lab., dated the 16th July 1948, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Jaipuria Concerns and their employees, represented by Jaipuria Concerns' Employees' Union was referred to me as a Tribunal Constituted under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act for adjudication.

On 18th January 1949, the date fixed for hearing of the above dispute, Sri J. C. De, Advocate, on behalf of Messrs. Jaipuria Concerns, appeared and filed a petition stating that the dispute has been amicably settled and that no dispute exists at present. A letter signed by Sri A. Chatterjee, Honorary Secretary, Jaipuria Concerns' Employees' Union, was also filed. The letter says that the dispute between the Jaipuria Concerns and their employees have been compromised.

There being no dispute now as admitted by both sides, I do not see any reason to prolong the case. Sri N. L. Das, calling himself Joint Secretary of the Union, who sent me a letter on 8th January 1949 does not turn up.

I hold that there is no dispute, and this will be my Award.

PRESENT: SRI P. R. MUKHERJEE,

Judge, Industrial Tribunal.

For the Union: Sri P. K. Sanyal, Advocate.

AWARD.

By Government order No. 3465Lab., dated the 22nd September 1948, the above dispute was referred to me for adjudication as a Tribunal constituted under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947.

Both the parties appeared and filed their written statements.

The case of the employees is that they had submitted various demands to the abovenamed Company inter alia as follows:—"An employee on retirement should be entitled to a retiring gratuity of one month's salary for each year of service." Pending the dispute, the Company in 1947 decided to close down their business of the Calcutta Branch and arrange to change over to an Importer- Stockist- Distributor Organisation, i.e., to arrange with some other Company in Calcutta for the import and distribution of the goods manufactured by the India Rubber Gutta Percha and Telegraph Works, Ltd., instead of doing the distribution direct through the Branch Office at Calcutta.

In pursuance of the above decision, the Management in April 1948 made the aforesaid arrangement of carrying on its business in Calcutta through Messrs. Gladstone Lyall & Co., Ltd., who were constituted the Stockists and Sole Distributors of the goods manufactured by the India Rubber Gutta Percha and Telegraph Works, Limited.

The employees of the Company were directed by the Management to work under the said Messrs. Lyall & Co., Ltd., in order to carry on the said business as aforesaid in an effective manner.

Most of the employees demanded that either their period of service should be taken into consideration in the new establishment or they should be paid the amounts that would be due to them as retiring gratuity.

The Management refused to accede to any of the demands and threatened the employees with dismissal unless they would sign a form to the following effect:—

> "Received from Messrs. The India Rubber Gutta Percha and Telegraph Works, Limited, Calcutta, the sum of Rs..... being in full discharge of all my dues from the Company on my voluntarily ceasing my employment with the Company."

For fear of losing their employment the employees were compelled to sign this form while none of them received any consideration therefor.

From 1st May 1948 the employees were forced to work under the said Messrs. Gladstone Lyall & Co., Ltd., as new entrants.

The Union presses the case of two employees separately—one with regard to Samar Mitra, a salesman, who had been wrongfully discharged by the Company and another Fulgain who had also been wrongfully discharged.

The employees prayed for an award for payment of retiring gratuity to the employees to the extent of one month's pay for each year of service.

The Company submits that this Company had been incorporated in the United Kingdom, a branch of its business being carried on in Calcutta which was controlled by a General Manager in Calcutta subject to the directions of the Board of Directors in London.

Towards the end of January 1947 the Board of Directors in London decided to wind up their business in India and instructed the local offices in Calcutta to do the same by 31st December 1947. The Company started reduction of the staff and retrenched a number of persons towards the last part of the year 1947.

On the discharge of 19 workers in November 1947 the Union took up the matter with the Labour Commissioner and demanded, inter alia, their reinstatement or in the alternative payment of gratuity of compensation at the rate of one month's pay for each year of their service in case their retrenchment is justified. This matter went up for adjudication to a Tribunal under the Chairmanship of Mr. S. K. Sen and the demand of the Union for compensation or gratuity for those 19 workers was rejected.

In April 1948 the Company closed its business in India and made arrangements with Messrs. Gladstone Lyall & Co., Ltd., to sell its goods as its Stockists and Sole Distributors. The Company further induced Messrs. Gladstone Lyall & Co., Ltd., to employ the Company's workers as far as possible who will have to be retrenched on closing of its business.

Thereupon the Company informed the workers about this arrangement and asked them to retire from the Company and to accept jobs in Gladstone Lyall & Co., Ltd. Accordingly all the employees in Annexure "X" agreed to do so voluntarily and on their termination of service from this Company on the 30th April 1948 were paid off all their dues in full and granted a receipt thereto and accepted the job under Gladstone Lyall & Co., Ltd., which was offered to them at the intercession of this Company.

The Company submits that in view of the above facts and circumstances, the claim of payment of gratuity is not maintainable.

Issues.

(1) Can the employees demand retiring gratuity to the extent of one month's pay for each year of service?

(2) Is the claim for gratuity maintainable?

(3) Was the claim for gratuity rejected in a previous adjudication proceeding between the parties by the Tribunal of Mr. S. K. Sen?

(4) Can Samar Mitra and Fulgain get any compensation or gratuity?

Issue Nos. 2 and 3.—Is the claim for gratuity maintainable? Was the claim for gratuity rejected in a previous adjudication proceeding between the parties by the Tribunal of Mr. S. K. Sen?

It was urged that the Company has since winded up its business and is not functioning in India and as such the present employees are not "workmen" within the meaning of the Industrial Disputes Act. It was urged by the Union that this Company is still carrying on business through Messrs. Gladstone Lyall & Co., Ltd. It was urged on behalf of the Company that they have assigned their goodwill in trade to Messrs. Lyall & Co., Ltd. I had asked the Company to produce the deed of assignment or valid documents to show that the Company transferred all its interest in the trade to Messrs. Lyall & Co., Ltd. But no convincing document had been produced before me except few scrappy correspondences which throw no light as to the nature of assignment and the Tribunal is not in a position to say if assignment was of the whole interest or of part or if it was merely a benami transaction. Whatever that may be, it is not essential to come to a definite finding on the point as will appear later on from my findings.

The Company as a matter of fact has appeared and contested the case of the Union and as such there is reasonable ground to suppose that the Company is still in existence and carrying on business in India and as such the award if made can be effectively enforced against the Company.

Regarding the main question if the employees are workmen, I have drifted a little to consider if the Company is still in existence. Now to revert to the main item if the discharged employees are still workmen. It is admitted that the demand had been made to the Company in July 1948 and that the demand which is now pending is veritably in the nature of an industrial dispute and during the continuance of that dispute, the Company has discharged these workers. Therefore, all these employees are workmen within the meaning of section 2(s) of the Industrial Disputes Act. I hold, therefore, that the employees are workmen within the meaning of the Industrial Disputes Act.

It is pointed out to me that Mr. S. K. Sen, Chairman of the Industrial Tribunal, adjudicated the disputes of the 19 discharged workmen for gratuity and he had rejected the claim of gratuity. Mr. Sen on behalf of the Company argues that that decision will also bind the present employees who had made demand before the Tribunal. It is to be remembered that the present dispute is raised by workers other than the 19 employees whose fate was decided adversely by the previous Tribunal. Mr. Sen on behalf of the Company wanted to argue that these workers had joined in the above dispute before the Tribunal presided over by Mr. S. K. Sen, in other words, he wanted to invoke the principle of constructive res judicata in this case. I am afraid, that is neither legal nor equitable for reasons more than one. For, in the first place, there is nothing in the statute to exclude the jurisdiction of the Tribunal on the ground of constructive res judicata. In the Civil Procedure Code, the principle of res judicata is embodied in section 11 of the Code. In respect of only few matters, the provisions of Civil Procedure Code are to be applied in the Industrial Disputes Act. Section 11(3) of the Industrial Disputes Act shows a very limited application of the provisions of the Civil Procedure Code. So the principle of constructive res judicata cannot be applied by the Tribunal.

Mr. Sen on behalf of the Company relied on section 18 of the Industrial Disputes Act and argued that the award of the previous Tribunal should be binding on all the employees. In my opinion, inasmuch as the other employees were not parties to the dispute before the Tribunal, this cannot be made binding on the present employees who have come to seek remedy in this Tribunal. Issue 2 are answered accordingly in favour of the employees.

Issue No. 1.—Can the employees demand retiring gratuity to the extent of one month's pay for each year of service?

It is proved that the out-going Company had provided appointments for all the employees in the in-coming Company and I find from the Annexure "X" that all the employees are getting much better emoluments and dearness allowance in the new employment. The correctness of the Annexure "X" was challenged but no specific instance had been pointed out to show that the employees are drawing less emoluments. I would assume for the sake of argument that the in-coming Company is paying the same grade and not higher emoluments as urged by the Company. In that case, the employees can have no remedy against the out-going Company for the employees claim only gratuity for the past period of service. The out-going Company has practically winded up its business and has provided permanent appointments in the new Company though the service in the new Company is not being considered a continuous service. In my opinion, gratuity even if it had been paid, would have been of little assistance to the employees for, in that case, they would be getting a negligible sum. I would illustrate this from the cases of two of the workers. One S. C. Mitra had roughly put in 15 years' service and he was drawing Rs. 60 in the out-going Company. He would have got only Rs. 450 as gratuity on the principles laid down in the award of the Major Engineering Tribunal. Similarly one S. P. Sur who was drawing Rs. 128 in the out-going Company at the date of discharge and had put in only five years' service, would have got roughly Rs. 320 as gratuity instead. I find, however, that both of these gentlemen have been provided with appointments on better emoluments in the new Company. In these hard days, they would have been thrown on the street if the out-going Company discharged them with such paltry sum as gratuity. The Company is to be congratulated for providing them with self same emoluments under the new Company. It is an unassailable fact that the out-going Company had to wind up its business and sell the same to its successor and in that case the utmost relief that an employee could demand on the principle of social justice and equity is gratuity in the form of compensation. In my opinion sufficient justice has been done by the out-going Company by providing similar appointments on a permanent footing in the new Company. The employees' grievance that the service is not continuous cannot be remedied for with the closing of the Company, such a catastrophe is bound to come and the employees must rise or fall with the success or failure of their employers.

It is also found that the Company offered them choice that it would try to secure jobs for the employees and in case it fails to do so, it would make ex-gratia payment on some scale laid down in paragraph 5 of the written statement of the Company. The employees on their own accord chose to accept employment under the new Company and had foregone the claim of gratuity. So the employees are estopped from re-opening the question now. It was urged, however, in the written statement that they had to agree under threat of dismissal and under pressure of coercion. This insinuation was not at all proved nor hinted seriously at the time of argument. There is practically not an iota of evidence to prove threat or coercion. This sort of insinuation is mischievous and must be strongly discouraged.

Judging all the facts and circumstances, I am strongly of opinion that the Company cannot be asked to pay any more gratuity for what the Company has done is far more profitable and of more lasting benefit than the payment of gratuity. I, therefore, reject the claim of gratuity.

Issue No. 4.—Can Samar Mitra and Fulgain get any compensation or gratuity?

It is urged that one Samar Mitra had been dismissed and he has not got any reasonable compensation and the Union prayed for compensation in his case. He had not been provided with any appointment. I understand that he has brought a case for wages before the Registrar under the Payment of Wages Act and as such his matter is awaiting trial there. This Tribunal, therefore, will not assume jurisdiction to decide this case.

Regarding Fulgain, a cooly, it is urged by the Company and admitted by the Union that he was offered the same post under the new Company but he refused to accept it as the pay was less. He used to get Rs. 58 in the out-going Company and was offered Rs. 45 in the new Company. All other coolies were also drawing the same pay there. When he refused to accept the new job, he is at best entitled to one month's pay and I direct that the Company should pay Rs. 58 to him.

Summary.

Demand of the employees for retiring gratuity to the extent of one month's pay for each year of service is rejected.

Claim of Samar Mitra for gratuity is rejected.

Claim of Fulgain for compensation is allowed. He is to get Rs. 58 from the Company as compensation.

Award.

By Government order No. 3797Lab., dated the 23rd October 1948, the above dispute was referred to me for adjudication under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act. I issued notices to the parties and the employee Sri Haripada Dutta filed written statement on 4th November 1948. On 25th November 1948 Messrs. Sandersons and Morgans, Solicitors, filed written statement on behalf of the Mercantile Bank. Issues were settled on 3rd December 1948 and the case was heard on 27th December 1948.

The facts of the case as disclosed in the correspondence copies of which have been filed by the employee with the written statement and about which there is no dispute are these:—

The employee Sri Haripada Dutta is a Graduate and was appointed as a clerk in the Mercantile Bank on 15th August 1935 on a basic salary of Rs. 50. He worked in the Security Department of the Bank and in 1943 his pay was raised to Rs. 67. He also received the usual allowances. On 16th September 1943 he accidentally fell down in the premises of the Mercantile Bank and thereby sustained a fracture and severe injuries in his right hip-joint. He was removed to his home and there he remained confined to his bed. He applied for leave on medical grounds and was allowed leave with full pay up to 30th November 1943. Subsequently he was granted further leave on half pay from 1st December 1943 to 31st May 1944 on the strength of medical certificates submitted by him. On 5th May 1944 he sent a medical certificate to the Bank and applied for further leave. According to this certificate, his hip-joint and right leg had been encased in plaster and he was confined to bed. The certificate recommended leave for three months. On receipt of this medical certificate the Bank replied on 23rd May 1944 that in view of his prolonged absence he had been granted indefinite leave without pay. Thereafter on 20th July 1945 the Bank wrote to Sri Haripada Dutta that as he had not been able to resume his duties there was no other alternative for the Bank but to ask him for formal resignation from the service. He was also requested to draw the amount due to him from the Provident Fund. He replied to this letter on 23rd July 1945 pointing out that although he had not been declared fit for service immediately he was on the way to recovery and that in the opinion of the Surgeon under whose treatment he was he would be able to join his duties within a few months. He prayed that he might be allowed to continue on leave without pay indefinitely until recovery. On 28th August 1945 the Bank replied to this letter stating that as the Bank had not received any report on the employee's progress for some time it had assumed that he had decided to withdraw from the Bank's service. He was asked to send to the Bank from time to time medical certificates and present himself to the Bank on recovery. The employee's case is that on the 14th September 1946 he sent a medical certificate and wrote to the Bank that he was not yet able to walk properly and that he might take several months more to resume his duties. The Bank's case, however, is that this letter or the medical certificate was not received by the Bank. Thereafter on 1st May 1948 Sri Haripada Dutta presented himself at the Bank and wanted to resume his duties. He was directed to appear on the 3rd May when he was informed that there was no vacancy for him. He had interviews with the Accountant and the Sub-Manager who informed him so verbally. He then wrote to the Bank on the 4th May pointing out that he was still in the employment of the Bank as he had been granted leave without pay for an indefinite period until recovery and that as such he was entitled to be allowed to join his duties. The Bank replied on 11th May 1948 pointing out that he had not fulfilled the condition of sending medical certificates to the Bank from time to time regarding his progress and that the Bank had not heard from him for nearly three years. The Bank asked him to withdraw the amount due from the Provident Fund. On 28th May 1948 the employee replied to this letter stating that he had written to the Bank on 14th September 1946 enclosing a medical certificate and praying that the Bank might reconsider his case. Along with that letter he enclosed a medical certificate which was to the effect that he was confined to bed on account of his injuries during most of the period from September 1943 to April 1948, and that thereafter his movements were restricted and regulated under medical advice so that he was medically unfit to resume his duties until the end of April 1948. The Bank replied on 14th June 1948 that it had nothing further to add to its letter dated 11th May 1948. Sri Haripada Dutta then brought the matter to the notice of the Labour Commissioner who attempted to settle the dispute by conciliation, but such attempt having failed the dispute was referred to the Tribunal on his recommendation.

The employee's case is that the Bank having granted him leave without pay for an indefinite period until he was fit to resume his duties, he continued to be in the employment of the Bank till he was in a fit condition to resume his duties and that as such the Bank was bound to provide employment for him. He has pleaded that he has been unlawfully prevented by the Bank from resuming his duties. In his written statement he asked for certain declarations but substantially the relief he asks for is that the Bank should allow him to resume his duties and pay his salaries and allowances from 1st May 1948, the date on which he presented himself at the Bank and was not allowed to join. He also prayed for compensation for and on account of the injury sustained by the fall but this claim was not pressed when it was pointed out that he was not a workman coming within the provisions of the Workmen's Compensation Act.

The Bank's case is that on the strength of the representation of the employee, dated 23rd July 1945, that he would be able to join his duties within a few months the Bank wrote to him that he would be allowed to join after his full recovery on condition that he sent to the Bank medical certificates as to his progress from time to time—a condition which the employee failed and neglected to fulfil. The Bank accordingly contends that the employee's service was lawfully terminated for his failure to comply with the said condition and that he was not entitled to any relief.

The following issues were framed on the basis of the statements of the parties:—

Issues.

(1) Was the service of Sri Haripada Dutta lawfully terminated by the Bank? If so, when?

(2) Is the Bank liable to provide employment for him? If so, on what terms and conditions?

(3) Is he entitled to get any compensation?

Issue No. 1.

The Bank has not been able to produce any papers or any entry in its records showing that the service of Sri Haripada Dutta was ever formally terminated. It is not the case of the Bank that any order was ever passed by the authorities of the Bank dismissing or otherwise terminating the service of Haripada Dutta at any time. Nor is it the case of the Bank that he was given notice at any time that his employment had been or was being terminated. It has, however, been argued by Sri S. K. Mullick, on behalf of the Bank, that the service of Sri Haripada Dutta terminated automatically on account of his long absence and failure to comply with the condition imposed upon him when he was granted leave for an indefinite period, namely, that he would send medical certificates about his progress from time to time to the Bank. It is also contended that in any event his employment terminated on 3rd May 1948 when the Bank repudiated the contract of service and pointed out that there was no vacancy for him. I do not appreciate how the Bank can contend in this case that the service of the employee automatically terminated on account of his prolonged absence in view of the previous correspondence and the admitted facts of the case. The prolonged absence of the employee was not unaccounted for. It is not disputed that the employee had met with an accident fracturing his leg and hip-joint and that he was confined to bed for a long time thereafter on account of treatment. The medical certificates to which I have already referred make that clear. The Bank never challenged these certificates in its series of correspondence with the employee. Sri S. K. Mullick very fairly stated that he would not challenge any of the medical certificates or contend that the said certificates did not give a correct picture of the employee's physical condition. The certificates are all from Dr. S. K. Basu, the attending Surgeon. Copies of the certificates have been filed by the employee and the original certificate, dated 27th May 1948, was filed by the Bank to whom it had been sent. The hip-joint and the right leg of the employee had been encased in plaster for a long time and although in the certificate, dated 5th May 1944, the doctor expected that he might be able to walk in three months' time, as a matter of fact he was confined to bed for a long period thereafter, as the certificate dated 27th May 1948 would show. This certificate further shows that his movements were restricted and regulated and that he was medically unfit to join his duties until April 1948. Since the certificates and the employee's physical condition are not and were never challenged by the Bank, I must assume that the Bank does not dispute the fact that the employee was physically not in a fit condition to resume his duties till April 1948. The Bank had in fact granted leave to the employee and extended the leave from time to time on the strength of the medical certificates submitted. The employee was on full pay for some time and then on half pay and when the Bank found in May 1944 that the absence of the employee would be prolonged he was granted leave indefinitely without pay from 31st May 1944. In July 1945 the Bank had no doubt asked the employee to tender formal resignation from service but that was because not having received any report from him for about a year it had assumed that the employee had decided to withdraw from the Bank's service. This was explained by the Bank in its letter dated 28th August 1945 written in reply to the employee's representation asking for permission to continue on leave for an indefinite period as before. The Bank agreed and directed him to present himself at the Bank on full recovery and in the meantime to send medical certificates from time to time reporting his progress. The employee on 30th August 1945 agreed to send such certificates.

The Bank's contention is that the employee did not send any medical certificate or report about his condition to the Bank after 28th August 1945 and that on account of his failure to do so the contract of service had terminated. The employee's case is that he had sent after 28th August 1945 one medical certificate with a letter, dated 14th September 1946 (copy filed), but the Bank denies receipt of the letter. I may note, however, that the Bank has nowhere in its written statement or in its correspondence specifically denied receipt of such a certificate. In paragraph 8 of the written statement the Bank stated that it did not receive any application for leave or medical certificate from the employee since May 1944 or in any event since September 1946. When the employee wrote to the Bank on 28th May 1948 that he had sent a medical certificate on 14th September 1946 the Bank did not specifically deny receipt of the same in its letter dated 14th June 1948, but merely stated that it had nothing further to add to the letter dated 11th May 1948 in which it had stated that nothing had been heard from him since 30th August 1945. Even assuming that the Bank did not receive the letter of 14th September 1946 the question that arises is whether the request contained in the letter of the Bank dated 28th August 1945 that the employee should send medical certificates from time to time was in the nature of a condition imposed on the indefinite leave granted to the employee on the breach of which the employee's service was to terminate automatically. The letter in question is worded as follows:— "Please send us from time to time a medical certificate and on full recovery present yourself to the Bank". The language used does not show that this was meant as a binding condition. It can as well be construed as a mere request or direction and nothing more. It does not state that on non-fulfilment of this condition the employee will incur any penalty. How was then the employee to understand that his failure to send any medical certificate from time to time would bring upon him the extreme penalty of termination of service? Of course it would have been better if the employee had sent medical certificates about his condition to the Bank from time to time in order to enable the Bank to keep in touch with him and admittedly he had sent no report to the Bank after 14th September 1946, but the fact that he did not do so could not operate to bring about forfeiture or automatic termination of his employment. In July 1945 in similar circumstances the Bank did not automatically terminate the employment but on the other hand asked the employee to resign. The Bank therefore never gave the employee to understand that his employment would be automatically terminated on failure to send medical certificates or reports about his progress and the previous conduct of the Bank in relation to the employee was inconsistent with the plea of automatic termination of service. The employee having been granted leave for an indefinite period, until recovery, was certainly entitled to a notice that such leave had been revoked or cancelled and that his service had terminated. It was not a case of prolonged absence without any cause or without any information from the employee. It was a case of justifiable absence for which indefinite leave had been granted to the employee and such leave could not have been revoked or terminated without notice to the employee. I cannot look upon the direction in the letter dated 28th August 1945 as a condition on the fulfilment of which the leave already granted would be continued and hence I am unable to hold that failure on the part of the employee to comply with it for a certain length of time was sufficient to bring about an automatic termination of service.

There is also positive evidence in this case that the employee was treated as continuing in the employment of the Bank until at least 15th March 1948. The employee was a member of the Provident Fund which had been started by the Bank for its Indian staff and was a regular contributor to it. He has produced copies of four letters received from the Trustees of the Provident Fund which show that he was informed at regular intervals of the amounts due to him from the fund both in the Bank's contribution accounts and in the member's subscription accounts. The first such letter is dated 16th May 1945, the second letter is dated 31st December 1945, the third is dated 12th March 1947 and the fourth is dated 15th March 1948. Interest had been running all the time, though contribution had stopped since the employee was on leave without pay. It is thus clear that the employee was treated as one under employment of the Bank till at least 15th March 1948 when the last letter was written. If his employment had been terminated at any time before this or if he had been treated as one whose employment had automatically terminated, he could not have been allowed to remain a member of the Provident Fund and no interest would have been allowed to accumulate on his deposits or on the Bank's contributions on his account in the fund. It was argued on behalf of the Bank that the Trustees of the Provident Fund were different from the authorities of the Bank and that the Bank was not bound by the action of the Trustees. But if the Bank had terminated his employment or treated him as one no longer in the service of the Bank, it would certainly have informed the Trustees about it and he would have been asked to withdraw the money due to him from the Provident Fund and accumulation of interest on the deposits would have stopped. Rule 20 of the Indian Staff Provident Fund Rules provides that on the dismissal whether with or without notice of any member from the service of the Bank he will be entitled to simple interest at 5 per cent. per annum on the balance to his credit in his subscription account up to the date of his ceasing to be in the service of the Bank. So the Bank cannot avoid the position that the employee was never treated as one whose employment had terminated since he was allowed to remain as a member of the Provident Fund and interest was allowed to accumulate on the deposits therein. I find accordingly that the employment of Sri Haripada Dutta was never terminated by the Bank, that it was never treated as automatically terminated and that it could not be so terminated without notice to him, since he had been permitted to remain on leave without pay for an indefinite period until recovery. It might be that the Bank had expected on 28th August 1945 that he would be fit to join in a few months as he had informed the Bank in his letter dated 23rd July 1945. He himself might also have believed that he would be able to join soon but unfortunately his treatment had to be further prolonged and he was not physically fit to join until April 1948. But since the Bank has not questioned his physical condition or challenged the medical certificates and since he was granted leave for an indefinite period until recovery which leave was never cancelled or revoked by the Bank with notice to him, his employment can never be said to have been lawfully terminated at any time.

It has next been argued that in any case his employment was terminated on 3rd May 1948 when the Bank refused to allow him to join and told him that there was no vacancy for him. He was not, however, told on 3rd May 1948 that his employment had been terminated from that particular date. Even in the Bank's letter, dated 11th May 1948, there is no clear statement that his employment had been terminated with effect from that date. All that the letter stated was that it was ridiculous for the employee to assume that his post would be kept vacant for a period of nearly three years. As a statement of fact no exception may be taken to it. Since he was on leave without pay for a long time it was not to be expected that his post would be kept vacant for all this period. Somebody must have been appointed or asked to act for him when he was granted leave. The Bank has not, however, stated whether his leave vacancy has been permanently filled up and, if so, when. The mere fact that there was no vacancy for this employee and a statement to that effect cannot operate to terminate his employment, since he was entitled to join his duties on 1st May 1948 as one returned from leave which he had been enjoying with the permission of the Bank and which had never been revoked or cancelled. A contract of service cannot be terminated without notice and a mere statement to an employee that no vacancy had been kept for him cannot be treated as amounting to lawful termination of his employment. At the most it amounted to a refusal on the part of the Bank to provide employment for him. It has been argued that the statement amounted to repudiation of the contract, but since the contract is admitted, it could not be unilaterally repudiated and such repudiation could not lawfully terminate the contract. I am unable to find, therefore, that the employment of Sri Haripada Dutta was lawfully terminated by the Bank on 3rd May 1948.

Issue No. 2.

Since the Bank had not lawfully terminated the service of Sri Haripada Dutta at any time, there can be no doubt that it was bound to provide employment for him when he presented himself at the Bank in order to join his duties after full recovery. The whole period of his prolonged absence must be treated as leave without pay since he was granted such leave indefinitely until recovery. It has, however, been contended on behalf of the Bank that it is a case in which the Tribunal should not interfere because there is no allegation by the employee that the refusal of the Bank to provide employment for him was due to any motive for victimisation for legitimate trade union activities. But the dispute comes within the definition of "Industrial Dispute" as defined in section 2(k) of the Industrial Disputes Act, since it is a dispute connected with the non-employment of an employee whose employment had never been lawfully terminated. It is therefore certainly an industrial dispute and the Tribunal has got jurisdiction to interfere in the matter and call upon the Bank to provide employment for him, even if no question of victimisation may arise. It is a case of an employee who has been refused employment in spite of the subsistence of the contract of service and in such a case the Tribunal has got the right to interfere. It has next been argued that the Tribunal should not in any case direct the Bank to provide employment for him but might at the most direct compensation to be paid to him, as compensation was the only remedy he would have got in the civil courts. But if the employee has been wrongfully kept out of employment, the proper remedy to which he is entitled is provision of employment for him. Compensation is not adequate relief in such cases and would not lead to industrial peace. It was finally argued that even if the Tribunal should direct the Bank to provide employment for him, such direction would be infructuous because the Industrial Disputes Act provides no machinery for enforcement of such direction. It is, however, too late in the day to contend that the Industrial Disputes Act does not contain any provision for enforcement of the awards of Industrial Tribunals. The point is now settled by the decision of the High Court of Calcutta in the recent case of the Indian Paper Pulp Co., Ltd., and its workmen and other cases and it is sufficient to refer to section 29 of the Industrial Disputes Act which provides the penalty for breach of the terms of an award. I find accordingly that the Bank is bound to provide employment for the employee Sri Haripada Dutta on the same terms and conditions on which he had been appointed and on the same pay which he had been getting at the time he was granted leave. If the grade of his post has since been revised, the Bank should give him the revised grade and fix his pay accordingly. My award therefore is that Sri Haripada Dutta should be given employment by the Bank within one month from the date of the publication of this award on the above terms and conditions.

Issue No. 3.

The employee has demanded salary and allowance for the period from 1st May 1948, when he presented himself at the Bank for joining his duties. Since the employee was willing to join and did actually present himself to the Bank for joining his duties on 1st May 1948 and was wrongfully refused employment by the Bank, he should get pay for the period from 1st May 1948 until he is provided with employment by the Bank in terms of this award, at the rate he was getting at the time of the accident, namely, Rs. 67 per month, without any allowance.

Award.

Issue No. 1.

The claim under this head and the history relating to this were not set out in the written statement of the Union. I, however, got some indications about the lock-out in the notice given by the Company on the 24th March 1947. The notice is to the following effect:—

TO ALL THE WORKERS OF THE FACTORY.

Since about a week the workers of the factory of practically every department have tried to sabotage, where they could, the working by reducing deliberately and wilfully the production in each department and have created a situation which has reached to a most critical stage in point of view of maintaining and keeping the plant in running condition any further. For instance they have reduced purposely the charges of the Alumina House from 8 to 3 per day, and in the Cell House the tappings have been reduced from 14 to 6 per day, Rolling Mill and Utensil Plant production has also been reduced to a great extent, and the condition of the cells has reached to a stage of total collapse; and if immediate resumption of normal work is not done, this will result in collapsing of the furnace and the loss will be irreparable.

The Management has made best effort to discuss the situation with the labourers, but they are not prepared to discuss themselves and they have made repeated promises that they will resume the work pending final negotiation with their President, who is not here; but they have further deteriorated the position instead of any improvement.

Under these circumstances the Management to save the situation has got no alternative but to declare a temporary close-down till such time when the workers intend to work; and therefore as informed verbally to the Alumina House and Cell House workers that if the work in normal condition is not resumed to-day, the works will be totally closed down from to-morrow, the 25th March 1947, and no shift will be entertained beyond 8 a.m. to-morrow morning.

The Management is very sorry to take this step as the Management has been left with no alternative in the circumstances explained above.

S. C. JAIN,
General Manager,
Aluminium Corporation of India, Limited.
9 a.m.—dated 24th March 1947.

The contemplated lock-out was for some of the departments, but as soon as the lock-out was carried the workers staged a strike of the Power House. The factory including the colony was enveloped in darkness. At that time Professor A. Bari was the President of the Union. He came on the spot and made the workers resume duties unconditionally. The lock-out also disappeared. It is evidently clear that Professor Bari had in his mind the idea of negotiating in the matter. His first desire was to bring normalcy. Within two or three days of his leaving Jaykaynagar the Professor was assassinated and thereafter Mr. M. John, another reputed labour leader, became the President of the Union. There were standing disputes and a compromise was effected on 6th June 1947 the terms whereof will appear from a letter of the Company addressed to Mr. M. John on 6th June 1947. On account of the importance of this letter in this adjudication the whole of it is given in Annexure A. It will appear that no question about wages for this lock-out period arose. Subsequently there was another settlement made on 11th August 1947 in which there was no reference to this thing.

It is thus obviously clear that this was treated as a casualty in this struggle and had been treated as such. The matter, in my opinion, cannot, and ought not to, be re-opened now. The claim is disallowed.

Issue No. 2.

This issue involves enforcement of some terms of the agreement, dated 11th August 1947. The relevant paragraphs are 1, 3, 4, 5, 6 and 10, copies of which are given below:—

"1. That the President of the Union assures on behalf of the workers that all steps would be taken to step-up production and bring it to the normal level keeping in view that each cell is to yield 4·9 tons of metal per month and the standard of efficiency will be around 80 per cent."

* * * * *

"3. That the Re-melting Furnace staff would give 56 billets per furnace per day and that as heretofore they would get bonus of As. 5 (annas five) per billet over and above 40 billets."

"4. That in case the production in the Cell House falls below 4·9 tons and in the Re-melting Furnace below 40 billets, which are the minimum standards that are to be maintained, it would show that a slow-down is in operation and immediate steps would be taken to thrash the matter out in the Works Committee. In case of disagreement in the Works Committee the matter would be referred to the President of the Union and the General Manager of the Corporation for adjudication, without resorting to any direct action. Meanwhile the minimum production as stated above would be maintained."

"5. That the President of the Union and the Management fully agree that strict discipline and good behaviour should be maintained and no insubordination or misconduct on the part of any employees of the Corporation should be tolerated."

"6. In case of misdemeanour a charge-sheet would be framed by the Management and handed over to the delinquent concerned, which he must accept, and the Management will not act unless sufficient opportunity has been given to the worker to explain his conduct."

* * * * *

"10. That the workers who have been dismissed, discharged or who have been served with 14 days' notice, such notice will be withdrawn by the Management from the date of service and they will also be considered as played-off. And all such workers since the 30th July who have been played-off will be reinstated from 11th August forenoon. Further that the Management as a gesture of good-will agree to pay 50 per cent. of their emoluments (including D. F. A.) for such number of days they are off from duty due to dismissal, discharge or played-off reasons till the time the factory starts; but this payment will only be made after one month from 11th August 1947 forenoon and will depend on Management being satisfied that the normal production and discipline have been brought back as embodied in paragraphs 3, 4 and 5 above."

The payment of one-half of the wages was made dependent on the clauses contained in paragraphs 3, 4 and 5. It means that over and above discipline production must not fall below 40 billets and 4·9 tons per cell. These figures have not been reached. Mr. John asked me to take the previous average of production and allow the concession though the standard was not reached. This, I am afraid, is not permissible for two reasons. Firstly this Tribunal cannot tamper with a solemn agreement between the parties and, secondly, there remains the factor that the Company wanted to give this concession if production reached the standard. It may be that the standard was higher than the average, but the consideration for which the Company agreed to pay was this increased production. As the conditions have not been fulfilled, the demand cannot be allowed.

Mr. Madhaban, the Officer-in-charge of the Cell House, was assaulted and it is reported that persons from different departments were involved. I do not go into the question of general discipline as in a matter arising out of this it has been possible to effect a compromise. I do not consider it expedient to rake up questions of discipline and indiscipline at this moment. On the interpretation of this agreement it is not possible for the Tribunal to allow this claim which is rejected.

Issue No. 3.

When the reference was made latrines were not constructed in the quarters meant for the workers. These have since been constructed and there is no grievance over these.

The claim of the Union is for light in different rooms. The Company has provided lights in the passages and stairs. In the neighbouring factories lights have not been given in different rooms. The Company is still a losing concern and many quarters have yet to be constructed. In my opinion, priority should be given to the construction of new quarters than to provision for additional amenities.

There are some kutcha and temporary quarters in which there are no latrines. The Company's viewpoint is that these would be abolished and therefore expenditure for latrines was not called for. This is a view which is not acceptable. There should be temporary latrines if the quarters are temporary. The Management had been convinced of this after a discussion and agreed to construct latrines for kutcha quarters. I decide that the Company shall without unreasonable delay construct latrines for the kutcha quarters.

Issue No. 4.

No award of any Tribunal can cure a malady like this if it exists. I only hope that there will be no complaint in future over such matters.

Issue No. 5.

This is a matter about payment of wages. The proper forum for adjudication is the Court constituted under the Payment of Wages Act. If the Union is so advised, a test case may be made there.

Issue No. 6.

This has not been pressed and is disallowed.

Issue No. 7.

The Company had one time-scale of pay. It remained as a document only; both parties agreed that this was not given effect to. A settlement was made with Mr. John and pursuant to that the Company fixed a scale of pay. This will appear in Annexure A. The Company wants to take shelter under the plea that this was not agreed to as the Union did not consent to it. Paragraph 12 runs thus: —"12. Grade System.— We have already got a Grade System and we are sending a copy of the same for your comments, if any." The Union was not called upon to reply unless it had to suggest anything counter. The silence of the Union meant not disagreement but agreement. In my opinion, the grade and the time-scale contained in the letter, dated the 6th June 1947, came into operation from July 1947 and the wages of the workmen have got to be adjusted in that way. There will be no further increment in July 1948, except in terms of the award of what is generally called the Engineering Tribunal which came in force on 1st April 1948. The wages will be adjusted on 1st July 1947 and the workers will get increments for the past period, if any. My award is confined to the workmen as defined in the Industrial Disputes Act. By the adjustment the wages of no workman should be reduced.

Issue No. 8.

By clause 4 of the agreement, dated 6th June 1947 (Annexure 1) the Company agreed to pay dearness allowance at the rate of Rs. 23 to all employees with effect from 1st February 1947. The complaint of the Union is that coal trammers and tindals were not given this advantage from 1st February 1947. The Company's version is that these persons were contractor's labourers getting wages at piece-rate system and were not regular employees of the Company and were not entitled to this concession. The Company says that it absorbed these persons as its employees from 27th July 1947 and from that time they have been drawing dearness allowance at this rate. The dispute is whether these coal trammers and tindals shall get the enhanced dearness allowance from 1st February 1947 to 26th July 1947.

It is extremely doubtful if the case of piece-raters was in the mind when the parties came to the agreement contained in clause No. 4. According to the rules then prevailing, in addition to the wages per load these persons obtained some allowances.

It is a common case that formerly these persons were not regular employees of the concern. Their names, however, appear in the muster roll. The gangmen were paid on the basis of the total output by these persons. The Company made the payments. These do not, however, clearly indicate that they were employees of the Company. The Company was interested to see that these persons were paid, as otherwise there would be labour difficulty. These factors do not help me to ascertain whether these persons were absorbed as employees of the Company. The only thing that stands out is the admission of the Company that they were absorbed as employees of the Company from 27th July 1947. There is no justification for carrying the date earlier. I decide that the claim be refused.

Issue No. 9.

In view of the award of the Engineering Tribunal which came into operation on 1st April 1948 this Tribunal is not competent to adjudicate on this matter.

Issue No. 10.

After some discussion it was found that payments had been made as provided for in the Factories Act. There is no dispute about this question.

Issue No. 11.

The Company supplies soft coke to all the employees at 12 annas per maund as against the cost price of Re 1-4 per maund. Originally the Company used to supply it at the rate of 6 annas per maund. But it had to raise the price on account of rise in the cost of production. There has been an all-round rise in the cost of production and by supplying coal even at 12 annas per maund the Company is losing 8 annas per maund. I do not think the Company can reasonably be asked to bear more burden.

This does not really come within the jurisdiction of the Tribunal as this is an ex-gratia payment. The claim is refused.

Issue No. 12.

This will be done when wages of different categories of workers will be settled in terms of the award of the Engineering Tribunal.

Issue No. 13.

Since the reference the Company has given accommodation for Union office free of rent. The claim was not pressed.

Issue No. 14.

There is a misconception about the jurisdiction of a Tribunal constituted under the Industrial Disputes Act. The confusion is due to a privately printed copy of the Industrial Disputes Act in use by the Union. It contains a printing mistake. The dispute in the context must be between the employer and the workmen, and a workman has been defined as a "person doing skilled or unskilled manual or clerical work". Persons engaged in supervisory work do not come under the Industrial Disputes Act. So far as the workmen are concerned, the Engineering Tribunal has set down rules.

Another misconception is that when a person is appointed without any grade he may, at the discretion of the Company, be made permanent in any grade, though the previous incumbent might have acted in a higher grade. The case of Ram Chandra Sarma, the Colony Supervisor, was referred to by the Union. I must say straightway that his case does not come under the Industrial Disputes Act as he is not a workmen within the meaning of the term in the Industrial Disputes Act. The previous incumbent was an M.Sc. and was holding a high grade. Sri Ram Chandra Sarma was a Matriculate and he was appointed, necessarily, in a lower grade. The Company assures that if a man is once admitted to a grade even as a probationer he is not given a lower grade after confirmation. As no concrete case was put forward about any workman, the matter must rest at this stage.

Issue No. 15.

The question is about reinstatement of a certain number of employees, viz., (1) Md. Halim, (2) Abdul Rahim, (3) Gule Khan, (4) Kutubuddin, (5) Biswanath Misra, (6) Samad Khan, (7) Jamuna (8) Rathore K. P. Singh, (9) T. D. Bhattacharjee, (10) R. D. Ganguli, (11) Bhagat Singh and (12) C. D. Chakrabarty. To these the name of Golam Gani was added.

Rathore K. P. Singh has withdrawn his case, C. D. Chakrabarty has also withdrawn his case. R. D. Ganguli has left service. Bhagat Singh has left the place and cannot be traced. These cases do not require any adjudication. T. D. Bhattacharjee is an aged person, an old employee of this industry. He has been an Assistant Civil Engineer doing supervisory work. He does not do any manual or clerical work. He is thus not a "workman" within the meaning of the Industrial Disputes Act. His case is outside the jurisdiction of this Tribunal.

I will consider the cases of employees Nos. 1 to 7 and Golam Gani. These persons were dismissed as a sequel to the assault on Mr. Madhaban. Three of them have been convicted of the assault. The Company, as a gesture of good-will and to restore peace for harmonious work in the industry, has agreed to take these men back on some terms. Mr. John has also agreed. It is agreed that on their tendering oral apology to Mr. Madhaban, these persons will be readmitted to service on their full wages. The period of non-work due to dismissal shall be treated as leave without pay. All criminal cases by or against these persons will be withdrawn. Three of these persons tendered apology to Mr. Madhaban in my presence and have already been readmitted to service. The others will without delay comply with the conditions and get themselves readmitted.

Issues Nos. 16 and 17.

The Company wants reduction of men for each department, and for this purpose it is necessary to examine the processes involved vis-a-vis the claim of the Company.

Alumina (Al_2O_3) is found in bauxite, an ore which can be had in abundance in India. The process is to separate alumina from other substances with which it is mixed in bauxite and then to reduce Al_2O_3 to aluminium metal.

At first bauxite is powdered to dust and then treated with caustic soda solution. Alumina remains dissolved in caustic soda solution and the other substances settle down at the bottom as red clay. The red clay thus thrown is used for other purposes. If in the sodium aluminate solution some grains of alumina are introduced as seed, these attract all the alumina in the solution and settle down at the bottom. The caustic soda solution at the top is removed. Caustic soda is again obtained from this solution and again used for the same purpose though a quantity is lost. Alumina thus obtained is in jelly form. It is dried up and the process involved is similar to the process in operation in sugar and cement factories. Thus alumina powder is obtained. Now comes the stage to separate oxygen from this alumina. This is done in the Cell House. There are various cells where processes of electrolysis is carried on. The principle is the same as electrolysis of water, the cells having carbon anodes and cathodes. The cells are as big as motor trucks and the top lid mechanism has got to be lowered at times by a complicated process. There are heavy and thick carbon blocks at the bottom and side of the cells. Electricity of 24,000 amperes and 5·5 voltage have got to be passed. The cells are filled with alumina powder and then electricity applied. The substance has got to be stirred up at intervals to allow liberated oxygen pass off. If this is not done the result is useless wastage of electric energy which is costly as it is generated from a thermal station run with the help of coal. Another and a more dangerous effect is that if liberated oxygen remains locked up in the cells for more time than necessary, extra heat will be generated killing the furnaces, eventually requiring relining of the furnaces which cost about Rs. 10,000 each.

Liquid aluminum thus obtained from furnaces is cooled and ingots are obtained which in turn are melted after removing floating impurities. These are then made into slabs which are really rectangular.

The slabs are then taken to the Rolling Room. Each slab is placed between two rotating rollers and the distance between the two rollers are gradually reduced to convert the slab into a sheet. The sheet is then passed on for making utensils. Any slackness or delay will mean useless wastage of power and low output and unnecessary heavy wear and tear on machinery.

The consumption of electricity in the Cell House for every ton of ingot in this factory is 30,000 kilowatts as against 20,000 kilowatts in other comparable factories. The expenditure of electrical energy in the Rolling Room for a ton of sheet is 300 kilowatts as against 140 kilowatts in comparable factories.

The loss of electrical energy is emphasised by the fact that this is produced not by hydro-electricity but from a thermal station. To avoid cost of bringing coal from a distance this factory has been established on the pit head of a coal mine. This has, however, resulted in expenditure in a different direction. No boring of tube-well being possible, the factory has to bring water from a stream about 3 miles away for the factory as well as for all the inmates of the colony who are engaged for this work.

The price of ingots produced by the factory is a little over 28 lacs a year while the expenses of labour is 32 lacs out of which only 9 per cent. is for supervisory staff.

The cost of production must be reduced if the industry is to survive. Nobody will pay more for J. K. Aluminum than for aluminum from factories of other countries.

All-round economy is necessary and my task is to examine economy of labour. The factory was started at a time when the workmen were not trained. More men were thus necessary to carry out the work. By this time men have been trained and it can be reasonably expected that they can and should do more work and release surplus hands. Labour should remember that a factory cannot be run at a loss for many years. Industry must survive to offer employment to labour. Labour should also understand that they are to be paid only from the price of what they produce. It should be the earnest desire of the labour to see that economy is made and it can take the just pride that it takes only from the price of articles it produces. Intensification of work is not by itself bad, but the purpose makes it bad. If it is taken recourse to for bringing profit to the factory owner without adequate compensation for labour, this is bad. This is never bad when recourse is taken to it to secure the wages of labour.

The Company with the help of experts and technicians have produced a plan and in the absence of any rival plan or comments against it I should enforce it and desire that this becomes successful. On this depends everything, success of the factory and employment of labour.

Taking that 40 cells will be working, I settle on the recommendation of the Management that the following number will be required for the Cell House and the other departments:—

1.	Power House	...	122
2.	Alumina House	...	152
3.	Cell House	...	115
4.	Paste Plant	...	29
5.	Rolling Mills	...	134
6.	Aluminium Fabrication	...	96
7.	Laboratory	...	22
8.	Activated Carbon Plant	...	16
9.	Building	...	38
10.	Mechanical Engineering (General)	...	4
11.	Electric	...	35
12.	Erection and Fabrication	...	41
13.	Workshop including Foundry	...	59
14.	Watch and Ward	...	51
15.	Stores	...	13
16.	Colony	...	19
17.	Labour and Welfare	...	2
18.	General	...	141
	Total	...	1,154

This will create a surplus of permanent men even, not to speak of the extra men now employed. The permanent men now employed will without reduction of wages be given other jobs found suitable by the Company. On account of intensification of work the Management will keep in each department the workmen who can do best in that department. The rest will be employed in other works. There shall be no demur by any person about allocation of new work and as labour must be profitably used, no one person shall be entitled to say that he is not used to do the work he is asked to do.

Now comes the question of the persons taken as extras. They can be discharged at any moment by the Company. Their discharge is imminent and inevitable. The Management assures that they want economic production of aluminium and cannot increase loss. The factory has got more cells in reserve which can be brought under use. If production is not affected by employing the reduced strength, they will be encouraged to bring more cells under use. The Company contemplates this. This may give some scope for employment of extras after absorbing the permanent men. No retrenchment of extras shall be made before 20th February 1949, if that be necessary, and even then the retrenchment must be gradual so as not to give a rude shock to the labour force. In any event retrenchment of extras must not exceed 158. A list of persons so discharged shall be maintained and the Union Secretary shall keep the addresses of the persons. In case of any new appointment preference will be given to these men.

Issue No. 18.

It is conceded that these persons are not governed by the Factories Act and the claim is not pressed.

Issue No. 19.

So far as the persons readmitted to service are concerned, they may occupy their quarters. So far as the occupation of quarters by Sri T. D. Bhattacharjee is concerned, it is outside my jurisdiction to say anything.

Issue No. 20.

The strike took place after the reference and this Tribunal is not competent to express any opinion or to adjudicate anything about that.

Stone & B. I. C. Employees Union, Head Office 47A, Rash Behari Avenue, Ballygunj, Calcutta, Branch Office: 10D, Watgunge Street, Kidderpore, Calcutta, was referred for adjudication to Sri P. R. Mukherjee, Additional District Judge;

And whereas the said Sri P. R. Mukherjee, Additional District Judge, has given the award as shown in the annexure hereto;

The award made by the said Sri P. R. Mukherjee, Additional District Judge, shall bind the Company and their workmen aforesaid as specified therein and shall remain in force for a period of one year with effect from the date of its publication.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between the Management of Bengal Ingot Company, Ltd., 5, Hide Road, Kidderpore, Calcutta, and their employees represented by J. Stone & B. I. C. Employees Union, Head Office: 47A, Rash Behari Avenue, Ballygunge, Calcutta.

PRESENT: SRI P. R. MUKHERJEE, Judge, Industrial Tribunal.

For the Company: Sri S. C. Sen, Advocate.

For the Union: Sri Kiron Chandra Mitra, Advocate.

Pursuant to the provisions of sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the Government of West Bengal referred the above dispute to me for adjudication by order No. 3158Lab., dated the 3rd September 1948.

The case of the Employees' Union is that the Company had dismissed two workers of the Union —Md. Idris and Lachman —on 23rd June 1948. The matter was referred to the Labour Commissioner but he failed to effect an arbitration. Then on 17th July 1948 the Management of Bengal Ingot Company, Ltd., served notice on 61 workers on 17th July 1948 on the ground of insufficient work. Retrenchment was not followed according to any particular policy—junior hands were retained and senior hands were retrenched. There was according to Union at that time no bona fide necessity of retrenchment as the Workshop was running in two shifts and during the day shift overtime work was going on.

The matter again went to the Labour Commissioner on 31st July 1948 for conciliation and while the matter was pending, 30 more members of the permanent staff were discharged and among those discharged workmen from the permanent staff, there were employees who have served the Company for about 29 years. The Union presses for restoration of the workers and also presses for gratuity and compensation.

The Company submitted a written statement alleging that all these discharges were not cases of victimisation but had to be made due to the lack of work which had been decreasing for some months. It is, however, stated that retrenchment was carried out by the Company according to a bona fide plan, the object of which was to maintain the proportion of skilled and semi-skilled and unskilled workers as before in order to carry on the satisfactory work of the factory.

Issues.

(1) Are the discharged workers to be reinstated?

(2) Are the workers entitled to extra dearness allowance and bonus as claimed?

Award.

Issue No. 1.—Are the discharged workers to be reinstated?

On going through the facts and the records of the case including the file of the Labour Commissioner, I find that the trouble started originally over the insistence of a holiday on the 10th June 1948 by the workers. The workers demanded that it should be a holiday as the West Bengal Government has declared it to be a public holiday on account of the King's Birthday. The Management notified that 10th June should be a normal working day whereupon, according to the Union, the workers approached Mr. Howell in a body and persuaded him to grant a holiday on the 10th June. This is denied by Mr. Howell who says that he distinctly gave the workers who approached him to understand that 10th June would be a normal working day. Whatever that might be, the workers in a body absented themselves from work except 3/4 men who according to the workers are not members of their Union. The Management asked explanation for the absence from the workers. It is alleged that at first two of the workers Lachman and Idris (Assistant Secretary of the Union) were discharged from service.

Some arguments were advanced on the point if 10th June was declared a holiday by Mr. Howell on the insistence of the workers. I do not think it necessary to enter into the controversial point inasmuch as it is the case of the Company that the discharges complained of had to be made for paucity of work and were results of bona fide retrenchment and not at all connected with the determined absence of the workers on the 10th June on the plea of a holiday.

It is found that the Company discharged 61 workers on 17th July 1948 and 15 workers on 31st July 1948. The Company takes the plea of bona fide retrenchment.

The question is if this retrenchment were bona fide or in other words, if the employees were dismissed by way of victimisation. Oral and documentary evidence have been adduced by both the parties and as such the question of onus loses its importance. It is suggested by the Union that of the discharged employees, Md. Idris is the Assistant Secretary and Prasanta Mittra, Nandalal Mukherjee and Lachman are connected with the executive committee of the Union. Regarding the remaining workers, definite evidence of direct union activity could not be produced. In my opinion it is very difficult to prove exact Union activity of the workers for it may be that in some cases the employer may choose less prominent and insignificant workers than touch the ring leaders. In some cases a very slight evidence on the part of the Union to prove Union activity may be sufficient. The main question is what sort of proof is necessary to prove Union activity. A fact is said to be proved if considering the matter before it, the Court considers it so probable that it exists. This is the standard definition laid down in the Indian Evidence Act and is being universally adopted as a salutory canon of justice in Courts of Law. Now if, after considering all the facts and circumstances, a Judge comes to the conclusion in a particular case that there is Union activity, then it is sufficient. The evidence adduced by the Union is to be judged along with the facts and circumstances and evidence adduced by the employer. In this particular case, the main case of the Company is that these are all cases of bona fide retrenchment and that the Company was incurring loss and that there was scarcity of work and as such retrenchment had to be made. If this state of things as urged by the Company to exist proves false and if the facts and circumstances disclose that there was no bona fide case for retrenchment, then certainly an inference can be legitimately drawn that these retrenchments were malafide and had been made for an ulterior motive. Necessary presumption will be that the undesirable elements had been eliminated by the Company. The inference would be much more strong if this retrenchment is made without any policy or method. In this peculiar case some Union activity of some workers is directly proved and as regards others it may be said that they are camp followers and from the nature of retrenchment and the hasty way in which this has been done, I am firmly of opinion that this circumstance goes very much against the employer and it may be said that the case of the Union has been rather proved by the Company.

Now to come to the concrete facts. The employees who had been discharged were serving the Bengal Ingot Company which came into existence in 1945. Formerly most of the employees were serving in J. Stone & Co., Ltd. The service of these employees had been transferred to the Bengal Ingot Company by the order of Mr. James who is Managing Director of both the Companies and he deposes that by his order, any employee of J Stone & Co., Ltd., can act in the Bengal Ingot Company. From the evidence adduced in this case, I am of opinion that practically these two Companies are run by the same Managing Director and are practically one and the same Company—Provident Fund is same for employees of both the Companies and that there is only one Accountant for both these establishments. It is urged by the employer that when Bengal Ingot Company came into existence, the employees of J. Stone & Co. had to be shifted to the new Company as J. Stone & Co. was then running at a loss and had not these employees been transferred in the new establishment, those workers would have been stranded. In the next place, it is urged that these employees chose to serve Bengal Ingot Company and on their own choice they were employed there. I may say at once that none of these pleas is proved by evidence worth the name. In the first place, there is absolutely no evidence to show that J. Stone & Co. was running at a loss at that time and in the next place, there is absolutely no evidence to show that these employees elected to serve the new establishment. On the other hand, there is evidence that the same Provident Fund which they had in J. Stone & Co. was carried forward in the new establishment. The employees in J. Stone & Co. who were subsequently brought to serve in the new establishment have got lien on the old Company which is still in existence and is being run with profit. The balance-sheet of J. Stone & Co. of 1947 shows profit over a lac of rupees. It is thus clear that J. Stone & Co. was not closed but run all along with profit side by side with Bengal Ingot Company, and the latter had made huge profit in 1947, the profit estimated over 6½ lacs. The Company curiously enough started retrenching by the middle of 1948 before the year had run its full course, and there was absolutely no necessity of curtailing the staff so drastically in the middle of the season. I have a shrewd suspicion that Mr. Howell could not forget the impertinence of the workers as displayed by their determined absence on 10th June last and instead of victimising the workers immediately after the incident, the plea of retrenchment was trotted out to discharge the undesirable elements. There was absolutely no policy nor any well-cut method followed in retrenching the staff. Retrenchment had been made quite arbitrarily. Some of the workers who had rendered over six years' service had been retrenched while junior men having done barely one year's service had been retained. The case of two of the discharged workers, to wit Rash Behari Ghosh and Harendra Nath Ghosh is one of worst victimisation. Rash Behari Ghosh had put in nearly twenty-nine years' service and Harendra Nath Ghosh twenty-two years' service. Both of them were formerly employees of J. Stone & Co. and later on brought to Bengal Ingot Company. Even assuming that Bengal Ingot Company could not afford to retain these two men, they ought to have been easily brought back to J. Stone & Co. on which they had their lien. I held a formal discussion with the Management over the reinstatement of these two gentlemen. I learnt that one man in J. Stone & Co. was soon going to retire in whose place Rash Behari Ghosh was suggested to be absorbed but the Management was adamant. This shows that the Management is unwilling to rectify the wanton insult and irreparable wrong done to the workers. In my opinion, all these cases of retrenchment were malafide and further the Management wanted to get rid of undesirable elements and to create a terror in Union workers. The Company submits list of 78 persons who have been discharged. Their names will appear in the Appendix. The Union, however, pressed claim of restoration for the following 12 persons. Considering all the facts, I direct that the following twelve persons should be restored:—(1) Rash Behari Ghosh, (2) Harendra Nath Ghosh, (3) Fakir, (4) P. C. Dalui, (5) Md. Idris, (6) Latif, (7) Nanda Lal Mukherjee, (8) Lachman, (9) Haripada, (10) Sankari, (11) Paban and (12) Chintamony Banerjee.

All these workers should be restored in their own grade of pay and wages within two months from the date of publication of this award. I further order that the services of these reinstated workers should be deemed to be continuous. All these workers should get their arrear wages including dearness allowance from the date of discharge till the date of restoration.

Regarding the remaining 66 workers whose names appear in the Appendix, my finding is that they have also been all unjustly discharged. I further understand that the Company is already making new appointments and that the Union has gone to the length of submitting such names but this fact is sternly denied by the Company. Whatever that may be, I direct that the Company should reappoint these workers according to seniority before they recruit new hands. To give effect to this direction, it is further necessary to direct that all these workers should be asked if they are inclined to serve the present Company and appointment should be made according to seniority out of these workers who elect to serve this Company. If, however, the Company is not in a position to re-engage these men within three months from the date of the publication of the award, the Company should pay compensation on the following basis—Half month's basic pay for each completed year of service subject to a maximum of fifteen months' basic pay. Compensation is to be calculated on the basis of average substantive pay during the last twelve months of service. If in calculating compensation as aforesaid, it is found that it is less than the Provident Fund in deposit to the credit of a particular workman, he should get Provident Fund money in lieu of compensation. In case of others, who will get compensation as aforesaid, they will not be further entitled to Provident Fund. The Company is further directed not to recruit any new hand within the aforesaid period of three months other than these discharged workers who elect to serve under them.

The award is to come into force on such date as the Government may be pleased to notify.

Issue No. 2.—Are the workers entitled to extra dearness allowance and bonus as claimed?

Regarding issue number 2, i.e., claim of extra dearness allowance and bonus, it was not pressed.

Summary of the award.

The following workers (1) Rash Behari Ghosh, (2) Harendra Nath Ghosh, (3) Fakir, (4) P. C. Dalui, (5) Md. Idris, (6) Latif, (7) Nanda Lal Mukherjee, (8) Lachman, (9) Haripada, (10) Sankari, (11) Paban and (12) Chintamony Banerjee are to be reinstated in their own grade and pay including dearness allowance within two months from the date of publication of the award.

The discharged workers as per Appendix are to be given an option to serve the Company—those who are not willing to serve any more, should be given compensation as mentioned in the body of the award.

Regarding the workers who elect to serve the Company, they are to be provided within the period of three months; if not, they are to be paid compensation as aforesaid.

The Company is directed not to make any new recruitment other than out of the discharged workers within the period of three months from the date of publication of the award.

ANNEXURE.

Report of the Board of Conciliation in the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. B. N. Elias & Co., Ltd., Norton Buildings, 1 and 2, Court House Corner, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by the Joint Secretary, B. N. Elias & Co., Ltd., Employees' Union, 256/A, Bowbazar Street, Calcutta.

SRI P. K. SARKAR, Additional District Judge, Chairman.

MR. A. LOW and SRI P. K. SANYAL, members of the Board.

By Government order No. 3714Lab., dated the 16th October 1948, the above dispute was referred to a Board of Conciliation under section 5 of the Industrial Disputes Act for investigating the said dispute and promoting a settlement thereof. The Board was constituted with three members, namely, Mr. A. Low of Messrs. Bird & Co. as the Company's representative, Sri P. K. Sanyal as the Union's representative and Sri P. K. Sarkar, Additional District Judge, who was appointed as the Chairman. The Board held in all seven sittings on different dates in the months of October, November and December for hearing and investigation of the dispute. In these sittings Mr. S. R. Zackaria, Chief Personnel Officer of the Company, represented the Company and Sri Nirmal Kumar Sen, President, and Sri G. P. Sarathi, Joint Secretary, represented the Union. The last sitting of the Board for hearing the dispute was held on 15th December 1948. Thereafter the members of the Board met on two occasions for discussion of the report.

(1) History of the dispute.

Messrs. B. N. Elias & Co., Ltd., are the managing agents for several companies. This Company has its Head Office at Norton Buildings which comprises several departments in relation to the different companies which it manages. The Company retrenched several officers and clerks and some of the subordinate staff in the course of the months of May, June, July, August and September. The first retrenchment took place on 31st May 1948 and thereupon the Union brought the matter to the notice of the Labour Commissioner. Subsequently, on 30th June 1948 a large number of men were given notice of discharge. The matter was again brought to the notice of the Labour Commissioner by the Union and a joint conference was held at the instance of the Labour Commissioner on 19th July 1948 for settlement of the dispute. Thereafter several such conferences were held but no settlement could be arrived at. On 31st July 1948 some more employees were discharged. On 5th August 1948 the Union served a strike notice on the Company but no strike was held as the Labour Commissioner pointed out that the strike would be illegal. Subsequently on 31st August 1948 and on 30th September 1948 some other employees were discharged. The Government then referred the dispute to the Conciliation Board.

(2) The facts and circumstances relating to the dispute.

In all 40 officers and clerks and 14 subordinate staff like peons and orderlies have been discharged by the Company. In the case of three of the clerks the notices of discharge were withdrawn subsequently and two were given alternative employment. Some of the discharged personnel are officers who are not members of the Union. They are six in number. The Company has closed a department known as the Advertising and Publicity Department in consequence of which five employees have been thrown out of employment. The Union did not press the dispute regarding the discharge of these officers and the five employees of the Advertising and Publicity Department. As regards the remaining 29 clerical employees the Company's case is that their discharge became necessary for the purpose of rationalisation. The Company states that in the early part of this year financial considerations began to engage the attention of the Directors and they sought ways and means for rationalising the work in the Head Office of the Company and curtailing expenses. A Time Study Engineer was engaged for this purpose. The departmental heads were consulted and it was found that more men were employed in the Head Office than necessary and that the work done by these men could be performed by a lesser number of men with greater efficiency. All sections were scrutinised in this manner and the men found to be in excess were retrenched by gradual stages. As regards the method of selecting men for retrenchment the Company's position is that generally the oldest employees were selected, if they could be spared, and that the question of efficiency was also considered. Thus inefficient men who might not come under the category of oldest hands were also selected for retrenchment. Another principle adopted was to select men who had been newly appointed subject, of course, to the consideration of efficiency. The Company held certain discussions with the Union regarding the personnel to be selected and the Company's case is that the Union agreed to the discharge of some of them.

The Union's case is that it had no objection to the Company's selecting for retrenchment the men who were sufficiently old and those who were new entrants. The Union, however, objected to the retrenchment of personnel who did not fall in either of the categories on the alleged ground of inefficiency. In the course of discussion before the Board it appeared that the Union had consented to the retrenchment of all but seven of the clerical employees to whom notices of discharge had been given and had also consented to the retrenchment of eight of the subordinate staff. The Union stated before the Board that it had objection to discharge of only seven of the clerical employees and had no objection to the rest whose case was not at all pressed. These seven employees are:—

(1) D. N. Ganguly, No. 14 of the Union's list.
(2) M. C. Ghosh, No. 15 of the Union's list.
(3) S. C. Chakravarty, No. 16 of the Union's list.
(4) A. K. Das, No. 22 of the Union's list.
(5) T. P. Banerji, No. 23 of the Union's list.
(6) P. C. Sarkar, No. 28 of the Union's list.
(7) H. N. Ganguly, No. 31 of the Union's list.

The Union's objection is that these men were neither very old nor new entrants. This is practically admitted by the Company, but the Company's case is that these men were selected for retrenchment because they were inefficient. The Union also raised a dispute regarding the two men, namely, R. R. Bhattacharyya and G. Ramchandran, who had been given alternative employment, on the ground that they had not been given the same pay and allowances which they had enjoyed before their retrenchment. As regards the subordinate staff the Union objected to the discharge of six of the men, namely, (1) Bhabna Barik, (2) Nilmoni Das, (3) Muralidhar Mahanty, (4) Moni Das, (5) Surjamani Mahakur and (6) Pandab Das (Nos. 46-51 of the Union's list), on the ground that they were neither very old nor new entrants.

(3) Attempts made by the Board to settle the dispute and the reasons for the failure.

The Board made various attempts to settle the dispute and it is very unfortunate that a settlement which was almost in sight at some stages during discussions did not ultimately materialise. As stated above, the Union did not question before the Board the Company's ground for retrenchment, namely, rationalisation. The Union of course stated that the Company had retrenched more men than necessary for the purpose of rationalisation and that as a result the existing staff was being overworked, but it is difficult for the Board to express any opinion on the staff necessary for carrying on the Company's business without proper materials and in the ultimate analysis an employer must be deemed to be the best judge of the number of employees he requires for carrying out his work. The Union also agreed not to press the dispute regarding a large majority of the retrenched personnel who had been discharged by following the principles insisted upon by the Union. The Union only demanded reinstatement of the seven clerks and of the six men of the subordinate staff mentioned above because the said principles had not been adhered to in their case. The Union's case is that these men did not fall within the category of either the "oldest" or the "newest" employees and thus should not have been retrenched. The Company admitted this position in regard to the seven clerical employees but pleaded that the principle of retrenching the oldest and the newest employees could not be adhered to in their cases, having regard to the question of efficiency, and that these men had been selected for retrenchment in deviation of the principles adopted in other cases because they were inefficient. As to their inefficiency the Company has filed a statement in which it is mentioned that there were complaints regarding some of these men by the heads of the departments on the ground of incompetence or inefficiency. As regards one man, namely, P. C. Sarkar, however, the Company did not suggest incompetence or inefficiency. He was in the Bill Section which was closed and he was retrenched because the Accounts Department did not require his services. It appears, however, according to the statement of the Union, which has not been challenged, that P. C. Sarkar had previously served in the office of Burn & Co. for a period of fifteen years and that he had been brought to the Head Office of this Company with assurance of permanent service and other prospects. Mr. Zackaria, on behalf of the Company, ultimately agreed to reinstate P. C. Sarkar, but as regards the other six clerks he insisted that they could not be re-employed on account of their inefficiency. Regarding incompetence or inefficiency, however, Mr. Zackaria did not produce any written record or evidence. The Union stated that there had never been any complaints against these men to their knowledge before they were discharged and that the Company's present accusation regarding them is an after-thought. The Union even agreed to the discharge of six other men in place of these six men (excluding P. C. Sarkar whom the Company has agreed to reinstate), provided those men were selected by following the principle that the oldest and the newest employees should be retrenched. Mr. Zackaria took two adjournments to consult the Board of Directors on this offer of the Union, but ultimately informed the Board of Conciliation that the Company was not willing to reinstate these six men. Mr. Zackaria did not make any counter offer and thus there was a deadlock which prevented settlement.

(4) Findings of the Board.

Since the Union agreed not to press the case of any of the employees excepting the seven clerical employees and the six subordinate staff mentioned above, it is not necessary for the Board to go into the cases of the other men. It is not also necessary to go into the question of the necessity for retrenchment as the Union did not dispute the ground for retrenchment, viz., rationalisation. With regard to the two employees who had been given alternative employment, namely, R. R. Bhattacharyya and G. Ramchandran, the Union having consented to their retrenchment and they having agreed to accept the alternative employments offered to them, the Union cannot be allowed to raise any question regarding the terms of their employment, even if the said terms be less generous than what they were enjoying before. The Company having agreed to re-employ P. C. Sarkar, his case also need not be considered by the Board. As regards the other six clerical employees it is difficult for the Board to find that they were really inefficient or incompetent as the Company has produced no material before the Board to that effect. The principle of retrenchment upon which the Union insisted and which is quite sound had been generally accepted by the Company in the other cases, but it is unfortunate that it was not applied in the case of these six men. No doubt an employer is the best judge of an employee's efficiency but before an employee is discharged for inefficiency he should have timely warnings and be given an opportunity to improve and mend his ways. It is not alleged by Mr. Zackaria that this was done in these cases and that there are any written records to that effect. The Board is therefore forced to the conclusion that these men have been condemned unheard without an opportunity being given to them to explain whatever there was against them regarding their work and to improve, if possible. As regards the six men of the subordinate staff the Board is not convinced that they were not properly selected for retrenchment and cannot agree with the Union that the principle of retrenchment adopted by the Company has been violated in their case. The Union's case is that these six men had not been recruited before 1947 and were not new entrants. They were no doubt recruited in 1947, but it is not stated that there are any men junior to them among the sub-staff. If they are the juniormost in point of length of service, as the Company states, it must be held that they had been properly selected for retrenchment and that the principle had not been violated in their cases.

Recommendations of the Board.

The Board feels that it would have been much better if the Company had seen its way to take back the six clerical employees mentioned above as they agreed to do in the case of one (P. C. Sarkar). Such an offer on the part of the Company would have led to an amicable settlement of the dispute and established good relations between the Company and the Union. In the interest of such relations the Company should, in the opinion of the Board, take back these six men, namely, (1) D. N. Ganguly, (2) M. C. Ghosh, (3) S. C. Chakravarty, (4) A. K. Das, (5) T. P. Banerji and (6) H. N. Ganguly.

No. 466Lab.—1st February 1949.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Commerce, Labour and Industries Department, order No. 205Lab., dated the 26th January 1948, as amended by order No. 2281Lab., dated the 9th July 1948, the industrial dispute between Sri Vishuddananda Saraswati Marwari Hospital, 118, Amherst Street, Calcutta, and their employees as represented by All-Bengal Hospital Workers' Union, 12A, Arpuli Lane, Calcutta, was referred for adjudication to Sri S. K. Haldar, I.C.S.;

And whereas the said Sri S. K. Haldar, I.C.S., has given the award as shown in the annexure hereto;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (2) of section 15 read with sub-section (3) of section 19 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased to make the following order and to direct with reference to section 17 of the said Act that the award be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

The award made by the said Sri S. K. Haldar, I.C.S., shall bind the Company and their workmen aforesaid as specified therein and shall remain in force for a period of one year with effect from the date of publication.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Sri Vishuddananda Saraswati Marwari Hospital versus their Workmen as represented by All-Bengal Hospital Workers' Union.

PRESENT: SRI S. K. HALDAR, I.C.S.

For the Hospital: Sri Sudhangshu Kumar Ghosh, Attorney-at-law, of Messrs. Charu Chundra Bosu, Solicitors.

For the Union: Sri Dwijendra Lal Sen Gupta, Pleader.

Award.

This dispute between Sri Vishuddananda Saraswati Marwari Hospital and their workmen as represented by the All-Bengal Hospital Workers' Union was referred to Sri S. K. Sen for adjudication by Government of West Bengal in notification No. 205Lab., dated 26th January 1948. The hospital authorities went up to the Hon'ble High Court for setting aside the reference on the ground inter alia that a hospital is not an industry. Meanwhile Sri S. K. Sen having been transferred, the Government of West Bengal by notification No. 2281Lab., dated 9th July 1948, referred the dispute to me for arbitration. The contention of the hospital that it is not an industry was not upheld by the Hon'ble High Court.

Before proceeding to give my award, I would briefly recapitulate the circumstances which led to the dispute. Sri Vishuddananda Marwari Hospital was established in Calcutta in the year 1919 and comprises Homeopathic, Allopathic and Ayurvedic branches of treatment. It has got a "Rashayan-Shala"—a factory for manufacture of Ayurvedic drugs and medicines, which, as the Hindi catalogue produced before me shows, are sold in the market. The hospital was created on a charitable trust fund and expenses of the hospital are met therefrom. Only Marwari families are treated as in-door patients in the hospital, but the out-door department is open to all communities. Of the total staff numbering between 110 and 125, approximately 54 persons are menials consisting of 6 durwans, 3 methors, 37 goalas and 8 dais. These 54 workers are the disputants before me and their basic pay varies from Rs. 20 to Rs. 6 only and dearness allowance from Rs. 21 to Rs. 9 only. According to them, other amenities of service are extremely meagre. The workmen being unsuccessful in getting their grievances redressed, enrolled themselves as members of the All-Bengal Hospital Workers' Union, a registered Trade Union under the Trade Unions Act of 1926. Conciliation Officers did not succeed in bringing about a settlement and hence the dispute has been referred by Government to arbitration by this Tribunal.

The following issues were framed:—

Issues.

(1) Recognition of the Union.

(2) Conditions of service—
- (a) Probationary period.
- (b) Mode of discharge, dismissal and other punishments.
- (c) Retrenchment.

(3) Minimum basic pay and grades and scales of pay.

(4) Dearness allowance.

(5) Special allowances—
- (a) City allowance.
- (b) Essential service allowance.
- (c) Children's education allowance.

(6) Provision of quarters or house rent allowance in lieu thereof.

(7) Uniforms and dress.

(8) Pujah bonus and Independence bonus.

(9) Retiring benefits—Provident Fund, gratuity, pension.

(10) Working hours.

(11) Privilege leave, sick leave, casual leave and festival holidays.

(12) Medical aid to employees and their families.

I now proceed to give my award on each of the issues.

Issue No. 1.—Recognition of the Union.

The hospital authorities in their written statement say that the recognition of the Union is a matter which could be more beneficially decided by mutual negotiations between the Management and the Union. There has been no dearth of negotiation on the part of the Union, but the Management continued to be unresponsive (vide paragraphs 7, 8, 9 and 10 of the Union's written statement). The Management in its written statement, paragraph 5, says the attitude of the Union is "uncompromising", that the Union is bent upon putting obstacles in the way of the Management, and for these and other reasons no recognition is possible, unless the Union suitably modifies its terms and clauses. The terms and clauses undoubtedly refer to basic pay, dearness allowance and other allowances. The Management in its written statement avers that those are quite adequate and no further increment is justified. Therefore the plain meaning of the conditions under which the Management is prepared to recognise the Union is that the Union should give up its demand for higher basic pay and other allowances. I consider this attitude of the Management as unfair and uncompromising. Unfortunately under the law as it stands today, I cannot compel the Management to recognise the Union, but I should say that it would be to the best interests of the Management itself to recognise the Union. I strongly recommend such a course.

Issue No. 2.—Conditions of service.

(a) Probationary period.—It is admitted on all hands that the disputants consist of unskilled workmen such as darwans, methors, goalas, dais, etc. A dai, as I have been able to ascertain during argument, is not a trained midwife, but merely a female attendant. Hence I would fix a probationary period of three months for all categories of workmen.

(b) Mode of discharge, dismissal or other punishments.—There should be no proceeding of discharge, dismissal or any other punishment except on a written charge, a copy of which is to be served on the workman concerned. In every case, a reasonable time not less than seven days must be given to the workman to explain his conduct and to offer his defence. If the Union takes up the defence of the workman concerned, the Union must be given a reasonable opportunity to be heard in the same manner as the workman himself. The final order must be recorded.

An order of suspension may take effect immediately after the charge is framed and a copy of it is served on the workman concerned.

(c) Retrenchment.—The power to retrench staff should be exercised by the Management with care and due consideration of all the circumstances. The principle of "last come first go" must be followed unless there are some very substantial reasons to justify a contrary course. Retrenched hands should have priority for appointment when any suitable vacancy arises.

Issues Nos. 3 and 4.—Minimum basic pay, grades and scales of pay and dearness allowance.

From the unchallenged statement supplied to me by the Union, I notice that the present basic pay varies from Rs. 6 (in the case of a workman named Deo with ten years' service) to Rs. 20 (in the case of durwan Maghon Singh), the basic pay in the majority of cases being Rs. 15. Such a low scale of pay is absurd and a disgrace to the Management. It surprised me no little to see the Management endeavouring to justify this wretched pay scale on the ground of other existing amenities. Whatever the other amenities be, a pay scale averaging Rs. 15 per month ought to bring a blush of shame in every face. Although according to the Management there is only one category of workmen—all unskilled labourers—yet admittedly there are different scales of present basic pay. The Union demands that there should be four categories, viz., (1) Darwans (Rs. 50—2/8—75), (2) Electric mistri, machineman, plumbers, bhattimen (Rs. 45—1/8—60), (3) Methors, sweepers and goalas (Rs. 40—1/8—55) and (4) Dais (Rs. 35—1—55). In my view, it would be fair and just to have these four categories of workmen, as suggested by the Union. I next proceed to decide what in all fairness their respective basic pays and dearness allowances ought to be.

It cannot seriously be doubted that in accordance with the Pay Commission's recommendations and regard being had to the present price index of essential commodities, the scales of pay as suggested by the Union are not at all unreasonable. But the wants of a workman are not the only criterion to decide what his pay should be. The financial ability of the employer has also to be taken into consideration. In this particular case there is another important factor which must not escape notice. The employer is a hospital, a charitable institution and not a profit-making industry. Even those who adhere to the rigid economic view that an industry incapable of affording bare subsistence allowance to its workmen has no justification for existence, must hesitate to apply that principle in the case of a humane and charitable institution like a hospital. Unfortunately this hospital is mainly a sectarian institution because its indoor patients are exclusively Marwaris. Therefore it does not fully deserve that sympathy which it would get if its beds were available for all. But still the fact cannot be denied that it is built on a sacred trust with a sacred mission to perform. I, therefore, decide the question of pay and allowance of the menials taking into equal consideration their wants and its ability to pay.

I have carefully examined the balance-sheet of the hospital as it stood on 31st March 1948. In it a deficit amounting to Rs. 24,292 and odd is shown, and on the strength of this, an argument was made on behalf of the Management that the hospital is already being run at a loss and that any increase in wages, however slight, will make the position financially insecure. But the alleged deficit, as shown in the current balance-sheet, does not stand scrutiny and appears to me to be more fancied than real. The income or assets side has purposely been undervalued in order to swell the so-called deficit figure. Several admitted incomes have not all been taken into consideration at all. Thus (to quote from the balance-sheet footnote) "This year's outstanding rents for March 1948 have not been taken into consideration on account of the plea that most of the rent-bills are in dispute and the Management is not sure of their full realisation." The realisation may not be full, but that is no good reason for ignoring the entire item. Then again, as I have already stated, there is a Rashayon-Shala or factory, for manufacture of Ayurvedic medicines attached to the hospital. From the price-list supplied of Ayurvedic medicines manufactured in this factory, it would not be improper to conclude that the hospital makes a brisk trade in such goods. The Hon'ble High Court before which the Management went up in motion observed: "It is clear from the price-list annexed to the affidavit in opposition that the hospital charges fees for certain accommodation, X-ray examinations, etc., and carry on a regular business in the sale of medicines manufactured by themselves. That being so their activities amount to an industry....." It is curious to note that in the balance-sheet of 31st March 1948 no income whatsoever from the Rashayon-Shala, and not even the stock-in-hand is mentioned. The accountant who prepared the balance-sheet observed, "Proper inventories of the stocks of various goods and medicines are highly essential to avoid arbitrary valuations of these. This year the Rashayon-Shala has not contributed to the hospital". It was argued on behalf of workmen that the earnings from sale of Ayurvedic medicines were deliberately suppressed with a view to pile up the alleged deficit figure. I think the argument is fully justified. The earnings from this head (sale of medicines and stock) are by no means negligible. From the printed Hindi Report of the hospital (from 1st April 1945 to 31st March 1947) I notice that the earnings from this head alone amounted to Rs. 36,280 in the year 1945-46 (at page 20 gha) and Rs. 18,000 in the year 1946-47 (at page da). The mean average income per year would therefore be Rs. 27,000 from this head alone.

On the assets side there is an item "Investments and cost", and under this item Government Securities, Company Debentures, and Preference shares to the extent of Rs. 9·3 lacs are shown in the current balance-sheet. It was argued on behalf of the Management that these are of the nature of fixed deposits carried over from year to year without any replenishment. But the Union argued that these represent how a major bulk of net profits from the institution is invested in guilt-edged securities from year to year. In order to understand which of these two versions is correct, it is necessary to refer to past balance-sheets and see how the amount under this item has undergone changes. From the Management's admitted reports, I give below the respective sums year to year standing under this particular item "Investments":—

Year.	Amount.
	Rs.	a.	p.
1st April 1940 to 31st March 1941 ...	4,30,002	1	9
1st April 1941 to 31st March 1942 ...	6,32,002	1	9
1st April 1943 to 31st March 1944 ...	7,58,523	5	9
1st April 1944 to 31st March 1945 ...	8,52,792	1	9
1st April 1945 to 31st March 1946 ...	9,63,953	3	9
1st April 1946 to 31st March 1947 ...	9,75,691	15	9

The investments have swollen during the war-years and after from Rs. 4·3 lacs roughly to Rs. 9·8 lacs, and in face of these figures, it is idle to say that the hospital has been run at a loss. It is difficult to reconcile one's conscience to these startling revelations—when during the years of untold human misery the hospital has more than doubled its investments running into nearly ten lacs of rupees, its menial servants have been denied even their barest subsistence. There is no indication whatever that the hardship has been shared evenly between the institutions and its workmen. The evidence on the contrary shows that the hardship in its entirety has fallen crushingly on the shoulders of the wretched menials.

The Union demanded basic pay at the rate of Rs. 50 per mensem for a darwan, at Rs. 45 per mensem for electric mistri, machineman, plumber and bhattiman, at Rs. 40 per mensem for methors, sweepers and goalas and at Rs. 35 for the dais together with dearness allowance at the flat rate of Rs. 30 per mensem. Calculated at these rates, the proposed basic wages and dearness allowance per year for 54 workmen would total up to Rs. 45,900. As already stated, the present basic wages per month varies from Rs. 6 to Rs. 20, and the dearness allowance per month varies from Rs. 9 to Rs. 21. The present actual annual expenditure for basic pay and dearness allowance of 54 workmen amounts to Rs. 19,116. Hence the excess expenditure on account of the proposed increase in the basic pay and dearness allowance would amount to Rs. 26,784 per year, a figure which, I think, is rather too high.

In one of the latest awards, dated 23rd November 1948, published under Government Order No. 4505Lab., dated 8th December 1948, the Tribunal (Sri Matish Chandra Bannerjee) held that basic pay and dearness allowance totalling up to to a minimum of Rs. 45-8 "cannot be considered to be a sufficient living-wage for a workman". But this amount was awarded as the minimum in regard to the financial circumstances of the industry. In another recent award published under Government Order No. 3798Lab., dated 23rd November 1948, the Tribunal (Sri A. Das Gupta) allowed pay and dearness allowance for unskilled workmen (peons) at rates ranging from Rs. 38 to Rs. 58 per month. In one of my own awards published under Government Order No. 3444Lab., dated 20th September 1948, the pay and allowances of coolies awarded on the basis of mutual agreement between parties ranged from daily wages of 12 annas to Rs. 1-8 plus dearness allowance at the flat rate of Rs. 15 per mensem which would amount to pay and dearness allowances varying from Rs. 34-8 to Rs. 54 per mensem. The pay and allowances of slightly skilled labourers were Rs. 60 or Rs. 70 per mensem.

Remembering that even Rs. 45-8 cannot be treated as a sufficient living wage and that the hospital has more than doubled its investments from Rs. 4·3 lacs to Rs. 9·8 lacs in the last 6 or 7 years and has concealed other sources of income, I think the following scales of monthly basic pay and dearness allowance to be just fair and equitable:—

(1) Darwan (six in number)—Scale of pay Rs. 45—2—65 per mensem plus dearness allowance at one-third of the basic pay drawn per month.

(2) Electric mistri, machineman, plumber and Bhattiman (four in number)—Scale of pay Rs. 40—1—55 per mensem plus dearness allowance at one-third of the basic pay drawn per month.

(3) Methors and goalas (37 in number)—Scale of pay Rs. 35—1—50 per mensem plus dearness allowance at one-third of the basic pay drawn per month.

(4) Dais (7 in number)—Scale of pay Rs. 30—1—45 per mensem plus dearness allowance at one-third of the basic pay drawn per month.

The minimum wages and allowances will thus come up to Rs. 40 per month which is a substantial improvement upon the minimum wages and allowances totalling up to the sum of Rs. 15 only (earned by workman Deo who has put in ten years of service).

This new scale of pay and dearness allowance will cost the Management Rs. 2,580 per month, or Rs. 30,960 per year in place of Rs. 19,116 per year, the annual increase of costs amounting to Rs. 11,844 or roughly Rs. 13,000 when additional expenses due to Provident Fund contribution are taken into account. The scale of pay and dearness allowance as demanded by the workmen would have meant an increase of costs of Rs. 26,784 per year. I have allowed only less than half this increase and I think that the hospital ought to share this burden in all fairness to its workmen. That the hospital is able to share this additional burden of Rs. 13,000 approximately per year is beyond doubt. I have noticed that the average annual earnings from Ayurvedic medicines and drugs amount to Rs. 27,000. In addition, there are other earnings from house rents, etc. By paying a little more to starving menials, perhaps the hospital will not be able to swell its investments at the same rate as before (from 4·3 lacs to nearly 10 lacs in six years). But that is no consideration.

Issue No. 5(a)(b)(c).—City allowance, essential service allowance and children's education allowance.

The demand for all these allowances is disallowed because the increased pay and dearness allowances awarded will mean an additional burden to the extent of Rs. 13,000 approximately in the year. No further augmentation of the financial burden will be justified at present.

Issue No. 6.—Provision of quarters or house rent allowance in lieu thereof.

The Management in its written statement at page 7 observes, "Free quarters are given to the menial staff and the question does not arise". It was argued on behalf of the workmen that only a few rooms are set apart for darwans and others and that the majority of workmen have to live in rented rooms. A number of rent receipts was produced before me by workmen in support of their statements that they had to live in rented rooms. In the course of argument, the Management agreed to set apart ten separate rooms for the workmen in the hospital premises and the workmen accepted this offer. Ten separate rooms in the factory premises must be set apart exclusively for the use of the workmen. The demand for house rent allowance is accordingly disallowed.

Issue No. 7.—Uniforms and dress.

After mutual discussion it was agreed that the uniforms and dress as detailed below will be allowed every year at the Management's cost to the different categories of workmen:—

(1) Darwans—2 coats, 2 half-shirts and 2 dhotis per workman per year.

(2) Dais—2 saris and 2 jackets each per year.

(3) Other workmen—2 half-shirts and 2 half-pants per workman per year.

Issue No. 8.—Independence bonus and Pujah bonus.

Pujah bonus.—The Management admits in its written statement, page 7, that Pujah bonus is given during Puja every year at the rate of Rs. 10 to each male and Rs. 8 to each female. I consider the amount of bonus to be extremely inadequate. I award one month's basic pay (exclusive of dearness allowance) as Puja bonus for each workman.

Independence bonus.—This demand is fantastic and is rejected.

Issue No. 9.—Retiring benefits, Provident Fund, gratuity and pension.

Provident Fund.—The claim for Provident Fund is reasonable and just. I therefore direct that each workman without distinction should contribute 6¼ per cent. of his basic monthly pay (exclusive of dearness allowance) every month towards his Provident Fund and the hospital shall pay an equal amount towards the workmen's provident fund. The fund should be maintained in accordance with the Provident Fund Rules. I make the award accordingly.

Gratuity.—I direct that every workman at the time of retirement or retrenchment shall be paid a gratuity at the rate of one month's basic pay for each year of service. No gratuity will be paid to a workman who after due proceedings is dismissed from service.

Pension.—In view of the fact that I have allowed gratuity, I consider the claim for pension unreasonable. This claim is disallowed.

Issue No. 10.—Working hours.

The Management states at page 7 of its written statement that the working hours are well-defined and quite simple, and that there are eight hours of duty for all, after which they can take rest.

This position is accepted by workmen. The working hours shall be eight hours at a stretch for each and every workman whose hours of attendance must be prescribed by the Management in due regards to the needs of the patients. Attendance must be in batches and by shifts, so that when one batch of workmen retires for rest, another batch reports for duty at the next shift. No workman should absent himself from duty without leave and if he does this persistently, he may be dismissed. I make my award accordingly.

Issue No. 11.—Privilege leave, sick leave, casual leave and festival holidays.

Both parties agreed to abide by the rules observed by the Medical College Hospitals, Calcutta, so far as menials are concerned. On request the Secretary, Medical College Hospitals, Calcutta, in his letter No. 26/4/526, dated 17th January 1949, gives details of the leave allowed to menials. My award on this issue is based on this letter.

(1) The earned leave admissible to menials already in service is 1/11th of the period spent on duty, provided that when the earned leave due amounts to ninety days, the menial concerned shall cease to earn such leave. The earned leave admissible for new entrants, i.e., who are appointed after the date of publication of this award in the Calcutta Gazette, shall be 1/22nd. of the period spent in duty, provided that when earned leave due amounts to thirty days, they shall cease to earn such leave.

(2) No such leave is admissible to a menial of the hospital unless he has been confirmed in his service.

(3) Casual leave shall not exceed ten days in the year.

(4) Leave on medical certificate may be allowed for twelve months during the service period of a permanent (i.e., confirmed) servant against a medical certificate and another six months on the special recommendation of a Medical Board of the Marwari Hospital.

(5) All the leaves mentioned in (1), (2), (3) and (4) above shall be with full pay. No other leave shall be allowed.

Issue No. 12.—Medical aid to employees and their families.

The Management states at page 8 of its written statement that free medical aid is given to all workmen and that five seats are reserved for them in the indoor department of the hospital. I think this to be quite adequate. I make my award accordingly.

Conclusion.
Retrospective effect of award.

In conclusion the workmen submitted that the award should have retrospective effect. The reason advocated is that the hearing has taken place after the expiry of nearly eighteen months from the date of reference, this delay being caused by the Management who went up to the Hon'ble High Court and who took time again and again on various grounds. There cannot be any doubt that these poor menials have suffered a good deal of financial loss and other inconvenience because of this delay. It is for the Government to decide the date from which the award ought to take effect. Regard being had to the circumstances stated above, I strongly recommend that the award should take effect retrospectively six months backwards, i.e., from 1st June 1948.

Office of the Accountant-General, West Bengal

Calcutta, the 22nd January 1949.

No. Fund-I/1959.

NOTIFICATION.

Attention of all heads of offices is invited to this office circulars Nos. Fund-I/2025, dated 1st November 1945, and No. Fund-I/2052, dated March 1948, containing instructions to be followed for the correct preparation of schedules pertaining to the various provident funds in order to ensure correct classification of credits in the ledger accounts of the subscribers maintained in this office. It is, however, observed that some of the defects still persist. This results in various, and sometimes bitter complaints, from the subscribers regarding the inaccuracy of their fund account and delay in their completion. With a view to ensure correct classification and accounting of the credits it is essential that the following instructions should be carefully followed by all Drawing Officers in the preparation of schedules:—

(1) The schedule should be in the prescribed form, printed or cyclostyled, and all columns should be completely filled in. The account Nos. in the schedule should be arranged in numerical serial order, with sufficient space between the lines.

(2) In the heading of the form the month in which the deduction is actually made, should be noted in the space "name of the month", e.g., deductions made from the pay bill for March payable in April, should be shown as for April.

(3) Separate schedules should invariably be prepared for different funds, viz., G.P., C.P., etc.

(4) Correct Provident Fund account Nos. with index letters such as, G.A., C.P.B., Bur, Medl., etc., should be quoted in all cases in the schedule.

(5) The name of the subscriber should be correctly shown in the schedule.

(6) Emoluments of subscribers should be correctly noted in the schedules of Contributory Provident Funds.

(7) Fund deductions should be shown in the proper column of the schedules and in case of refunds the number of the refund instalment should be specified in the remarks column.

(8) Mistakes in the total of the fund schedule should be avoided. The total of each fund schedule should agree with the total deduction shown in the body of the relevant bill.

(9) No subscription to the fund should be recovered from a Government servant until his application for admission to fund has been accepted by the Accounts Officer and an Account No. allotted and intimated to the Drawing Officer.

(10) A separate schedule should be prepared in respect of all subscribers whose fund accounts are maintained by different Account Officers and the name of the Accounts Officer when the fund account is not maintained in this office should invariably be noted in red ink on the top of the relevant schedule.

(11) When a subscriber is transferred to another audit circle or to another department or organisation within the same audit circle, the fact should be noted in the schedule together with the name of the department or office to which he has been transferred.

(12) Reasons for variation in the amount of recovery and also for suspension of subscription and of refund of advance (not permissible otherwise than in case of leave or under orders of Government) should be briefly stated in the remarks column of the schedules.

Deputy Accountant-General, West Bengal.
